Von Brucke Will Speak To Sigma Xi

Scientist to Give Concluding Talk In Faculty Series

Dr. Ernest von Brucke, noted Austrian physiologist, will address Sigma Xi science honorary today at 4 p.m. in 103 Deady, in the first of his two lectures on the Oregon campus, announced Professor Rudolph H. Ernst, chairman of the University lecture series.

Professor von Brucke will speak on "Fatigue and Recovery in the Peripheral Nerves" today, and Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the faculty room of Friendly hall will give the last lecture in the University lecture series on the adjustment of the personality to the environment.

Both lectures are open to the general public and students.

Dr. von Brucke, for twenty years one of Europe's foremost neurophysiologists, has worked since 1936 in the Harvard medical school, and now holds the position of research fellow there.

Grandson of a noted Viennese physiologist of the same name, Dr. von Brucke was professor of physiology at the University of Innsbruck, Austria, and has contributed many articles to psychology and neurophysiology magazines. He is a member of the editorial board of the Journal of Neurophysiology.

Shavers to Get Soaking Today

Hard-guy Thomas Lists 18 Violators Of Whisker Law

The long arm of sophomore law will ensnare 18 second year men this afternoon when Sheriff Homer Thomas and a staff of deputies duck first offenders to class of '43 Whiskerino orders to "let the beards grow."

The 18 are to appear at the Side at 12:30, Ray Packouz, dance co-chairman, announced last night. Thomas, duly installed into office and with a shiny new star dressing his lapel, will direct the public activities.

Guilty of violations are Jack Nichols, Tom Watts, Ralph Crawford, Jim Higgins, Ellis Halling, Kim McKim, Morell Sharp, Baxter Pond, Les Steers, Sid Lakefish, Monroe Karterman, Bill Ault, Glenn Westfall, Gerald Blair Thomas, Rod Burch, Chuck McWayne, Art Jacobson, Paul Thurston.

In case of necessity ducking will take place at least twice each week, Thomas stated, up to the night of the Whiskerino, April 19.

DOUBLE TALKER

Jerry Lakefish, talented University theater actor, will play the roles of Georges Dupont, son of a Parisian banker, Martelleau, a minor character, in the Guild theater production of "Tovarich." The play will be shown April 10, 11, 12, 17, 18, and 19 in the Guild theater room of Johnson hall.

Lakefish Tells Stage History

Experienced Actor To Play 'Tovarich' Role for Week Run

"This is my first juvenile role," said Jerry Lakefish of his part in "Tovarich," University Guild hall production to appear April 10, 11, 12, 17, 18, and 19, "and it's the first time I've ever worn a tux on the stage. I don't mind working in a tux, but prefer to do character rather than straight parts."

Lakefish plays the role of Georges Dupont, son of Charles and Fernande Dupont (Jeff Smith and Betty Fiksdal), the employers of Prince Mikail Ouratieff and the Grand Duchess Tatiana as servants. The young Dupont becomes infatuated with the latter, as does his father, a Parisian banker.

Sheriff Promises Quick Punishment

"The arm of the law is strong and relentless—and, oh well—it will get you in the end."

Such were the words of recently-appointed Sheriff Homer Thomas, who is in charge of the "gorillas" who will track down and administer punishment to lawless offenders of the age-old soph anti-shave custom.

The Badge

Formal pinning of Sheriff Thomas is slated for some time today. City officials are in charge of arrangements, and it is rumored that Mayor Elisha Large of Eugene will add proper pomp and dignity to the occasion.

Exec Comm Picks Chief Of Oregana

Precedent Broken With Reselection Of Young Head

Additional details on page 8.

Wilbur Bishop became the first student to receive appointment as Oregana editor for the second consecutive year last night, when he was named to the book's top position by the educational activities board at its meeting in Friendly hall.

Bishop will be the first editor in the 41 years of the yearbook's publication to earn this distinction. The junior in economics is also one of the few students in recent years to hold the top position in his third year at the University.

Ted Harmon was the only other candidate for the position.

With the 1941 Oregana all finished and waiting its delivery date, Bishop declared that work would start immediately on the new book and announced a meeting for staff reorganization some time next week.

As soon as the 1941 Oregana is out, Bishop said he intended to take a campus poll to get students' opinions on features they liked and disliked about the book.

Applicants for editor of the Emerald will appear before the educational activities board April 24 and business managers for both publications will be interviewed by the board April 29.

Jenkins Will Speak To News Classes

Sidney C. Jenkins, public relations council member of the Potlatch Forests, will address Prof. George Turnbull's elementary journalism and reporting classes Thursday. He will discuss the field of public relations.

Mr. Jenkins was formerly in Eugene on the staff of the Register-Guard.

Helen Angell, Jean Burt, Annabelle Dow.

Nine pretty girls of the "village school" became finalist candidates for ruler of Junior Weekend last night.

Isolde Eichenlaub, Wini Green, Barbara Neu.

Thursday, the campus-at-large will know the name of this year's ruler and her court of four princesses, Gene Brown, weekend chairman announced.

Eleanor Sederstrom, Barbara Todd, Dorothy Wheeler.

The nine will be judged by two professional photographers from downtown Eugene; George Godfrey, director of the University news bureau; Bruce Hamby, athletic news director; J. W. Teter, manager of the photograph bureau; Brown, and Buck Buchwach, weekend promotion chairman.

Robert Moore On 'Vacation'

Authorities Seek Law Student Gone From UO Campus

By BOB FRAZIER

Disappearance of Robert Laurence Moore, 20, sophomore in law, was brought to light Monday when Portland authorities were asked to join in the search for him.

Moore left Eugene February 28 to "spend a weekend in Portland," telling his landlady he would be back Sunday evening. He has not been seen in Eugene since.

Investigation has been carried on by Moore's father, Earl B. Moore, John Day, prominent eastern Oregon attorney, since it first appeared that Moore was not going to return to school. Mr. Moore later turned the case over to C. C. Spears, Portland private investigator, and ex-head of the FBI there.

To a Sophomore

It is an awful bother
To stroke a tender face,
And realize that stubble is
Abounding everywhere.

Good gosh, what will it look like
In church on Easter morn.
I stroke my weatherbeaten chin
And sigh a sigh forlorn.

But I look at some poor classmates,
And then such thoughts disperse.
I s'pose could I not grow one,
It would be even worse.

Editorial Bids Due

Petitions for Emerald editor for next year must be in the educational activities office, Friday, April 18, it was announced by George Root. The petitions must be at the office by 5 o'clock.

Old Films Star Pickford, Bara In Free Shows

Second of Movie Series Will Play This Afternoon

Evil, in the person of Theda Bara, and sweetness and light as personified by actress Mary Pickford, will compete for attention this afternoon and evening when the educational activities board presents its second movie program. The shows will be held in the movie room (207) of Chapman hall.

Rounding out the program of old-time movies will be a "rip-roaring" Western featuring William Hart and a Mack Sennett comedy, full of custard pies and cement dunkings. Times for the movies are: 3:00, 4:45, 7:15, and 9:00 o'clock.

Students are urged to remember their activities cards will admit them free of charge to the program. Faculty and non-student body members interested in seeing the entire series of movies, of which there are four more programs, may purchase a $1.25 membership card in the "U of O Film Society." Cards are sold at the activities office in McArthur court.

The four movies of another day and era which will be presented today are "The New York Hat," "The Fugitive," "The Clever Dummy," and "A Fool There Was."
