

Music School Plans Monday Benefit Concert

British Numbers To Be Included In 'Aid' Program

In keeping with the spirit of Americans, proud of their British stock, who wish to bring help to Britain, the benefit concert Monday night at 8:15 in the University music auditorium will include a number of British songs.

Entire proceeds from the sale of tickets for the concert—which will co-feature Jane Thacher, well-known pianist, and Melvin H. Geist, tenor from Salem—will be sent to London for war relief by the Eugene branch of Bundles for Britain.

Sponsoring the concert, making arrangements and handling ticket sales, are active and patroness groups of Mu Phi Epsilon, honor society for upperclass women in music, and Phi Beta, women's music and drama honorary, the University of Oregon music school, and Bundles for Britain.

After the concert a reception will be given in the music school lounge to honor Mrs. Thacher, Mr. Geist, James McDonald, British consul at Portland, and Mrs. McDonald.

Program for the concert follows:

I. Mozart, "Romance" from "Serenade for Strings," arranged for piano by Ignatz Friedman; Mozart, Ten Variations on "As the Simple People Think" from Gluck's opera, "Pilgrim from Mecca"; Chopin, "Nocturne in G Major" and "Etude in C Major"—Mrs. Thacher.

II. Vaughn Williams, "Silent Noon"; Warlock, "Yarmouth Fair"; Handel, "Ah Spietato"; Charles Griffes, "The Lament of Ian the Proud"—Mr. Geist.

III. Debussy, "Pagodes"; Granados, "El Fandango de Candi"; Scriabine, "Sonata in F Sharp"; Chopin, "Grande Polonaise Brillante"—Mrs. Thacher. The polonaise will feature Ralph De Coursey playing the orchestral themes at a second piano.

Tickets for the concert are available from sponsor members, at the University Co-op store, or at Russell's.

Busy Girl, This

Miss Fiksdal's part in "Tovarich" is that of the mother of two modern children and the wife of a philandering husband. ("He flirts with the maid," she pouted.) In "Berkeley Square" she mothered three children. She was a chorus girl in "Idiot's Delight," and played the lovely Bianca in "Taming of the Shrew."

"Last night after rehearsal," she laughed, "I walked in my sleep. I climbed down from an upper bunk on the sleeping porch, went into my room, lay down, and slept there all night. I don't know why, but it must mean something."

Up in the Air

"Tovarich" is the last University play in which Miss Fiksdal will appear this season. But she still has plenty to occupy her time, for she now has her private license and can take her earthbound friends up for a spin. "I spend most of my time at the airport just to see what's going on," she admitted.

"I'd like to work on a newspaper after graduation," she disclosed, "and maybe do a little theater work on the side. Of course I'll keep up on my flying, too. I may even have time to write a bit of poetry."

Two PE Professors Speak Over Radio On Health Subject

The physical education department will present another program in its radio series over KOAC Monday, April 7, at 8:45 p.m. The subject to be discussed is "Supervised Teaching in Health Education."

Guest speakers will be Ned Johns, assistant professor of physical education, and Wilfred Sutton, instructor of health and physical education at Roosevelt junior high school.

A brief history of supervised teaching in Oregon will be presented, along with various phases of the student teacher's work, including his function in the class and his educational background.

Among the occupations of working students at Wheaton college is corn detassling.

Four 'Oldies' Coming Tuesday

Activities Board Brings Second In Movie Series

Demure Mary Pickford, sultry Theda Bara, the dare-devil and dead-pan Bill Hart will be among the old stars to appear on the screen before University students next Tuesday in the theater room of Chapman hall (207). Four "oldies" will show continuously from 3 o'clock through the evening with a brief respite for dinner.

Free to all students on their activities cards, the educational activities board-sponsored show, may be viewed by all non-students and faculty members who have purchased a $1 membership card in the U of O Film society. A few cards are still available at the activities office in McArthur court.

The four shows to be featured in the next program are "The New York Hat," "The Fugitive," "The Clever Dummy," and "A Fool There Was."
