

Oregon Batters Blast Idaho

Duck Tracks

By JOHNNY KAHANANUI

More "feelers" will snake out this afternoon, when Oregon matches strides with Washington on the Huskies' cinderpath up in Seattle. Both Webfoots and Huskies will be gauging the others' strength. Surveying the entire situation will be Colonel Bill Hayward of the invading Ducks and Hec Edmundson, Husky chief, as they map a "battle plan" for the big Northern division roundup in Seattle May 17.

Before the first gun barks on May 17, prognosticators will have locked heads in a huddle and smoked out the decision. Regardless of what they stagger up with, we'll saw the limb off between us and the trunk and slap the crown on the whiskers of Jack Wierhauser's Washington State Cougars, the same one they galloped off with last year.

Oregon Favored 1, 2, 3 in High Jump

In Today's Duck-Husky dual, Oregon will make will make its bid in the field events, while the Seattle lads should trample on top in the running jousts. Les Steers, Bill Beifus, and Jim Harris—Harris climbed over 6 feet 4 inches in the Oregon relays last Saturday—should make it 1, 2, and 3 for the Ducks in the high jump.

Captain Ehle Reber and Jones of Washington will probably stir up a whing-ding dual in the broadjump. Reber sailed 21 feet 7 inches against Portland university earlier in the season, while Jones drove into the sand a shade behind Jim Jurkovitch's 22 feet 9 inches when the California Bears bested the Huskies in Seattle about a month ago.

McKinney Should Capture Half-Mile Contest

Webfoot Bob McKinney is good enough for our money in the half-mile. Colonel Bill's sophomore flash washed out Kerm Storli's Hayward field record with a 2:00.2 effort, this on a sloppy day as a brisk wind whisked rain pellets across the track.

Oregon's Jake Leicht hiked up to the Husky house with the Webfoot squad to bolster up the sprint situation, but will probably encounter some slushy sledding in Smith of Washington. Against California Edmundson's protege reeled off :22.2 in the 220. Leicht reputedly has clicked off :09.7 in the 100 and a squeak over 22 in the 220.

New Backboards

Those who snatched a quick look-see at an Army-Navy basketball via the newsreels sometime back and saw the hoopmen popping away at a flower-shaped backboard. Next year the transparent glass boards in the Igloo may be hauled down in favor of the ungainly usurper, for basketball's rules committee recently recommended that these backboards be universally used with intentions of their becoming official in the near future. Fourteen hours of harranguing were required to shove the decision through. Along with these flower-shaped backboards comes a molded ball to displace all laced ones.

Ducks Invited to Take Fourth Eastern Tour

Hobby has been given the green light, and everything appears clear for the Webfoots to trot onto the Madison Square garden floor next winter to herald the opening of basketball in the tremendous Gotham arena. The University of Oregon athletic board's favorable decision makes it four years in a row that the Webfoots show on the garden floor.

This tour assured, the Ducks have only to say the word and they'll bob back to the Hawaiian islands in the spring of 1944 for a hoop series there. Coach Hobby Hobson and the Webfoots made such a hit in the islands on their sojourn there this year that Graduate Athletic Manager Theodore (Pump) Searle of the University of Hawaii has extended them another invitation.

Six more days of spring football practice and the Ducks will pull off their togs for this term. Inscrutable Tex Oliver, Webfoot mentor, only grinned when asked of the possibilities for the coming season. However, from observation and propaganda leaking out of Hayward stadium, we glean that Oregon should have its most successful year since Oliver grabbed ahold of the reins in 1937.

Ducks Roll Up 16-5 Victory

By TOMMY WRIGHT

Bill Carney (he paid me to put his name first) slapped out a double for Oregon's twenty-second hit, and scooted Tony Crish home from third base for the sixteenth and last run, as the Webfoots trounced, trampled, and walked on, Idaho's hapless Vandals, 16 to 5, on Howe field yesterday.

Pete Igoe, hurling for the Webfoots, wavered only in the seventh inning, when the Vandals scored three times. He allowed only seven well-scattered hits, and struck out ten.

Oregon's power hitting Webfoots tangle again today at 3 o'clock on Howe field with the Idaho Vandals.

Nick Begleries is slated to pitch for the Ducks, with either Jenkins or Snyder doing the tossing for Twogood's crew.

Carney had a field day at the plate, blasting out four hits in five trips up, driving in four runs. Captain Dick Whitman and Johnny Bubalo each collected three hits in five trips. In fact every one of the Webfoots got one or more hits with the exception of Pete Igoe, the lone Duck to go hitless. Billy Calvert and Tony Crish drove out triples.

Vandals Wilt

Caccia, leadoff man for Idaho, greeted Igoe in the opening of the first with a sharp single through Hamel, but the Idahoans couldn't punch across a run until the third.

Don Kirsch started things off with a bang for the Webfoots with a line single to left, and nine men came to the plate before Dal Bechtol, starting Vandal pitcher, could get the side out. Whitman, up behind Kirsch, slapped a single through shortstop sending Kirsch to second. Clifford hit a long fly ball to center. Then Berry connected for a double down the third base line sending both baserunners across to tally. Berry took third on the pitcher's balk and scored seconds later when Bubalo banged out a one-base hit to center. Carney walked, putting Bubalo on second. They advanced on Calvert's ground ball to short and scampered home on Hamel's single to center.

In the second frame Kirsch again led off, reaching second on Caccia's two-base error. He took third on the second balk by Bechtol, and tallied on Berry's long fly to left.

Idaho Tallies

Idaho scored their first run in the third after Caccia had singled and Clifford booted the second of his collegiate career.

The Ducks picked up another score in the third inning, when Calvert hit a triple and Hamel connected for a single to right.

Idaho came back with another score in the fourth on a pair of singles and a base on balls, but the Ducks countered with one lone run the same inning on an error, a passed ball, and Carney's double along the third base line, after Lloyd had taken the mound for Idaho.

Ducks Bang Away

The Webfoots kept up the attack on Lloyd, picking up one run in the sixth, two in the seventh, and five in the eighth. Igoe faltered in the seventh allowing two walks, hitting a batter, and one double by Reed. Three runs were scored in that frame, but that was all for the Vandals, for Igoe retired the next seven men in order.

Big Otis "Rook" Hilton took the mound for Idaho in the eighth and added still more spice to the encounter with his clown conduct and crewball antics.

The pairings for the inter-house singles and interhouse doubles will be announced in Tuesday's Emerald.

Freshmen Tracksters Eye Salem

While most of the Oregon campus is basking in the sun, acquiring a golden glow, the University of Oregon frosh track team is slaying in the sun in hopes of acquiring a golden glow on times, and distances in track events.

The frosh have a date with the Salem high school Vikings for Tuesday on Hayward field, and plenty of stiff competition is expected from the Salem preppers. Salem usually has one of the finest prep teams in the state.

Coach Ned Johns said that plans are now going ahead for his frosh cinder men to take a trip between now and May 10—the date for a second set-to with the Oregon State Rooks.

Several men have turned in very creditable performances for the frosh during workouts. One of the strongest events of the frosh runners is the high jump where both Bob Newland and Phil Jackson are clearing 6 feet. In the discus they have long-throwing freshman, Bill Deller, who heaved the spear 140 feet in the Eugene, University high meet.

Top point getter was "Happy" Day, hurdler, who took firsts in both high and low hurdles, and a third in the broad-jump. Veryl Alexander, sprinter, and Stan Ray, 440 man have both turned in good times in their events considering weather conditions. Pole-vaulter Rod Munro has been getting good height in his event as has Morrie Riback in the discus. 880-man Sawyer is looking good in his grind.
