

Frosh to Secure Northwest Band

'Big Name' Outfit Out, Freshman Committee Says

Frosh Glee committeemen will not attempt to bring a "big name" band to Oregon May 24 for the annual frosh dance, Ted Hallock, Glee orchestra chairman, announced yesterday.

Decision to secure a northwest band came after a meeting of Freshman Class President Jim Burness, Glee Chairman Oglesby Young, and Hallock.

Hallock explained the committee's decision by pointing out that there is a shortage of "big name" bands in the Northwest this spring.

He also observed that there have already been two "big name" bands at Oregon this year—Bob Crosby for the senior ball in January, and Kay Kyser for the Sigma Delta Chi dance late in March.

"Time is short," he declared, "and we can't afford to monkey around. If we are to have a good band, we have to get it quick."

At present, committeemen are considering four northwest bands, all of which Hallock termed "good."

Possibilities of a "theme dance" are being investigated by the committeemen, with an eye to building a dance around a theme, rather than featuring a prominent orchestra.

Barnett Presents Paper to Faculty

Dr. Homer Barnett, acting head of the anthropology department, presented a paper at the monthly meeting of the social science faculty Monday night at the Faculty club.

Subject for the paper, which was based on research work done during the last several summers by Dr. Barnett, was "Personal Conflicts and Cultural Change." It concerned the effects of the meeting of the white and Indian civilizations, and the changes brought about in the Indian way of life by this meeting.

WHAT, NO FOOT WARMER?

This boy, William Coulter of New Wilmington, Pennsylvania, likes a warm bed, especially when it rains. So, straining his mentality, he uses an electric motor, pin, piece of string, two old springs, wire, and paper. The rain breaks the paper, held tight by springs. Contact starts motor, motor pulls pins, Bill sleeps on.

Webfoots Donate Over $300 to WSSF

The University's contribution to the World Student Service fund, $324.89, was sent to drive headquarters in New York Tuesday by Paul Sutley, executive secretary of the campus YMCA.

A sum not yet collected from fraternities, which raised money by dessertless dinners will be added to the total later, he stated.

Main sources of contributions were the University faculty which gave $89.20, sororities which gave $54.13 from sale of WSSF tags and $36.50 from dessertless dinners, the Rotary club with a $35.93 contribution, and fraternities which gave $26.05 gathered from tag sales.

Others contributing were University church groups, $20.63; Eugene high school, $13; Noble lecture, $11.85; campus booths, $8.75; Moritz desserts, $7.55; and miscellaneous organizations, $25.03.

Secretaries Dine

Secretaries of the campus had a dinner at the Anchorage Tuesday evening at 5:30. These meetings take place twice each month, once for luncheon and once for dinner. No business matters are discussed.

Incorporating much juicy verbiage in his comments, William J. Robert, coach of law school sports, announced Tuesday that an official challenge is being drawn.

It will be authored by the local legal lights and will be tendered to the BA school with such ceremony as befits the annual law school - BA school baseball game.

The softball game is one of the main events in connection with the lawyer's weekend, May 3 and 4. It will take place Saturday afternoon following their parade.

A committee of acceptance is also being formed in anticipation of victory. A traditional trophy is always presented the winners.

"All positions are pretty much wide open as yet," stated Coach Robert. "Everybody who turns out will have a chance to play."

Cal Calls McClain

M. F. McClain, store manager of the University Co-op, left recently for a meeting of the Western College Bookstore association in San Francisco April 21, 22, and 23. He will return the end of the week.

Representatives from college bookstores on the coast will be present and they will meet with representatives from the various merchandising companies.

Weekend Program Sponsored by UCU

Oregon's University Christian union sponsored the spring conference of the Inter-varsity Christian Fellowships at Silver Creek falls over the weekend and acted as host to six other college groups in the state.

Highlights of Saturday's program included addresses by Herbert Butt and Miss Virginia Haines, secretaries of the IVCF, and James A. Stewart, director of the European evangelistic crusade. A five-mile hike around the falls took up the whole recreation period in the afternoon.

Reports of their work were given at the banquet by group leaders from Oregon, Oregon State, Monmouth College of Education, Willamette university, Albany college, the University Medical school, and Multnomah college. A bonfire "sing-spiration" climaxed the day.

The first session on Sunday took the form of men's and women's discussions led by Mr. Butt and Miss Haines. In the outdoor amphitheater Dr. B. B. Sutcliffe of Portland gave three fitting addresses converging on the conference theme, "Christ—Our Wisdom."

Anthropology Film

A preview of motion picture films on anthropology, covering Egypt, North America, Mexico, and Sumatra will be shown at the Anthropology club meeting Thursday night. The meeting is set for 7:30 in 101 Condon and will be open to the public.
