Pete Igoe Picked To Hurl Against Vandal Nine

By TOMMY WRIGHT

Ask any one of the starting nine Webfoot baseball players who will win the Duck-Vandal game, which is to be played today on Howe field at 3 o'clock, and they will all give you the same answer.

"Webfoots in a walk."

Confidence isn't the only thing the Ducks have ready to cut loose on the Vandal diamonders.

Heavy Batters

Boasting a batting lineup second to none in the conference, those Ducks will try for the runs where they can get them, and if the week's practice showing has anything to do with it, there will be plenty of them.

Pete Igoe, with one conference win to his credit, was named yesterday by Coach Hobby Hobson to do the hurling for Oregon.

OSC Wins

With Clayton Shaw pitching shutout ball until the eighth inning, the OSC Beavers bounced the Vandals, 5 to 4, yesterday. Idaho took a 14 to 6 trouncing at the hands of Oregon State's star left-hand flinger, Glenn Elliott, Wednesday.

Besides Igoe, the remaining starters of Oregon's star-studded lineup will be: Billy Calvert catching Igoe's right-hand slants, with Charley "Zeke" Clifford scheduled to handle first base. Don Kirsch will handle the territory around the keystone sack, and Buck Berry will start at third. At short-stop, Bill Hamel draws the starting nod, with Bill Carney, Dick Whitman, and Johnny Bubalo playing the outfield.

The starting hurler for the Vandals had not been named last night, but Forrest Twogood will probably start either Dick Snyder or Dal Bechtol.

Teh-yao Wu, Chinese student at Hamilton colleges, has started a drive for funds to supply textbooks for Christian colleges in China.

UP WITH THE BIRDS

Les Steers, sensational Oregon high jumper, is set to cut a new figure Saturday in Seattle against the University of Washington. Steers will high jump, high hurdle, shot put, and throw the javelin.

Bill Hayward Takes 18 Trackmen to UW

Led by Ehle Reber, captain and broad jumper par excellence, Oregon's underdog Ducks head into forboding Washington territory via train at 12 noon today. From all reports seeping down from Seattle the Huskies plan a hostile welcome for the Webfoots in their tiff.

Upon a squad of 18 men Oregon's chances will rest. Those making the trip include: Jake Leicht and Bob Keen, sprints; Bob McKinney, Ed Reiner, Francis Tuckwiler, Boyd Lee, and Bill Scharpf, 440 and 880-yard runs; Bill Ross and Earle Russell, mile; Bill Regner, discus; Fred Foster, shot put; Bob Hendershott and Homer Thomas, pole vault; Zenos Butler, hurdles; Jim Harris and Bill Beifuss, high jump; Les Steers, high jump, hurdles, and shotput; and Reber.

Outlook Pessimistic

Bill Hayward gloomily said before embarking that "if we make 36 points we'll be lucky." Most fans believed that the Oregon mentor was being unduly cautious, making the most of the underdog role in which the Ducks have been cast.

Until Steers is absolutely ready he will not try for the high jump record, which he has smashed unofficially on several occasions. With the hurdles and shotput now added to his work day, the Oregon kangaroo will be content merely to win in that event, Hayward revealed.

Washington took the meet last year by a count of 77 to 54.

UO Netmen Shade Idaho

The barnstorming University of Oregon varsity tennis team yesterday oozed past the racqueteers from Idaho, 5 to 2, at Moscow. This was the first game for the Oregon netmen. Tomorrow the Webfoots travel to Pullman for a joust with the Washington State Cougars.

Relay Event Canceled

The University of Oregon frosh mile relay team unpacked their duffel bags last night when Frosh Coach Ned Johns received word that the Oregon State rooks would be unable to enter the Bend relays, and it was deemed wise to leave the frosh home, too.

The frosh and the rooks were scheduled to run in a mile relay exhibition in the eastern Oregon relay event.

In the meantime the genial Johns is running his frosh cinder men through workouts in preparation for the invasion of the Salem Vikings. The Salem prep-pers are scheduled for a Tuesday encounter, on the Hayward track.

No official word has been received on the strength of the Salem lads but to go on past performances they will be strong. The Salem squad is consistently one of the best prep teams in the state.

Coach Johns also revealed that between the next encounter with the Oregon State rooks, he and his team will take a trip to meet outside competition. He is now working on plans for this jaunt. The second clash with the rooks is scheduled for May 10.

Kappa Sigs Win in I-M Softball With 4-Run Rally

By ART LITCHMAN

Four runs in the sixth inning by the Kappa Sig sluggers wiped out a one-run Canard club lead and won the game for the "beef trust," 7 to 4. Sigma Chi, Phi Delt, and Delt teams also romped home winners.

Canard scored one tally in each of the first two innings to capture an early lead. The Kappa Sigs tallied three times in the last half of the second to gain the advantage for a short time. Canard pushed another run across in the third to tie, and went into the lead with their last run in the fifth. Then the bombarding bats began to bark.

Paul Jackson coasted to an easy, 9 to 5, win over the Sammies. Seven runs in the second inning sent Jackson back to the mound with a comfortable margin to work on. The Sammies scored a run in the first but the lead was wiped out by two Phi Delt tallies in the last of the first. A three-run rally by the Sammies in the last inning fell short.

Ragged defensive play by the Sherry Ross nine enabled the Sigma Chis to capture the game, 11 to 4. Frank Lockwood, Sigma Chi hurler, had a shutout until the last inning, when a belated four-run outburst spoiled the whitewashing.

Poor base running by Alpha hall in the last inning helped the Deltas to win a close game, 4 to 3. Alpha had the bases full with the tying run on third base when an over-ambitious runner attempted to steal second base which was already occupied. The hallmen were in the midst of a promising rally at the time the blunder occurred.

OSC Downs Idaho, 5-4

The league leading Oregon State Beavers climbed a step higher on the Northern division baseball ladder, when they dumped the Idaho Vandals, 5 to 4, in Corvallis.

Clayton Shaw, Beaver hurler, pitched masterful shutout ball until the final two innings when the Vandals hopped onto his pitches to score all four runs.

This win gives the Beavers a win-loss average of .750 with three wins and one loss.
