

Sing to Begin Campus Fete

Women's Quad Set As Site for Talent Display by Houses

Junior Weekend a la Arabian Nights will start with a "bang" Thursday night at an all-campus sing in the women's quadrangle, Bob Deverall, assistant general chairman, announced last night.

The sing will feature participation by every house on the campus, Deverall revealed, and will start with a snowball rally led by the University band.

More than a singing program will be in store for the all-campus turnout. A talent show, with Joe Gurley as master of ceremonies, has also been planned.

Program for the talent show will include the ATO quintet, the Gamma Phi Beta trio, impersonations by Charles Weisberg, magic acts by Ed Zaminski, and the climax, a debate between John Cavanagh and Gurley.

Songs which will be sung are "Mighty Oregon," "The Pledge Song," "As I Sit and Dream at Evening," a coast conference medley, and "Oregon Fight Song."

Members of the various houses will be "picked up" by the band, Les Anderson, rally chairman, announced, and parade on the way to the sing. Students were advised to bring blankets on which to sit.

Weekend Paper Offered at Co-op

One thousand additional sheets of Junior Weekend stationery will be placed in the Co-op store today for free distribution to students who call for it, Pat Perry, chairman in charge, announced last night.

Comments approving the stationery and praising its attractiveness have been received from as far east as New York, Miss Perry revealed. She stated that the additional copies will be the last available.

Army Calls Crissy

Lt. Col. John W. Crissy, recently called to active duty at Fort Lewis, left the campus May 1 for service with the regulars.

The military science staff of seven will be maintained with the addition of Sgt. Ralph C. Burke, who will work in the clerical department. Sergeant Burke formerly served with the 17th bombardment division at McChord field. He also served an enlistment in Hawaii.

Ex-Comm Vote

(Continued from page one) be allowed to vote for class representatives. That is to say, a sophomore, for example, could vote for representatives from all three classes.

He said that no one would be eligible for nomination from the floor unless he had filed his intention to run or a petition signed by 50 students with Cavanagh, together with a certificate of eligibility from the dean of men or the dean of women. He stressed the importance of filing this evidence of eligibility with him, allowing sufficient time for checking of grades in the registrar's office before the nominating assembly today.

The ASUO constitution and by-laws provide that candidates for positions on the executive committee have earned at least a 2-point during the previous term for at least 12 hours of work.

All candidates will be elected preferentially, he said.

YW Will Distribute Co-Edition Friday

The annual four-page YW Co-Edition will be distributed through members of the YWCA Friday of this week.

Edited by Corrine Wigness, sophomore in journalism, this year's edition will feature YW news covering the entire year. Special features will be the Junior-Senior breakfast which took place May 4, and the Seabeck convention on Puget sound which will take place in June.

According to staff members the page makeup will differ from that of previous years.

Members of the staff are Editor Corrine Wigness, and advertising manager, Marilyn Marshall. Mildred Wilson, Ann Carr, Marjorie Major, and Jo Ann Supple were reporters. Assistants to the advertising manager were Jean Gallo, Marilyn Miller, and Ruth Rodda.

Prom Ticket Sale To Begin in Igloo

Tickets for the Junior Prom will be placed on sale today at the educational activities office in McArthur court for the price of $1 each, Jack Saltzman, dance chairman, announced last night.

A limit of 800 has been placed on tickets which will be sold, Saltzman revealed, as he announced also a special 25-cent reduction for all third-year men and women with class cards.

Dr. Heizer Leads Indian Research

Research work on the Indians of the Willamette valley is being carried on by Dr. Robert Heizer, anthropology instructor, and Billie Crawford and Dick Kahn, advanced anthropology students. Private collections of Indian relics have been inspected, and several trips have been made to the territory around Shedd to dig for materials. A paper will eventually be written on their findings.

Infirmary Doors Swing Open Today

The general ban on visiting hours at the student health service has been lifted, effective today, it was announced Monday. Although there are still a few cases of measles and occasional other cases in isolation who may not be visited, "the general situation has improved," it was said, "to the extent that it seems wise to permit visiting."

Regular hours at the health service are 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m.

Junior Women To Pick Today

Coed Honorary To Draw 29 Sophs At ASUO Meeting

Twenty-nine of the most outstanding "activity girls" of Oregon's sophomore class this morning will be pledged to Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's honorary, at their annual ASUO nominating assembly pledging ceremony. The all-school meeting is scheduled for 11 o'clock in Gerlinger.

The junior women's honorary, whose official uniform is the navy blue skirt, yellow sweater, and black and white felt emblem, is primarily concerned with orientation of freshman girls and bringing independent women into closer union with campus affairs.

"All sophomore women on the campus are requested to attend the nominating assembly this morning," Miss Steed announced last night, "in order that the eligible candidates may be pledged."

Retiring Phi Thetas who finish their year of activity today include Jean Burt, Bobsie Roehm, Bette Morfitt, Janet Morris, Maxine Hansen, Billie Christensen, Helen Angell, Mary Kay Riordan, Kathleen Brady, Pauline Pengra, Hope Hughes, Gerry Walker, Bette Workman, Eleanor Sederstrom, Betty Plankington, Rebecca Anderson, Pat Salisbury, Jo Bullis, Nisma Banta, Lois Nordling, Phyllis Sanders, Pat Lawson, Michi Yasuit, Mary Peck, Carol Cook, and Lindi Anderson.

The University of Kentucky is offering a five-week course in billiards for coeds.

KORE to Present Student Forum

Bob Macdonald will be lead-off man for tonight's weekly Student Forum of the Air, heard at 9:15 o'clock over radio station KORE.

The initial solution to the problem of how we should improve our relations with South America will be advanced by Macdonald. Students of the argumentation and persuasion class will examine and compare their ideas with the plan as presented.

John Busterud will act as moderator for this program, which is the eighteenth in the series, produced under the direction of Mr. Marvin A. Krenk.

During the half-hour program, two class members, Lillian Davis and Les Endicott, will conduct a telephone poll to determine the size of the listening audience.

Four Profs Read Papers at Meeting

Four University professors presented papers at the annual meeting of the Oregon Psychological association which met Saturday on the Linfield college campus.

Dr. H. R. Taylor, head of the psychology department; Dr. A. H. Moore, professor of psychology; and Dr. L. S. Bee, assistant professor of sociology, were the faculty members who presented papers.

Directories of Catholic university graduates living in every metropolitan center of the country are being compiled by the university's national alumni office.

Alpha Delta Pi sorority will celebrate its nintieth anniversary at its convention July 27-July 1 at Hot Springs, Va.

WAA Initiation Postponed

Because of pre-Junior Weekend activities it will be impossible to hold the WAA initiation this evening at 7 o'clock. However, all girls who have received invitations are invited to come next Tuesday at 7 o'clock to alumni hall.

Research Project Draws Webfoots To Klamath Falls

Dr. Robert Heizer and Carl Huffaker of the anthropology department were in Klamath Falls last Thursday and Friday to photograph and write a report on a collection of archeological materials from Northwestern Nevada, owned and collected by Frank A. Payne of Klamath Falls.

They also collected peat profiles from lower Klamath lake to be studied by Dr. H. P. Hanson of Oregon State college in reconstructing a climatic history of the region by the identification of different types of pollen grains at various levels. This study will be used in helping to date certain archaeological sites which were excavated last summer by Dr. L. S. Cressmaon of the anthropology department.

SIDE PATTERN
Pat Taylor

So this is spring term at the U! ... Fap! ...

For pitty-witty sakes, when's the sun gonna come out!! ... Things have been cookin', just the same ... Jeez, yes ... Mary Jane Norcross, Alpha Chi, ups an marries Bill Moore, Kappa Sigma.

... Dorothy Bates, Kappa alum, announces her engagement to George Sweiger, Phi Delt ditto. ... Pearl Buckler takes a Kappa Sig pin ... and guess what! ... even if the sun isn't out, the College Side strawberry sundaes are ...

The guy who put the "William Tell Overture" short for the Hi-Ho Silver song deserves to have the Lone Ranger after him. ... Some wag, no doubt. ... Sigma Kappa's Mary Mercier, is a cuate, if we've seen one. ... John Wood is undoubtedly the finest lad on the campus ... quote John Wood. ... Jack Levy, SAE flyin' feller, comes back to the U after graduation from the air corps. ... Peter Mitchell, who is doing the same, writes that the first three weeks he didn't know what the planes were for. ... Gosh, this marble board is getting to be a menace ... you never see fellows gathered around a gel the way they gather around it. ... In fact, you never see a fellow around a gal any more. ... Be gorry, it's enough to break you all up. ... Between the army and the marble boards, things are comin' to a pretty pass! See you on the late marble board.

Our Birthday Sale Continues

In response to many requests we have decided to continue our festival of bargains for a few days more.

You Will Find Outstanding Values

in—

- BOOKS
- SOCIAL STATIONERY
- CANVAS BINDERS
- NOTE-BOOK FILLERS
- TYPING PAPER
- TENNIS RACKETS
- PENNANTS, JEWELRY

The Prices Will Surprise You

University 'CO-OP'

A Great Show!

"Bad Man"

with WALLACE BEERY
LIONEL BARFYMORE
LARAINÉ DAY

— plus —

'A Shot in the Dark'
Starring William Lundigan

FRED'S CAMPUS SHOP

Men's Haberdashery
by
Wilson Brothers
Across from Sigma Chi
Cleaning Ph. 3141