Watch Closely, Judges Beauty Rules Today

By JOHNNY KAHANANUI

They should be blind, married, and exceedingly fond of their wives—those connoisseurs of female charms who'll select a Junior Weekend queen today from the nine remaining aspirants. Then they wouldn't be besieged with illusions and could make the only intelligent decision—all nine for Junior Weekend queen.

Quite a regal assemblage of feminine pulchritude — Barbara Neu, Barbara Todd, Jean Burt, Eleanor Sederstrom, Annabelle Dow, Dorothy Wheeler, Wini Green, Isolde Eichenlaub, and Helen Angell. And if anyone is doggedly certain HE can choose THE ONE, he's an abominable egoist.

Every one of the nine coyly admitted mild surprise at being chosen from the original bevy of 21, and all were thrilled, despite subdued attempts at suppression, as they lounged about the University news bureau last Monday night waiting to be photographed.

Annabelle Dow's fathomless velvet eyes twinkled for an instant before she murmured, "I still can't believe I got this far." Jean Burt, wisps of golden hair fluffed out in an alluring disarray, looked like a dream, and "felt" like she was "in a dream."

Bug Bungalow Becomes Ward For 'Mothers'

Becoming bored with the "Isolation" sign on the door Thursday, occupants of Ward 3 trundled out a new sign and hung it up.

Word spread through the bug bailiwick like wildfire. People began to drop around to inquire: "How are the little mothers today?"

The new sign read: "MATERNITY WARD."

The present roster includes Olivia Dysinger, Mary Word, Marjorie Taylor, Barbara Bryant, Elizabeth Hughes, Agnes Barry, Ruth Eckhardt, Mary Mercier, Paul Morris, Edgar Blumenthal, Clinton Childs, and Marge "Dupe" Dibble.

Sour Grapes No. 12

Crowds of rushees will be down To U of O come Saturday, And stay here over Easter too, Or so the publicizers say. 'Twould be nice could they all meet,

And then should sally forth, Perhaps to play a bit of bridge, If they can find a fourth.

Houses Add Four

Four new pledges were announced today by the personnel office. Alva Blaylock, Delta Tau Delta, Baker, Oregon; W. P. Wygant, Phi Kappa Psi, Astoria; Robert Tilson Jr., Phi Kappa Psi, Fresno, California; Charles E. Dougherty, Delta Tau Delta, Eugene.

Dan Bacot Elected YMCA President

Dan Bacot, prominent YMCA member in the past year, was elected the organization's president in yesterday's election.

Other officers for the rest of this year and next year are Bob Carlson, vice-president; Charles Roffe, secretary; and Leonard Farr, elected treasurer.

Installation of these officers will take place Wednesday evening, April 16, in the "Y" hut, at the YMCA spring assembly, Paul Sutley, executive secretary, announced yesterday.

Pictures to Boost Seabeck 'Y' Camp

Colored movies of the Puget Sound area will be shown today from 4:15 to 6:45 in campus living organizations in connection with the YMCA-YWCA publicization of their annual Seabeck rally.

Seabeck is the Puget Sound summer conference camp where the northwest district of the YWCA and YMCA meets every summer.

Following is a schedule of time and place for showings of the movies: 4:45, Kappa Alpha Theta; 5:15, Phi Kappa Psi; 5:45, Alpha Xi Delta; 6:15, Hendricks hall; 6:45, men's dormitory.

Students living near houses where the films will be shown are invited to attend the pictures.

Paul Raver Will Speak Today at 11

Bonneville Project Head to Present History of Power

Students will assemble at Gerlinger this morning at 11 o'clock to hear Dr. Paul J. Raver, grave, gray-haired administrator of the Bonneville power project. Dr. Raver, who is boss of the biggest power producing outfit in the world, will speak on "The History of Federal Power."

Dr. Raver was graduated from the University of Nebraska as a civil engineer in 1917. At Northwestern, in 1927, he obtained his

Pep Assembly Set for Friday

Judges to Present Junior Weekend Queen and Court

Songs, skits, yells, two bands, and a variety show, climaxed by announcement of the Junior weekend queen and her court will make up the first evening assembly in the history of this school Friday at 6:30, according to Tiger Payne, ASUO president. The place will be announced later.

Original plans for the rally to take place in the afternoon were changed because of conflict with a relay meet. Another change will be that only women's living organizations will sing their sweetheart songs.

Roll call of houses will be made.

Manny Vezie, new assistant football coach formerly of Notre Dame, will make his first public appearance before University students when he is introduced at the assembly. Also to be introduced will be Dick Whitman, captain of the baseball team.

Supplying the pep will be the school band and besweated members of the rally committee, Kwama, Skull and Dagger, and Phi Theta. "Order of O" glee club will sing.

Joe Gurley is planning a comic act, and Ed Burtenshaw will be featured in a skit.

Ray Dickson's band will supply special music for the queen and her court.

Non-Resident Fee Due by 3 Today

A non-resident fee of $40 must be paid by non-resident students by 3 p.m. today with a penalty of suspension if the fee is not paid by that time, the business office has announced. Those suspended will be given a week to be reinstated upon payment of a $2 reinstatement fee.

The non-resident fee should be paid at windows 2 or 3 in the upper floor of Johnson hall. The business office will be open from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 to 3 p.m.

'O' MAN

Jim Rathbun, president of one of Oregon's "daintiest" organizations—the Order of the "O"—has his hands full this week, preparing for the lettermen's dance Saturday night, April 12. No small task has been that of whipping into shape the colorful voices of the Order of the "O" glee club, which will perform during the finals of the all-campus sing at

Hero Cartoons To Decorate Walls of Igloo

Pictures Will Show Letterman Events During Past Year

Caricatures of campus athletic heroes will decorate the walls of the Igloo Saturday night for the Order of the O Lemon Squeeze, announced Jim Rathbun, president of the lettermen's organization.

The cartoons will depict certain scenes that have taken place on the sports field this year with members of the O figuring prominently, Rathbun declared.

Because the musical contest finals of the Interfraternity sing will interrupt Ray Dickson and his 12-piece band for a "longer—"

Templeton Reputed Puckish Prankster

A puckish sense of humor, combined with an infallible sense of "the time and place" have gained Alec Templeton a widely-recognized reputation as a practical joker—as well as a brilliant pianist.

Templeton, who will appear in McArthur court next Tuesday evening, finds many social situations which have to be dealt with firmly. For instance there is the classic story of the Chicago matron who invited the blind artist to tea—and then insisted, quite violently, that he play a few numbers for the assembled guests.

After demurring a few times, Templeton assented—but with mental reservations.

Four o'Clock Set for Final Queen Choice

Nine Candidates To Pass Before Politics-Proof Six

Nine princesses of the Near East will be unveiled today and judged for the final selection for the Arabian Nights Junior Weekend queen, Genii Brown, general chairman, announced today. Judgment is scheduled for 4 p.m. at the third floor of Gerlinger.

The nine prospective queens of the Arabian festival are Helen Angell, Jean Burt, Annabelle Dow, Isolde Eichenlaub, Wini Green, Barbara Neu, Eleanor Sederstrom, Barbara Todd, and Dorothy Wheeler.

Using Hollywood makeup, the nine queens-elect were photographed in groups and individually by George Godfrey, director of the news bureau, Tuesday.

In the queen-selection today the potential crown bearers will wear short silks, talk informally to the judges, and display their posture and grace while walking. One queen and a court of princesses will be named.

Judges of the coeds will be Bruce Hamby, athletic news director; J. W. Teter, manager of the photograph bureau; a studio official; a photographer from Kennell-Ellis studio; Godfrey, Brown, and Buck Buchwach, weekend promotion chairman.

Fete Drawing at 4

Drawing for canoe fete partners and themes will take place today at 4 p.m. in room 105 Commerce building, instead of the College Side as previously announced. Representatives from all participating campus houses must be present.

The women's houses will draw for partners and the men's for theme.

Came the great moment—the room was silent—all waited with indrawn breaths for the music to commence. What they didn't wait for or expect was the series of discordant notes which issued from the piano. Evidently the instrument hadn't been tuned for years.

Very gently and politely, Templeton rose—remarked he could not perform on such an instrument—and left the room.

The matron, later: "I can't understand it—I had the piano tuned expressly for the occasion."

Templeton, later: "I just hit the wrong notes at the right time. I hope her face is red."
