

Whiskerino Date Moved to April 18

Shift Necessitated By Russ Morgan's Orchestra Conflict

Soph Whiskerino dance plans stepped ahead one full day last night when Co-chairmen Bill Edlefsen and Ray Packouz announced that date of the annual second year affair had been moved to Friday night, April 18, instead of the original April 19 date.

The shift in plans became necessary when Russ Morgan, contracted dance maestro, wired a conflict with other dance arrangements. The dance will now take place in Gerlinger hall, Packouz and Edlefsen revealed.

As plans for the Whiskerino sped ahead yesterday the two co-chairmen issued a call for sophomore art students who know something of interior decoration. Anyone interested in applying was asked to call Bea Schum.

Revisions in committee chairmen as announced yesterday include Jeff Kitchen, new contest manager; Clinton Paine, orchestra; Jean Mihalcik, advertising; Bob McInley, clean up; Joe Wicks, finance; and Mary Word, guests.

Parley on Policies Set by Shack Gang For Tuesday Lunch

At a special all-editorial staff meeting of the Oregon Daily Emerald and get-together luncheon Tuesday, the upper news offices for the five special editions will be filled by a general election, the editorial board of the campus daily decided yesterday.

A new precedent was established at the board meeting when it was decided to give the sophomore class the privilege of editing one issue of the paper.

Schedule of the special editions as listed by the board reads: Sigma Delta Chi-Theta Sigma Phi, April 19; women, April 26; sophomore, May 3; men, May 10; and frosh, May 17.

Sororities Pledge

Panhellenic office announced the names of two more women pledges. They are Elaine McFarlane of Portland, Kappa Alpha Theta, and Evelyn O'Brien of San Francisco, Alpha Chi Omega.

Law Heads Named

Phi Delta Phi, law school fraternity, elected officers for its new year at a meeting last week. Those selected include: magister, Herman Hahner; exchequer, James K. Buell; clerk, Cecil Wright; historian, Phil Lowry.

Dr. Frank M. Andrews' collection of portraits of noted plant physiologists had been presented to the department of botany at Indiana university.

UO Students

'Mike,' Tatiana Bring Tovarich' Romance

Helene Parsons

"It's wonderful to break things," declared Helen Parsons, who plays the Grand Duchess Tatiana, feminine lead in this week's performances of "Tovarich," University Guild hall production appearing tomorrow, Friday and Saturday, Friday and Saturday of next week. Thursday performances are sponsored by Pi Delta Phi, French honorary.

Miss Parsons thinks the role of the Grand Duchess Tatiana a splendid opportunity for an actress since it has both tragedy and comedy. "Tatiana is delightful," she bubbled. "I've liked the part since I was a little girl," she said.

"But I'm having trouble with my Russian accent. I have to sing 'Dark Eyes' in Russian and play the guitar, which I've never done before, at the same time. And in Act III I wash dishes without any water. Try that sometime.

Committee to Plan Food for Fete 5000

How to feed 5000 hungry guests will be the problem discussed by the Junior Weekend all-campus luncheon committee when it meets today for the first time since its organization at the Kappa house at 4 o'clock.

Preparation and administration of the luncheon will follow much the same order as former years, but plans are being formulated to serve people faster, Bette Morfitt, chief hostess of noon meal, declared.

Other members of the committee are: Bruce Chrichton, ticket distribution; Bob Hancock, construction and set-up; Billie Christensen, decoration of queen's stand; Betty Workman, sandwich making; Pat Lawson and Janet Morris, food.

YMCA's Members To Elect Officers

YMCA members will know tonight who their officers will be for next year. From 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. today voting will take place in the "Y" hut.

Nominated so far for preferential voting between the two top offices, president and vice-president, are Dan Bacot, Bob Carlson, and Carl Peetz. The person receiving most votes will get the presidency and the second best, the vice-presidency.

Secretarial nominations include Charles Roffe and Beauford Clemens. Up for treasurer of the "Y" are Leonard Farr and Bob Sabin. Further persons may be nominated by petition signed by 15 per cent of the "Y" membership and presented at the "Y" office by 9 o'clock.

'Lemon' Sing

As a comedy feature of the evening's musical concert, the Lettermen will introduce their glee club under the direction of "Butch" Nelson in a specialty number, "Little Joe the Wrangler."

Parker McNeil

Parker McNeil, who plays the romantic lead in this week's performances of "Tovarich," University hall play opening tomorrow, doesn't like romantic leads. He is interested primarily in character roles.

"Whiskers, mustaches, clever makeup—that's what I like," McNeil declared. "And dialects and queer characters."

Next to drama, McNeil likes fishing. "In fact, it's an even bigger sensation," he stated, "although it's so different that it's hard to compare them. But there's no greater thrill than pulling in a steelhead."

Blind Musician Will Play Here

Pianist Templeton To Exhibit Memory Tuesday at 8 p.m.

By MILDRED WILSON

Credited by critics with the most remarkable musical memory of any living artist, Alec Templeton, blind piano genius, will appear before University students next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Templeton is the last performer on the 1940-41 Greater Artists series.

Free to all students on their educational activities cards, Templeton will present a concert in his usual inimitable way—playing both the standard compositions of the old masters and his parodies of their works.

One of the largest audiences ever to gather to hear a single performer recently listened to Templeton as he played at the Chicagoland Music festival. Eighty thousand persons cheered for several minutes each number played by the blind virtuoso.

Alec Templeton is an outstanding radio performer, having been featured in many of the largest national programs. He has been a guest artist on the Ford Sunday Evening Hour, Real Silk, Kraft Music Hall, Chase and Sandborn, and Johnson Wax programs.

More than half the 2,200 students at the University of Arkansas are working to help pay their way through school.

YWCA to Sponsor All-Coed Assembly In Their Bungalow

Senior women of the YWCA will take the lead at the first all-woman assembly of the year today at 4 o'clock in the YW bungalow.

Pauline Pengra, chairman of assemblies in general, will be in charge, and short talks on "My college life and the values of the YW in it," will be presented by Carol Bird, Ellen Torrence, Blanche Gustafson, and Karolyn Kortge.

Helen Lettow will take charge of the worship.

Although senior women are especially urged to attend this initial assembly, all University women are welcome, Miss Pengra stated.

Six Phi Delt Meet

Six members of the Oregon Alpha chapter of Phi Delta Theta attended a Seattle founders' day banquet in Seattle Friday. Those attending were: Al Hunt, president of the campus chapter, Dan Mahoney, George Mackin, Dean Vincent, Dan Galbreath, and Ed Wheeler.

Irwin to Address Gerlinger Assembly

Tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 o'clock Will Irwin, well-known American authority on war relief, will address students and faculty in the alumni hall of Gerlinger in connection with the campus drive for "Aid to the Small Democracies."

Through work directly with ex-President Herbert Hoover during the last war, Irwin became intimately connected with Belgian relief. Today he is one of the chief authorities on the subject in the United States, as well as a leader of the campaign in America.

Already the move to aid the small oppressed countries of Europe through German-sanctioned methods has come into wide use on eastern American campuses, Irwin writes to campus leaders. His efforts here will be to cultivate a desire to help among western collegians.

Named on the campus committee to head the Oregon drive are Dean of Men Virgil D. Earl, Lyle Nelson, Harold Olney, Elizabeth Steed, and Helen Angell.
