

Webfoots Draw Rest After Trouncing Idaho, 52-28

Duck Tracks

By KEN CHRISTIANSON, Co-Editor of Sports

Not since a mild, March day in 1939 have Duck fans had so much to quack about as they did last Friday. Jack Dallas smashed the national intercollegiate 300-yard individual medley mark, Les Steers unofficially set a new indoor high jump record, Bob Irvin unofficially tied the Pacific coast 40-yard freestyle mark, Vic Townsend slipped in 21 points, and Oregon wacked Idaho, 45 to 33, Friday.

Those athletic accomplishments coupled with the ways and means committee's action on an appropriation for a student union building set Webfoots a-twitter. Fans were connoisseurs for such happenings, but none expected the Oregon campus to be turned into a five-ring circus. Hank Anderson ricked his "unguardable" shot at the basket against Oregon State and Washington, giving the Ducks a pair of unexpected wins which conditioned the fans.

A medium sized hurricane could have whipped through Eugene that March day in 1939, though, and it would have caused no more damage than the rampaging Ducks. For Oregon steam-rolled Ohio State, 46 to 33, for the national intercollegiate championship. Aroused Webfoots swept through Eugene streets and theaters, creating pandemonium everywhere they went.

Banner Day Friday

No one expected such a combination of sporting events; no one expected such a banner day Friday. It was unthinkable that Dallas should slice 5.2 seconds from the five-year national record. Irvin has been classed as "a great potential sprinter," but for him to tie the coast record at :19.1 was hardly expected by anyone save his coach, Mike Hoyman.

Steers even surprised Colonel Bill Hayward when he floated over the bar to his mark. Hayward had said that Steers would "probably go about 6 feet 5." Steers was wearing tennis shoes and getting his takeoff from the maple floor of McArthur. He was landing on a pile of mats rather than a sawdust pit.

Conditions were unfavorable for breaking any records. The wooden floor gives the jumper less spring than a good dirt takeoff. The artificial lighting made the position of the bar hard to determine. It was easy to misjudge distances and to take off farther from the bar. Bill Beifuss did this and was really jumping 6 feet 3 or 4 when he cleared 6 feet 2. In spite of these "bad conditions," Steers moved lightly along the Iglou floor, planted his takeoff foot, and used his powerful kick to hoist his body over the bar.

After Beifuss dropped by the wayside at 6 foot 2, Steers moved the bar on up the standards. Each time it was raised, Steers would poise, lunge toward the bar, kick himself over, and land on his two feet or on his feet and a hand. Twice, Steers knocked the bar off at 6 feet 9. The third time was the charm. Again the bar went up. At 6 feet 10, Steers skimmed the bar, nearly tipping it off. Hayward said afterward that Steers could have cleared 6 feet 11, but the standards could not be fixed at that height. Seven feet was too much.

Townsend Needs 52 Points

Townsend's 21 points jacked his total up to 126 for 11 games. Ten points Saturday night helped even more, but it dropped his average just a fraction. He has 136 points for 12 games which is an average of 11.3 per game. Townsend needs 52 points in four games, an average of 13 per game, to crack Wally Palmberg's record of 187 for 16 games. It'll be a tough row to hoe from now on. Oregon State's style of play slows every team down to a dog trot, so Townsend's total in those two games will probably be low.

Townsend went wild against Washington one evening, but the Voelker boys held him down to seven the next night. So, the two Washington games will be no breeze. Don't be surprised if Townsend doesn't crack the record. A flock of good men haven't been able to post a better one. Laddie Gale missed in his senior year, and so did John Dick. Gale really broke it in 1938. A 20-game schedule was in use that year with Montana included in the league.

Increased interest in these several sports will result from the happenings. If Steers goes on to set new records this spring, as seems likely, Oregon's enrollment will take a leap, and athletics will keep up the enrollment. This same thing happened when Oregon cracked down on Ohio State. It seems logical that more and better athletes will migrate to Oregon to compete in swimming, track, and basketball. For where there is a shining light, fireflies come to flutter around it.

Kirsch and Marshik Improve

Two basketball players showed more to the fans during the Idaho series than they have shown the rest of the season. Don Kirsch, sophomore guard, has been breaking into the lineup spasmodically, but Friday and Saturday, he was listed as a starter. He has very fast wrists and is a fair shot. Kirsch shines as a dribbler and floor man.

Archie Marshik showed his power under the backboard. He played much of both Vandal games. Thirteen rebounds were credited to him. It was surprising that Marshik hasn't played more than he has. Last year he was a starter much of the season. Against Idaho, he proved that it was no mistake to use him. He scored seven points Friday and two Saturday.

Scenes like this may be enacted at Oregon, should a proposed adding ice hockey as a major ice coliseum be built in Eugene, sport.

Ducks Take Third Spot With Victory

Borcher, I. Hopkins Lead Scoring in Rough Struggle

By JOHNNY KAHANANUI
Too bad some resourceful fellow didn't rope off the Iglou playing floor last Saturday evening, spread a few mats around, and sprinkle rosin thereon. He could have founded a new sport, called it brawl-ball, and years from now they'd forge a cup with his name inscribed to hail his creative genius.

But then Oregon couldn't have beaten Idaho, 52 to 28, for its fifth straight basketball triumph, squared things with the Vandals, and hurdled into a second-spot tie with Oregon State after toiling in the cellar for quite a spell this season.

Record Still Possible
Then, too, Vic Townsend wouldn't have an 11.3 points-per-game average to remain within smelling distance of Wally Palmberg's recognized (especially by Oregon State) northern division mark of 11.7 per.

Otis Hilton, big noise on the Vandal team, allegedly crawled out of a sick bed to do battle with the Webfoots. Were he in the pink, he probably could have lifted Idaho's foul count. Oregon was reprimanded 12 times and Idaho 25, bloating the foul total to 37, an average of about one per minute.

Not once after Webfoot Porky Andrews dumped the first field goal before a minute of play had rushed by did Idaho pull even with Oregon. Trailing 30 to 8 at the half, the Vandals apparently shoved in "shock troops" to mail the Ducks and soften them for a scoring spurge by the main body. But whistles of officials Frank Heniges and Archie Buckley blew all the soup out of that maneuver not to mention that the Webfoots could have traded blow for blow on into the night if worse came to worse.

Townsend Injured
Townsend scrambled out of the melee with a clawed eye. This and a gash received in a collision with teammate Don Kirsch kept the Oregon forward on the bench all but three minutes of the second half.

Bill "The Goon" Borcher of the Ducks and Vandal I. Hopkins wooed high scoring honors away from Townsend, who had grabbed it the night before with 21. Their 11 each total was one more than Slick Vic's 10.

Every man on the Duck team, except Hank Anderson, got into the fray.

Coach Hobby Hobson called a rest period yesterday, and some of his players kept from going stale by sweeping the Iglou floor.

I-M Play in Final Stages

With the end of winter term near, the intramural and all-campus sports programs are in their final stages.

Intramural handball winners in the second and third rounds to date are:

- Phi Gamma Delta over Pi Kappa Alpha 2-1.
- Alpha Tau Omega over Alpha Hall, 3-0.
- Sigma Chi over Kirkwood co-op, 3-0.
- Sigma Alpha Epsilon over Campbell co-op, 2-1.
- Sherry Ross Hall over Phi Sigma Kappa, 3-0.
- Sigma Nu over Phi Kappa Psi, 2-1.
- Delta Upsilon over Sigma Alpha Mu, 2-1.
- Kappa Sigma over Gamma Hall, 3-0.
- Alpha Tau Omega over Phi Gamma Delta, 2-1.
- Sigma Alpha Epsilon over Sigma Chi, 2-1.

Intramural basketball finals will start after the close of the regular season about February 25. Ties will be played off at this time and the championships will be decided as soon afterward as possible.

Sally Rand recently lectured a student group at the University group at the University of Minnesota on "The Value of White Space in Advertising."

Makehitt Frosh Team Tips Coquille, 49-25

Sam Dement, limber-legged and aggressive member of Oregon State's Beaver quintet, which last night knocked Idaho deep into the cellar with a 43-19 victory.

Oregana Photos
Oregana pictures will be taken today at 4:30 in the wrestling room of the PE building of all wrestlers. Frosh swimming pictures will be taken at 4:50.

Susies Win Coed Swim

Tryouts for College Meet Start Today; 15 Will Be Chosen

By NANCY LEWIS
Tryouts for western region of the intercollegiate telegraphic swimming meet will be held today at 4 p.m. in Gerlinger. A 15-women team will be chosen to represent Oregon in the meet.

Mary Jane Ford, Margaret Leshner, Pay Lynch, Janet Farnham, Florence Cooley, Barbara Mathias, Margaret DeCon, Nancy Lewis, Pat Carson, Mary Ellen Smith, Adele Canada, Jeanette Torney, and Bernice Schaffer will try out for positions on the squad.

Susan Campbell swam off with the intramural championship Thursday evening, and Margaret Leshner and Mary Jane Ford won high point honors.

40-yard freestyle: won by Nancy Lewis, Chi Omega; Pat Lynch, Gamma Phi, second; Jeanette Torney, Alpha Phi, third; Barbara Mathias, Alpha Xi Delta, fourth; eBtty Rowe, Hendricks, fifth. Time, 24.

40-yard backstroke: won by Margaret Leshner, Susy; Adele Canada, Alpha Phi, second. Time, 27.

40-yard breaststroke: won by Mary Jane Ford, Susy; Janet Farnham, Alpha Phi, second. Time, 32. (Please turn to page four)

Superchargers Powerhouse Phi Psis, Sherry Ross Hall Drops Sigma in 'A' Play

By FRED TREADGOLD
With just a week remaining in the regular intramural hoop season, runner-up teams were making it plenty hot for the pace-setters, being in such positions that if the leader slips, the races will throw into a deadlock. Unbeaten teams still reign supreme in number one positions in all ten leagues though.

Sigma Nu pressed in closely on Alpha Tau Omega in "A" competition when the Nus claimed a forfeiture win over Sorsas Monday. The ATOs boast a "four wins, no losses" record, while the Sigma Nus can point to a like number of victories with just one black mark in the defeat column.

Superchargers Win
Flashing to a 23 to 17 decision over Phi Kappa Psi, the superchargers propelled themselves into a two-way tie with Theta Chi for second place in their loop. These two outfits are now just one game behind the Kappa Sig's "Beef Trust." Harold Fox and Verlin Wolf flipped through 8 points each to show the way for the winners. With Jack Bessee in the driver's seat, Sherry Ross rolled over Sigma hall 33 to 17 yesterday to put the former club in third place with Phi Gamma Delta. The rangy Sherry Ross center hoisted through 14 points.

Phi Psi (17) (23) Superchargers Olsen, 4.....F.....8, Wolf Stendel, 2.....F.....8, Fox Hichens, 7.....C.....1, Dickson Collier, 4.....G.....2, Olmstead Young, 4.....G.....4, Flavelle Substitutes—Phi Psi; Wilcox; Superchargers: Flatberg, Wright, Sigma (17) (33) Sherry Ross Libke, 2.....F.....8, Church Bloom, 5.....F.....3, Miller Martin, 4.....C.....14, Bessee Corsey,.....G.....8, Dryden Rush, 6.....G.....8, Chambers Substitutes—Sherry Ross; Litchman.

OSC Slaps Idaho, 43-19

Oregon State college hoopmen randed the floundering Idaho quintet a 43 to 19 shellacking last night at the Corvallis gymnasium.

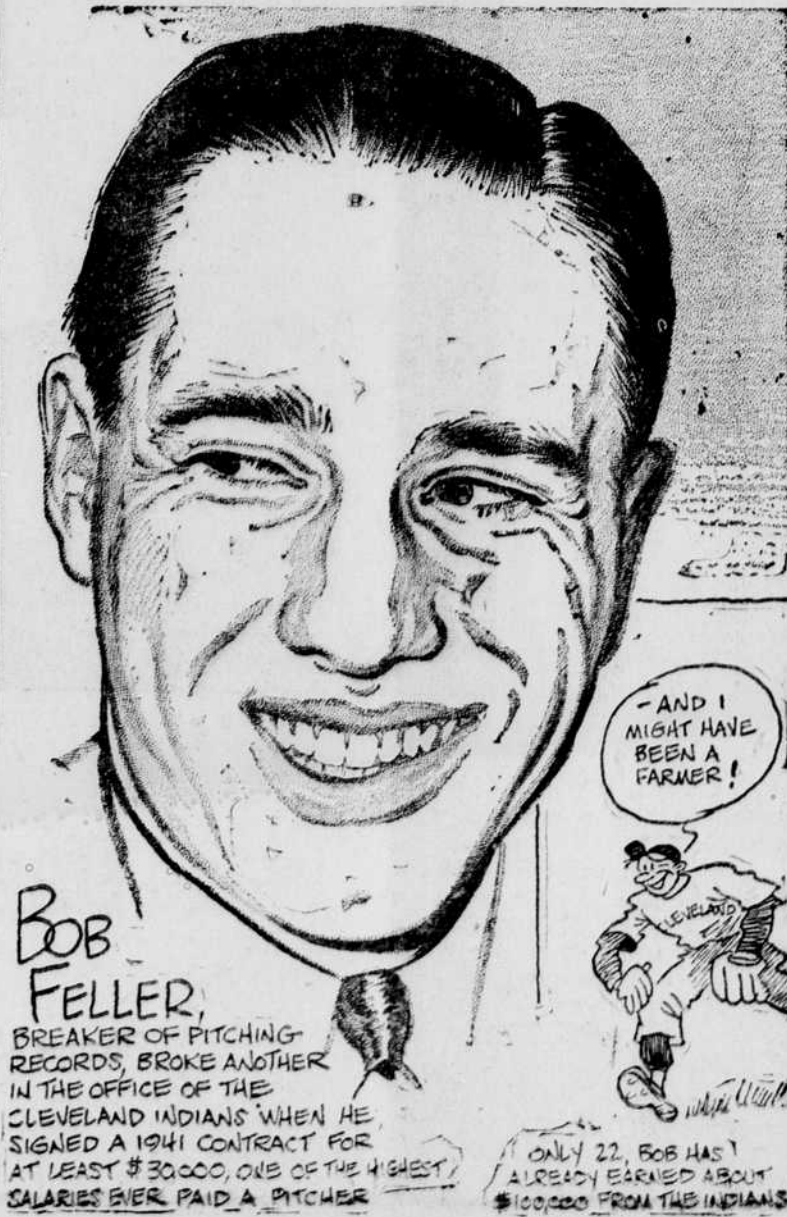

Sparked by flashy Paul Valenti, who tallied 10 points, the Orangemen took a 19 to 10 lead at half-time. In the second period the Beavers ran the score up to 31 to 13 before the Vandals could get back into the game.

The defeat last night marked the third straight contest that Coach Forrest Twoogood's men have lost since they started their road trip. Oregon knocked them deep into the cellar position last week at Eugene by winning two games by overwhelming scores.

Oregon State and Idaho meet again tonight in the final game of the series.

Destined for OSC
Until September of last year, Bob was all set to get his higher education up the valley at Oregon State. He stopped over in Eugene on his way to Corvallis one weekend; he liked it at Oregon and decided to stick through rush week. The Webfoots got a mighty promising athlete on a split second decision.

Bob is the big scorer in one of John Warren's most potent yearling squads, dropping through 129

BOB FELLER, BREAKER OF PITCHING RECORDS, BROKE ANOTHER IN THE OFFICE OF THE CLEVELAND INDIANS WHEN HE SIGNED A 1941 CONTRACT FOR AT LEAST $30,000, ONE OF THE HIGHEST SALARIES EVER PAID A PITCHER. ONLY 22. BOB HAS ALREADY EARNED ABOUT $100,000 FROM THE INDIANS.

SNOW SHOE

Otis "Rook" Hilton, tallest member of Idaho's last place Vandals, saw little action last night as the Oregon State Beavers whacked the Vandals, 43-19.

Injuries Still Hex Oregons

Phil Jackson Stars As Preppers Drop Under Wild Scoring

By LEE FLATBERG
Coach John Warren gave his frosh basketball charges little rest after their Saturday 49 to 25 win over Coquille as he sent the team through an intersquad scrimmage for an hour Monday afternoon. Bob Newland and Bill Gissberg are still sticking pretty close to the sidelines, nursing their ills.

Saturday's game with Coquille gave the Ducklings little trouble. With a makeshift starting team of first and second stringers, the yearlings were able to run up a 19 to 5 lead by the end of the first quarter. Midway in the second quarter Warren started substituting freely but the frosh still held a 31 to 8 advantage at the half time.

Last Half Drive
The Coquille boys started hitting in the third quarter and held even with the Ducklings, and in the fourth quarter outscored the freshmen.

Phil Jackson, using a "Hank the Needle" shot varied slightly, with an innovation of his own, dumped in five baskets from the floor coupled with one foul shot for a sum of 11 points and high-scoring honors.

The frosh hit a total of 22 shots from the floor to nine for the visitors. The Coquille lads outscored the frosh from the foul mark, hitting with six to the yearlings' five.

Summary:

Frosh, 49	25, Coquille
Dicks, 10	F.....4, Kollar
Sheridan	F.....3, McCIntee
When, 6	C.....Duncanson
Simonsen, 4	G.....8, Crouch
Schieve, 3	G.....4, Terry
Kelly, 2	S.....2, Gilbert
P. Jackson, 11	S.....3, Stevens
Serlie, 5	S.....Trendol
Christensen, 4	S.....
Grey, 2	S.....
Brown, 2	S.....

OREGON EMERALD

SPORTS STAFF

Johnny Kahananui	Tom Huelmer
Tommy Wright	Ted Goodwin
Lee Flatberg	Phil Bacco
Chuck Boice	Jean Spearow
Doe Henry	Nancy Lewis
Tommy Maves	Jean Fridger
Wally Hunter	Jo Ann Supple
Steve Worth	Janet Ross
Fred Treadgold

Yearlings' Newland Is Versatile Athlete

By TOMMY WRIGHT
"The fastest shot in many a year" gives the gist of the comments floating around, when Oregon basketball fans start talking about blond Bob Newland, pride of John Warren's tough-to-beat frosh aggregation.

"As a coach," said Newland of John Warren, "he's tops." We caught Bob just as he was leaving practice last night and the tall, lithe hoopster obligingly answered a number of questions fired his way.

Started Young
Born in Medford some eighteen years ago, Bob started playing around with a basketball at an early age, and still had a lot of his good baby teeth when he cracked into his first starting lineup. That was at Lincoln grade school in the pearpickers' paradise.

Matriculating at junior high school at the age of 12, he intermingled geography with a first string berth on the varsity. Just three years later, he broke into the Medford high Black Tornado lineup and played a major part in putting his team into the state tournament. Medford didn't do so well among the state's best that year, but Bob gained honorable mention on the all-state team.

Basketball isn't the only thing that Bob is interested in though. As a football player, he outkicked every high school player in the state in 1939. He also picked up three letters in high school for track, winning the high jump event in the state meet last year. Along with a little baseball, where he is no slouch as a catcher and hitter, he doesn't allow his social life to drop.

Bob is the big scorer in one of John Warren's most potent yearling squads, dropping through 129

THE POETRY OF JEWELRY

Coral twigs set in pure gold.

Exquisitely-wrought earrings.

Antique styles in ruby and amethyst.

A new and complete selection of earrings in these and many other patterns. We look forward to your visiting us.

BRISTOW'S JEWELRY
620 Willamette

Golfers Notice

All golfers will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the College Side, according to Bob Engelke, player-coach. Both freshmen and varsity golfers are asked to attend.

points this season. He says he's glad he didn't go to OSC now, after seeing the type of ball they play, he will just stick with Oregon and run and run.

When basketball is over, you'll see Bob out on the track under the tutelage of Bill Hayward, touching up on his high jumping and broad jumping form. For he is destined to be one of the stars on this year's Duckling squad.

All-Campus Finals Listed

Chet Haliski and Len Isberg are this term's champions in the all-campus handball doubles with Ray Klapper and Chuck Cutler, last term's champs, as runners-up.

Bob Rudolph and Al Shaw topped the ping pong doubles ladder with Frank Baker and Dick Hanen on the next rung.

Jim Leonard bowled his way to the championship in all-campus bowling. There are only two remaining matches to be played, the handball singles and the ping pong singles championships.

UNIVERSITY BUSINESS COLLEGE SHORTHAND - TYPEWRITING COMPLETE BUSINESS COURSES

Edward L. Ryan, B.S., LL.B., Mgr. 860 Willamette, Eugene Phone 2761-M

LOOK SMART with Clean Clothes

Men who want to look smart will keep their clothes clean the New Service way. Clean clothes keep smart looking longer. Try it today. It's a sure way to popularity.

Phone 825
NEW SERVICE LAUNDRY
839 High St.

MR. and MRS. NEWT SIDE PATTY

By Pat Taylor
"Wouldn't seem that Spring was springing, 'py golly, what with everyone breaking into prints . . . the best we can do is break out in a rash with envy . . ."

Marguerite Petit, KKG, sends Beta Don Turner a valentine over 25 feet long, with the message all cut out of print and pasted on same . . . musta been quite a taskie . . . Alpha O Bernice Schum is, how you say, one puleenty smooth cookie? . . . DG Margaret Dodge gets two luscious gugeous orchids from Sigma Nu Bud Nestor at Randolph field . . . Cutest expression of the week, or something or other: Tommy Wright's reference to himself as a "tripe-writer" . . . not that we agree—who are we to talk—only meant that it was cleva coining, see? . . . we got a kick out of the law school; they're going to stop crime! then they go about setting the morbie board up in business . . . why, they've even got an A and a B team . . . If you think you see us in the Side too often, it's 'cause the room-mate, Sally Mitchell, is so wrapped up in her thesis, which is on insanity, that's she's beginning to do illustrations, and we're plumb skeered to go home . . . wouldna be surprised to drop in our own private pool hall one eve and find friend Mitchell cutting out little dolls . . . besides, you can't be in the Side too much, anyhow . . . not according to Mitter and Missus Knute, I betcha . . .

See you on the late shift . . .