

In the Editor's Mail

To Mr. Lyle Nelson, Editor:
No. 1

In far Sudan an ostrich stood,
He faced a German drive,
Beneath the sand he stuck his head,
And then, of course—he died.

A copperhead's a charming chap
In social ways and talk,
But at his pacifistic pap
I will simply balk

If war, for him, stays "over there"
And far, far from our shore,
For us it's waste to now prepare
To fight a "foreign" war.

Yet earth is quite a close knit ring
Of nation, trade and creed;
And war is not a "foreign" thing
To any man or breed.

"They" fight a war in little Greece,
Food prices rise at home;
So any war destroys true peace,
No matter where you roam.

In isolation hear, and hand,
Exist in me apart,
Yet, hand and I can neither stand
Diseases of the heart.

Deny, deny, all that you will,
And seek your peace alone,
But keep in mind and heart and will—
The ostrich fights alone.

An humble contribution in doggerel, representing a rather common viewpoint in America today. (Specifically to my friend, Ridgeley Cummings.)

Sincerely,
—Bruce B. Hammond.

Three Shows Will Climax Movie Series

Afternoon, Night Films to Show In Chapman Today

Climaxing the current series of film revivals, three movies will be shown students this afternoon and evening in the theatre room (207) of Chapman hall, at four different times. "All Quiet on the Western Front," "The Jazz Singer" and "Steamboat Willie" will be featured movies.

Produced as late as 1930, "All Quiet on the Western Front" has gained the reputation of being one of the greatest of all war

Times for today's movies are: 2, 4:20, 6:45, and 9 o'clock. All students will be admitted free upon presentation of their activities cards.

pictures. Shocking and horrifying audiences when it first appeared 10 years ago, many of the scenes are still as stirring as they were then.

In reality only an excerpt of the original 10-reel film, "The Jazz Singer" is an unusual mixture of silent film and dialogue. In this picture Al Jolson sings for the first time his immortal "Mammy" the song which sounded the death-knell of the silent film.

Rounding out the last program, is the Mickey Mouse cartoon "Steamboat Willie" the first Disney cartoon to be publicly released. Still a little toughie, Mickey never said much but was perfectly eloquent.

All the six programs presented during the last term, by the educational activities board, were part of a film collection gathered by the Museum of Modern Art in New York City.

Sawkins to Arrive For Military Check

The University military science department will be inspected today and Thursday by Lt. Col. Alfred E. Sawkins of the second reserve area.

First-year advanced students will appear in uniform today and Colonel Sawkins will inspect their year's training. Thursday's 9 and 10 o'clock classes will appear in uniform for a similar inspection.

The regular regimental drill will be carried on as usual, and a parade will be given in Colonel Sawkins' honor. After reviewing the troops and inspecting the military plant, the visiting officer will classify the unit with the others in this area. In past years, Oregon has won a rating of excellent.

Colonel Sawkins visited Oregon State last week for a similar check up.

Students May File 'Talents' For Rally Use

Emerald Coupon Used to Determine Available Ability

By merely clipping the talent file coupon printed in today's Emerald, filling it out, and depositing the signed coupon in a box to be found in the Co-op store, any University student may have his name included in the new talent file of the activities office, announced Anita Simons, program manager.

Listing all entertainment qualifications, such as singing, dancing, magic, and allied subjects, the file will be open to all campus groups in need of performers as well as by people arranging rally programs, assemblies, or special events.

The committee directly in charge of the new file program, according to Miss Simons, is Edward Zelinsky, chairman, assisted by Babs DuPuy and Anita Galton.

T. M. Holt to Speak

T. M. Holt, graduate assistant in the business ad school, will tell of recent developments in the world of business on the last half of the business hour program on KOAC tonight at 7:30.

Winer to Go South

Ben Winer, graduate assistant in the psychology department, has accepted a summer position with the Cooperative Test service which constructs examinations on subject matter for various courses. Mr. Winer also has a scholarship and part-time teaching position at Stanford for next year.

UCU Elects Five

University Christian Union executive committee for next year was chosen Monday preceding a meeting of the weekly discussion group. Members are: Ralph Eichenberger, president; Arny Garnett, vice-president; Verna Pederson, secretary; Jack McDaniel, treasurer; Howard Campbell, evangelistic secretary.

FOR A TOP GRADE, GIRLS, I ADVISE YOU ALL TO GET A GLO-RNZ...

College coeds the country over are not stumped when quizzed on hair beauty. They know GLO-RNZ is the answer to dull, streaked, faded and colorless hair. No wonder GLO-RNZ is the fastest selling hair tint rinse on the beauty market... it cleans, softens and highlights the hair all at one time. Make your hair easier to wave, easier to manage—next time, ask for a GLO-RNZ.

Libe to Continue Special Displays During Weekend

Many of the exhibits which were on special display for Library day will be held over for Junior Weekend in order that the mothers may view them.

Miss Florence Rise, circulation librarian, announced Monday that the two first-prize winning student libraries, the Skiff collection of war medals, the Mrs. Walter Church fine bindings, the books purchased from the Villard fund, and the selections from Eugene writers will remain in the circulation lobby.

Browsing room exhibits and those in the Oregon collection room on the third floor will also remain unchanged.

The Philadelphia Academy of Science recently named a plant "Azalea Bakerae" in honor of Dr. W. B. Baker, professor of biology at Emory university, whose research identified it.
