

Student Union Plans Proceed On Site Choice

Newly-Appointed Building Group Discusses Issue

At previous meetings of the student-faculty student union committee, which meets tonight in the faculty room of Friendly hall, members have succeeded in narrowing down the number of possible sites for the building.

Thus far they have determined that the best possible sites are the block at Thirteenth and University where Dr. H. D. Sheldon's house now stands, and the tract north of the "Y" shack near the "Dads' Gates."

Faculty

Led by Committee Chairman Will V. Norris, professor of physics, committee members are: Virgil D. Earl, dean of men; Orville Lindstrom, business manager; Fred Cuthbert, associate professor of landscape architecture; and C. L. Kelly, professor of business administration.

Student members are: Mary Elizabeth Earl, Ray Schrick, Uly Dorais, Bob Lovell, and Tiger Payne, ex-officio member.

Knowledge

All committee members are familiar with work done toward a student union and with campus building plans. Besides picking a site for the building, the committee has looked into planning the structure and interior of the building with an eye to facilities such as a dance floor, kitchen facilities, and lounges.

Dr. Kratt to Direct Two Choral Fetes

Dr. Theodore Kratt, dean of the University of Oregon school of music, has two directorial assignments of large choruses ahead of him during the next two weeks—neither at the University of Oregon with his famed singing group, the University Choral union.

Friday and Saturday he will be in Ashland to take over the post of choral conductor for the Southern Oregon Music festival at Southern Oregon College of Education.

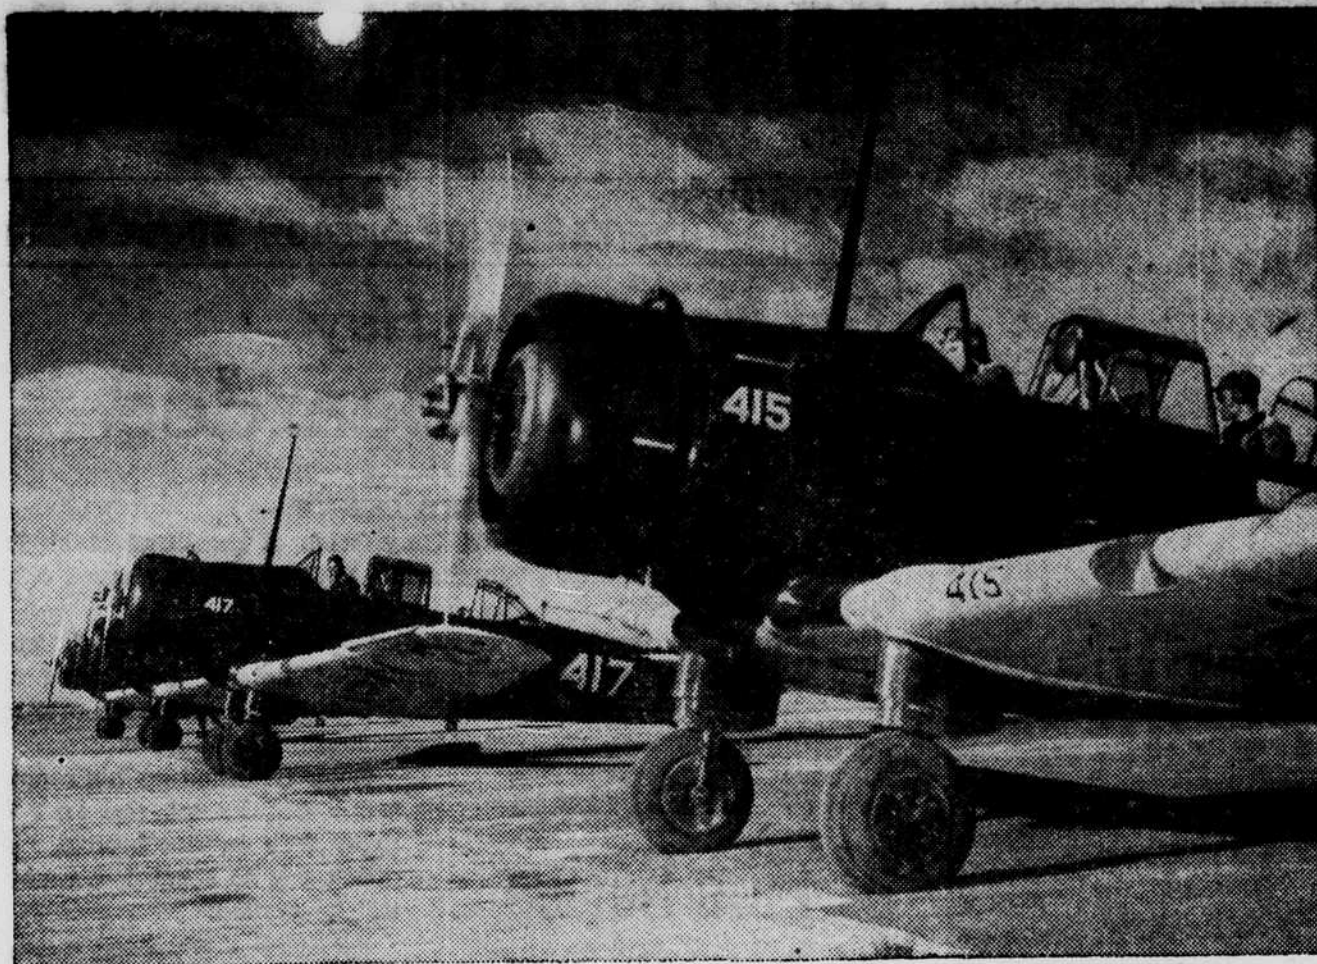

This annual festival draws several hundred grammar school and high school instrumentalists and singers from all parts of southern Oregon, to undergo two days of intensive training under guest directors. On Saturday night, at the climactic concert of the festival, Dean Kratt will direct a large chorus in performance of five numbers.

As part of Oregon's participation in national music week, Dr. Kratt will participate in the Collegiate Choral festival at Portland. He will direct a 250-voice chorus, made up of representatives from Linfield college, Albany college, Marylhurst college, Pacific university, Willamette university, and University of Portland, in a performance of Gounod's motet, "Gallia."

The concert will be a joint project of the University of Portland and the Oregon Federation of Music Clubs.

University of Georgia art department drew up a check 25 feet long, by means of which university sororities made a donation to the British relief campaign.

READY FOR BATTLE PRACTICE

Flying cadets at Randolph field, Texas, line up for the take-off, preparatory to formation flying. Training at Randolph precedes more advanced work at Kelly field, Texas. Quite a number of ex-Oregon men have been promoted to Kelly.

Dr. Greenwood Will Talk Here

London Teacher To End Lectures On Faculty List

Dr. Thomas Greenwood, professor of mathematics, now on leave from the University of London, will address University students and faculty members Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in 103 Deady on the "Interpretation of Physical Theories."

Sponsored jointly by Pi Mu Epsilon, mathematics honorary, and Sigma Xi, science honor society, Dr. Greenwood's lecture will be the last in this year's faculty lecture series.

Dr. Greenwood came to this country from Birkbeck college, University of London, in June, 1939, to teach at the summer session of the University of California, and to give courses and lectures at other American universities.

Dr. Rudolf Ernst, director of the faculty lecture series, describes Dr. Greenwood as "a very entertaining lecturer. He is interested in philosophy and logic, and mathematics from that point of view. He is very well qualified to discuss science generally," he said.

Two hundred of the 670 students at Norwich university are freshmen. There will be only 52 graduating cadets in June.

Walker Writes Book on Bierce

English Professor Revives Frisco's 'Wickedest' Man

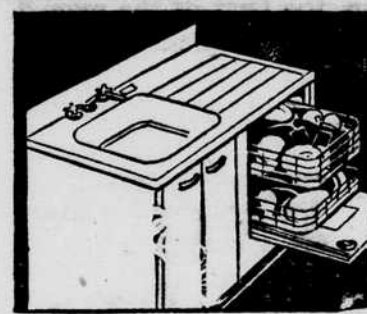

Dr. Franklin Walker, professor of English, is the author of "Ambrose Bierce: The Wickedest Man in San Francisco," just published by the Colt publishers in San Francisco.

A student of early western literature, Dr. Walker has written several books on the subject. His "San Francisco's Literary Frontier" was published early last year.

Dr. Walker describes his latest book as "a biography and study of his work on the Wasp." The Wasp was a magazine published in San Francisco in the early days.

"Ambrose Bierce" is printed on all-rag paper and is bound in linen. It contains a portrait of Bierce, and a two-page facsimile of "Prattle" from the Wasp of 1886.

Dr. Walker came to the University from San Diego State college last September.
