

From The Pulpit

By RUBY JACKSON

Picnics, parties, and dances are being planned by student groups for their spring term fun. New officers are being installed in many of the clubs, and will take over their duties at once.

St. Mary's Episcopal

Election of officers for the coming year will be held at the Canterbury club meeting at 5 p.m. A new program will be started, dealing with the vacation school training courses.

Services will be held at 8 and 11 a.m., and 7:30 p.m.

Baptist

Ralph Eichenberger is in charge of the University BYPU meeting at 6:15 p.m., and University Sunday school meets at 9:45 a.m. Dr. C. L. Trawin will speak at morning worship (11 a.m.) on "Christ of the Candlesticks," and at 7:30 p.m. on "Candlesticks of Christ."

Students are asked to watch the papers for further announcement of the spring formal which will be held about the first of May.

First Christian

University Christian Endeavor will meet at 6:15 p.m., and the University Bible class at 9:45 a.m. Dr. Childers will speak at the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services.

Presbyterian

Instead of morning group meeting, Westminster students will leave at 12:15 p.m. for a picnic. They will take with them the votes for new officers, and will count them during the afternoon.

Len Putnam will lead the Forum group, which will meet at 6:30 p.m.

Wesley House

Students from the Wesley foundation in Corvallis will be entertained by the Wesley group here with a social at 5 p.m. Refreshments will be served at 6:30, and at 7 a worship service, built around the christening of Barbara Ellen Funk, will be held for both groups. Following this service, Professor J. R. Branton, of the department of religion, will address the groups.

Both these meetings will be held in the Methodist church, the worship service to be held by candlelight.

Genevieve Working is in charge of the service, and Lois Ginther, Bernice Wheeler, Elwood Rickman, and C. E. Funk, members of the Wesley quartet will sing.

More than 60 coeds stormed the aeronautics department of the University of Minnesota to enroll for flying courses, but only five could be accepted.

Five Floats Signed

(Continued from page one) order to please her highness. Besides the parade of floats, there will be log rolling and canoe tilting to add to the fun, he said.

Committee members working with Whitley on the fete include: Bob Martinson, Bill Bloodworth, Shirley Lindley, Frances Cox, Carolyn Holmes, Connie Averill, Charles Weisberg and Russ Hudson.

IN LAST YEAR'S GUILD THEATRICAL TONIGHT

The curtain on the University theater's activity for 1940-41 will fall tonight, as the production, "Tovarich," ends tonight. Appearing in prominent roles are these three student actresses. They are,

Czarists Sip Saskouska 'Tovarich' Ends Run

By JOANNE NICHOLS

Between playing cards behind stage and attempting to keep an adequate supply of "saskouska" (Russian for gumdrops) to use in the cocktails scene, the stage crew of "Tovarich" is rather busy these last days of the play's run. "Tovarich" will close tonight at 8 o'clock in the University theater under the direction of Mrs. Ottilie T. Seyboit.

Another of the stage crew's worries is to get enough thumbtacks to pin up the ceiling in the garret and kitchen scenes. The drama division is now out of thumbtacks.

Some Slips

Members of the cast have their troubles, too. Betty Fiksdal's dress is too long and she is afraid she will trip and fall down stairs. The padding Dorothy Durkee wears for her role as Louise, the cook, sometimes slips in a most embarrassing way.

Jim Parsons, who played Gorotchenko in last week's performances and is playing Prince Mikail this week, had difficulty with the scar he wore on his cheek. The scar was held on with embalmer's wax, which contains a very strong acid. The acid so irritated Parson's skin that after three days of rehearsal he was forced to shift the scar to the opposite cheek.

Real Scars

Parsons still has two scars on his cheeks, not artificial ones, but real ones induced by the irritating acid.

Directions for applying the embalmer's wax read as follows: "First cut out the mangled tissue."

Parker McNeil, who plays Soviet Commissar Gorotchenko this week, needs nearly two hours to apply his makeup, including the scar worn last week by Parsons.

Incidentally, the drama division is running short of cold cream and Kleenex needed to remove the heavy makeup used in "Tovarich."

The men in the cast have to dodge and duck at the end of Act I when Prince Mikail and the Grand Duchess Tatiana drink a Russian toast and break the glasses by throwing them downstairs into the men's dressing room. No casualties have been reported.

Posies Pour in

Working in "Tovarich" has its happier side, however. Trudy Harland's dressing room was filled with flowers last night, and Dorothy Durkee received her second individual plaudit.

The University box office, telephone extension 216, is now open in Johnson hall. Tickets are still available for tonight's performance.

Condon Club Shows Mexican Pictures

Motion pictures of a medical expedition into Mexico and Central America, showing the geology, geography, and anthropology of the two regions, will be presented by Dr. W. E. Neal at the Condon club meeting Monday night.

The pictures are open to the public, and will begin at 7:30 in room 101, Condon hall.

Plans for a $250,000 college of religion building have been approved at Butler college.

Three sons of law graduates registered this year in the law school of Creighton university.

'Film in America' Series to Present 'Hands,' 'Sunrise'

Two films—under the heading of "The German Influence," will comprise the fourth program of the educational activities board, "Survey of the Film in America" to be shown free of charge to University students next Wednesday afternoon and evening.

"Hands," an unusual film built on an abstract pattern with music (these are the first sound pictures on the series) designed to fit the scenes, is accompanied by "Sunrise," which stars George O'Brien and Janet Gaynor.

The pictures were filmed in the late '20's. Admission will be granted upon showing of activities cards.

Spring Plaids

Plaids are now the rage, so you had better get in step today with a new plaid skirt or suit.
