

Ex-Gridiron Player Dies On Saturday

Woodie Collapses After Writing Out Insurance Policy

Ira C. Woodie, former Oregon football player, died Saturday afternoon.

Woodie was, at the time of his death, a Eugene insurance man, and alumni adviser for Kappa Sigma.

Collapses

After writing out an insurance policy for Dr. L. F. Beck, associate professor of psychology, at a campus cafe he slumped over in the booth and collapsed. He was pronounced dead from the effects of a heart attack at the Sacred Heart hospital.

While at Oregon from 1926-30 he gained the reputation of being one of the best quarterbacks in Oregon football history.

Nine Years

For nine years after graduating from Oregon he coached football at La Grande high school, where he developed outstanding athletes in all fields of competitive sports. Woodie's teams won 23 Blue Mountain league championships—eight in basketball, seven in football, and eight in track.

Woodie, 35, is survived by his wife, Ruth E. Woodie, a daughter, Jeanne Rose, 6, and a half-brother, William R. Woodie.

YMCA Instructor Here to Interview Senior Aspirants

Ivan B. Rhodes of the national YMCA and instructor of YMCA leadership courses at Willamette university will be on the campus of the University today to meet seniors interested in YMCA secretaryship, metropolitan or student YMCA's, in a group meeting at the YMCA at 3 p.m.

He is interested in following this meeting up with previously arranged personal interviews. Arrangements may be made through the executive secretary of the University YMCA in the "Y" building. Information can be secured through the same office, according to Paul D. Sutley, "Y" executive secretary.

Commerce Group Votes Wednesday On Leading Frosh

Beta Gamma Sigma, commerce honorary, meets Wednesday at 4 p.m. to vote for the highest-ranking business administration freshman who will get his name on the organization's plaque this year. The honor is limited to one freshman student each year. Leonard Farr was the winner in 1940.

Already selected for membership in Beta Gamma Sigma this year are two other BA school students, both juniors. They are Eathel Sutton and Charles Lundquist. They will be initiated at a ceremony preceding a banquet in the Eugene hotel April 22.

Casteel Gets Post

John Casteel, associate professor of speech and director of the speech division at the University of Oregon, will be a member of the faculty for the 1941 summer session of Northwestern university.

Morse Sifts Facts For Arbitrations

Dean Wayne L. Morse of the law school returned last week from San Francisco where he has been gathering evidence for two decisions which he released March 30.

Evidence was taken in San Francisco and Seattle and necessitated a flight to the Washington city to obtain additional evidence.

Dean Morse will return to San Francisco April 14 to start hearings on an arbitration case which will involve the settlement of port working rules for all Pacific coast towns.

Since it is expected that the hearings will last several weeks, Dean Morse will call recesses often enough to allow him to return to the University for his teaching assignments.

Spanish Students Broadcast Monday

The Spanish department and Sigma Delta Pi, Spanish national honorary, are sponsoring a Pan-American program to be broadcast on station KOAC Monday evening, April 14, from 9 to 10 o'clock.

Mr. Louis Richter, graduate assistant in romance languages, announced yesterday that he will hold tryouts for all students interested on Tuesday, April 8, at 4:30 p.m., in his office, 207 Friendly.

Many places are open for men students who want to read script, and there are some for women students.

Anyone interested in the actual production, such as the sound effects, or in script writing, are also asked to contact Mr. Richter on Tuesday.

Dr. Staples Goes To Nevada Mine

Dr. L. W. Staples, instructor of geology, has been granted a leave of absence for spring term to do work in economic minerals, important now because of the war situation. At present he is developing a new quicksilver mine in northern Nevada.

During his absence, Dr. Staples' classes will be handled by Bob Brooke and Warren Lomax, advanced geology students, and Herb Harper, graduate assistant from Oregon State college.

Bill Diller Chosen Program Planner

Bill Diller was elected program chairman of the YMCA luncheon group at its meeting yesterday. He replaces Ernest Campbell.

Diller has charge of the regular Friday noon luncheon program. Plans were discussed for cooperative programs with the YWCA Dill Pickle club. The possibility of social activities with the YW group was also discussed.

YWCA Freshmen To Hold Party

A YWCA freshman fellowship dessert party will be held tonight at 6:30 in the bungalow.

Those in charge of the program are: Elizabeth Edmunds, chairman; Jo Ann Supple and Dorothy Clear, refreshments; Jean Griffith, songs; Barbara Crosland, games; Betty Anunsen, program; and Pat Sutton, publicity. Helen Johnson will give a reading.

Oregon Band Rates Praise

Dickson's Crew Receives Acclaim From Stanfordite

Ray Dickson and his orchestra, one of the few all-student bands on the coast, were rated tops recently by the Stanford Daily music critic after hearing bands from Washington, Oregon, and California colleges.

Dickson and his 12-piece band will direct the jive session at the Lemon Squeeze for the Order of the O dance in the Igloo Saturday evening.

As special feature of the evening, Dickson will present his new vocalist, Jean Morrison, who has done orchestra work in Portland, Oregon State, and over radio station KNX in Hollywood.

The 12-piece band has been perfecting a new style, portraying its own personality, with the aid of special arrangements by Charlie Barnett, Maestro Dickson announced. These orchestrations will be introduced to the Webfoots for the first time Saturday evening.

Because so many of Dickson's boys double in the finals of the interfraternity sing contest that night, the band will exchange its usual collegiate white sweaters for tuxes.

Henderson (Ark.) State Teachers college recently formed the Southwest Arkansas Cooperative Film library for the benefit of the state's public schools.

Lawyers Eligible For $75 in Prizes

Fifty dollars first prize and twenty-five dollars second prize will be awarded during the first week in May to the law school student who presents the best oral discussion on "The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure Should (or Should Not) Be Adopted in Oregon," according to announcement from Orlando J. Hollis, professor of law.

The contest, founded in 1923 by Frank G. Hilton, Portland lawyer, is designed to "stimulate the various advantages of public speaking as pertains to law, stimulating some public interest in the high purpose of law."

All students registered in the law school are eligible to enter. Winners will be determined on the basis of argument, delivery, and proper presentation of legal principles involved.

Condon Club Host For 60 Geologists In Annual Confab

Members of Condon club were hosts recently to about 60 representatives from geological societies in Portland and Salem for a two-day geological conference.

Principle features of the meeting, which is held annually, were a banquet at the Anchorage with Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the University geology department, as speaker, and an all-day field trip to the Fern Ridge and Cottage Grove dams.

Duck Riflemen Hit Third Place In Hearst Match

Kirkpatrick Wins Ninth Corps Area Individual Scoring

The University of Oregon rifle team won again, this time placing third in the ninth corps area of the National ROTC rifle matches for the William Randolph Hearst trophies. William Kirkpatrick, junior from Baker, won a gold stamped billfold for highest individual score.

Oregon's team score was 933 for five men. Kirkpatrick shot 195 for first place in a field with more than 150 marksmen. UCLA won first for this area with Idaho second. The ninth corps area comprises the nine western states, Alaska, and Hawaii. Thirty-one teams entered the senior division.

Oregon marksmen included: Robert Sawyer, Malcolm Almack, William Kirkpatrick, Edward Berg, and Milton Richardson. For

Roper Pinch Hits In Manager's Post

Warren Roper, freshman in business administration, will act as advertising manager of the Oregon Daily Emerald today, Tuesday, and Thursday.

He is substituting for Fred May, who will be away from the office those days. Roper is Saturday advertising manager.
