Movie Program
For New Term
Offers Six Films

Series to Open
April 1; Students
Admitted Free

Some of the greatest motion pictures to be produced during the brief history of the movies will be featured as a part of the Educational Activities Board's spring term motion picture program.

Free of charge, upon presentation of activities cards, the forthcoming films illustrate the many phases through which the motion picture art has developed in the years since the first movie was projected on a screen for public entertainment in 1895.

Next Tuesday's program, titled "The Development of Narrative," will include six of the first movies. Being shown are: "The Execution of Mary Queen of Scots" (1895), "Wash Day Troubles" (1896), "A Trip to the Moon" (1902), "The Great Train Robbery" (1903), "Faust" (1910), and "Queen Elizabeth" (1912).

Collected by Museum
Educational only from the standpoint of tested entertainment the films are part of a library collected by the Museum of Modern Art in New York, a benevolent institution which has as its purpose the preservation of American art forms. The Museum's collection, with the cooperation of the motion

Art School Receives
$5000 For Supplies

An outright grant of $5,000 was made to the University school of architecture and allied arts recently by the Carnegie corporation of New York.

School officials revealed that the funds will probably be used to purchase new equipment and supplies, depleted during the depression. No restrictions have been placed on use of gift funds.

The new wing of the architecture building, built to take care of an increase in the number of the students in the school, will be aided by the gift, it was understood.

The school has increased 38 per cent, from 256 to 362, in the past ten years.

picture industry, has built up a collection of hundreds of significant or historically important films.

An announcement of importance to non-student body members interested in this program is that no single admissions will be sold at any performance. However, membership in the "U of O Film Society," which will be granted the first 100 persons applying to the activities office, will permit entrance to the shows.

Membership cards to all the showings in the first "Survey" series are priced at $1.25.

Miss Elgin Called
To Washington, D. C.

Miss Rowena M. Elgin, secretary of the student loan committee, left Wednesday for Washington, D. C., where she was called by the illness of her aunt.

The length of her stay is indefinite, Miss Elgin said, but she expects to be gone two or three weeks from her office in Johnson hall.

YWCA Cabinet Meets

A joint meeting of the retiring YWCA cabinet and the newly elected cabinet officers was held Tuesday evening to formulate a plan of work for the coming term.

The meeting was opened by Past-President Jean Crites and later turned over to Lois Nordling, new presiding officer of the YWCA. After the meeting the former officers were entertained at a buffet supper at the home of Miss Crites.

Campus Calendar

Orides cabinet members please be present at a meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in Gerlinger.

Skull and Dagger will meet Thursday evening at 10 above the College Side.

Housemothers, past presidents, and presidents of women's campus living organizations will meet today at 4 o'clock in alumni room of Gerlinger.

Riflemen Hold Lead
In Postal Shooting

The fresh men's rifle team is one game up on opponents challenged and matched via the mail, according to Capt. Harvey Blythe Tuesday.

With 4000 as the perfect score, Oregon defeated South Dakota State college, 3617-3586; Michigan 3645-3629; Kansas University, 3645-3638; and Louisiana State, 3617-3580. Out of a possible 2000 top score, the Ducks topped Texas A. & M. 1846-1841.

The Webfoots were bested by University of California, 3690-3665; Tennessee, 3742-3664, 3733-3645 using 4000 as highest possible score. Using 2000, the Oregon team was outshot by Johns Hopkins, 1865-1845; Yale, 1368-1367; and UCLA, 1899-1868.

Rifle Team Defeats
Hill Squad in Meet

University freshman sharpshooters trained their sights just right recently and defeated the 10-man Portland Rifle club 2511 to 2441, firing in three positions—sitting, kneeling, and standing.

The Portland squad won the title of national champions of all civic gun clubs in 1938 and 1939.

High individual scoring honors went to Parker Hemingway Jr., first-year man, who accumulated 271 points out of a possible 300, and beat his father, Parker Hemingway Sr., who turned in a tally of 228.

Portland Counselor
Positions Now Open

Mrs. Helen Leonard, camp director, and Mrs. Clinton Eastman, camp chairman of Portland's Girl Scout camp Wildwood will be at the University on Friday, April 4, to interview girls interested in camp counseling for the coming season.

Salaries are paid to all members of the Portland camp staff who are twenty years of age or older. Compensation is scaled down according to former experience and abilities. Interviewing hours will be from 10 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. in the dean of women's office.

Both the dance and the concert will be informal, it was announced by Nelson, in keeping with Kyser's expressed desire for the performances. Sport clothes and short silks are in order, with formal attire taboo.

The largest crowd on Kyser's present tour and one of the biggest he has ever played before is expected to jam McArthur court, with facilities being prepared for 6200 spectators at the concert and 3,000 dancers afterward.

Dance tickets for students are $1.75 a couple, with 500 of them made available at the start of the week. As soon as the 500 are sold, the cost will jump to $2 to equal the admittance charge for outsiders.

The concert-stage show admission price is 50 cents, lowest ever charged for a complete Kay Kyser appearance. Student body tickets must be shown at the door, as cost for outsiders is 75 cents. Student body cards must also be presented at the dance.

Tickets are on sale at McArthur court and at Miller's downtown, with students in various living organizations also selling them.

JUMPING JALOPIES...
'Tin Cans,' Club Cars,
All Come to Oregon

By ADELE SAV
The old jalopy age when the kids came to Oregon to lark around in model T's and A's with big red "O. You Kid" and "Capacity Ten Gals," painted on them is swiftly giving way to the age of club cars and smooth convertibles that have everything on the dashboard but a hamburger grill.

Around about 1931, the Board of Higher Education began to discourage students from bringing their cars to school, but this didn't click with the students—or the parents. If Nancy had a pink Oldsmobile, m'gosh, she had one, and she wanted to use it at school; not wait until summer to take it to the swimmin' hole.

Control
The board compromised and said that students could bring cars but they would have to be controlled by the University. So every winter and fall term since 1932 students have been required to register their cars. Spring term, only cars which have been brought to the campus since fall and winter term need to be registered.

In 1932, genial, red-haired O. L. Rhinesmith took over his job as campus policeman and every one knows where his cozy little office is beneath the blossoming trees behind Friendly. In the linoleum-floored room which used to be the fruit-canning and jam-preserving niche of the old men's dorm, can be found no jam except that concerning traffic. All the students who have brought cars since the office began its work are listed there.

Men Lead
According to Mrs. Rhinesmith, who works as secretary in her husband's office, there have been, since the records began, more boys listed as car-operators than girls. The number of cars has increased greatly since 1932 when it was back somewhere around the four-hundred mark, and there are now 639 cars listed as registering this fall term.

Seventy-nine of this year's cars are from California, 12 are from Washington, and then there are cars from Idaho, Nebraska, Texas, Missouri, South Dakota, Illinois, Colorado, Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Utah, Nevada, Montana, and the Hawaiian Islands. Of course the majority of the cars are from Oregon.

Science Conference
Offers Student Prize

Applications may be obtained from Dr. L. F. Beck, associate professor of psychology, or Wilbur E. Greenup, graduate in geography, for presentation of a paper at the 1941 session of Oregon student science conference to take place at Linfield college Saturday, April 26.

Since the committee in charge needs information to prepare the program and to arrange equipment necessary for the presentation of papers, the applications should be filled and returned to Linfield college as quickly as possible.

Papers on something of a scientific nature, physical or natural sciences, may be given by both graduate and undergraduate students.

Prizes will be given for the best undergraduate papers in each section.

Law Dean to Speak

Wayne L. Morse, dean of the law school, is speaking on labor matters this week at meetings of the fourth annual Industrial Relations conference of the division of industrial relations. The conference will be at the Stanford graduate school of business.

Dean Morse is deciding a maritime labor dispute in his capacity of Pacific coast maritime labor arbitrator.

Emerald Business
Staff Members
To Be Announced

Spring term organization of the Oregon Daily Emerald business staff will be announced at an all-staff meeting Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock in 105, Journalism, according to Jim Frost, business manager.

All former members of local, classified, and national advertising staffs as well as circulation, promotion and office workers are expected to attend as several appointments on the upper business staff will be announced.

Hulten Talks to Staff

Assistant Professor Charles M. Hulten of the journalism department discussed the law of libel, the law of privacy and recent Oregon libel actions at two evening sessions during the spring vacation with members of the Oregon Journal staff in Portland.

Sing Wind-up Slated
At 'Lemon Squeeze'

Final arrangements have been made for the presentation of the last round of the all-campus sing at the "Lemon Squeeze," Order of the "O," spring informal, at McArthur court April 12.

"O" president Jim Rathbun announced today that ticket prices had been set at fifty cents a person, tickets permitting holders to attend both the dance and the sing finals.

Houses in the sing will be competing for two trophies, one for the winner in the men's and women's divisions.

Pi Beta Phi, Gamma Phi Beta, and Delta Gamma will represent women's living organizations, and Sigma Nu, Delta Tau Delta, and Phi Gamma Delta choruses will compete in the men's division.

Jim Harris is in charge of arrangements for the dance, and Les Ready is chairman of the all-campus sing.
