It will be quite a "coming out" party today for Wilbur Bishop and his staff of Oregana workers. The yearbooks will be distributed throughout the day at the educational activities office. Previews of the annual maintain that Editor Bishop's story in words and pictures is told better than ever before.

Fresh from the Press Oregana Out Today

Music Will Fill 'Arabian Night'

Weather Changes All-Campus Sing To Igloo Tonight

Oregon will officially move into the realm of Junior Weekend tonight when men and women in every living organization turn out for an "All-Campus Sing" in McArthur court.

The event was originally scheduled for the women's quadrangle but Bob Deverell, assistant general chairman, announced the change of location last night after looking at another day of rainy skies.

"Wet weather will not dampen the spirit of the occasion," Deverell declared. "Les Anderson will direct a snowball rally starting at 7:30. If it rains we will send cars to pick up students at their houses."

All organizations will participate in this opening event, Deverell revealed. Songs will be led by the University band and a series of acts will provide variety for the evening program.

A change in the program was announced last night. The Pi Phi trio will sing in place of the Gamma Phi Beta trio. Joe Gurley will be master of ceremonies.

NOTICE

All girls who are able to make sandwiches for the campus luncheon please report to Gerlinger hall at 7:30 tonight.

The brand-new Oregana is out today.

Edited by Wilbur Bishop, with Dick Williams at the post of business manager, this Oregana will be ready for students in the main court of McArthur court any time after 8 o'clock this morning.

In regards to the physical make-up of this edition of the yearbook Williams announced, "This is the first time in the history of the Oregana that the dust jacket will bear exactly the same four-color photograph which appears on the cover of the book."

Although the dust jackets arrived from the printer too late to be put on the books, they will be ready for distribution tomorrow. Williams remarked that several students who had seen the jackets were planning to frame them.

"It will facilitate greatly the distribution of the books if students will come for them either today or Friday morning, since we have enough books here from the printers to fill all orders," Williams requested.

There will be absolutely no distribution after Friday noon until next Monday, Williams declared.

All house presidents are asked to pick up their complimentary house copy Thursday so they will not have to be held over the weekend.

Registered Men Will Hear Plan At Meet Tonight

Defense Assembly To Begin at 7:30 In Music Building

A plan by which many students may serve national defense while continuing their educational work will be explained to Oregon men registered under the draft at an assembly at 7:30 tonight in the music auditorium.

The special meeting was announced Tuesday by Dr. Earl Pallett, registrar, and will give definite answer to the question, "What University students should do when confronted with a draft call."

The American Council on Education and national draft leaders have worked out a plan which would help college students who have a definite goal in their educational work.

According to Dr. Pallett, bulle-

All the campus is a twitter. With the thoughts of this election, But I think the politicians Could stand a little close inspection.

The system has me muddled. The present setup can't be true. Where scholars must perform The way a bloc head tells them to.

Polls Open at 8 In 'YM' Building

Educational Activities Cards Necessary For Voting; Students Will Name Ten To Executive Committee Positions

By BOB FRAZIER

University students vote today in all-campus elections to climax what old-timers have called "the most hectic campaign in recent years."

Political factions were pulling themselves together again last night after realignment by last-minute changes in candidacies.

Bets were laid on the outcome of the elections; some bets were called off by sharp changes in the political picture.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the YMCA hut.

Educational activities cards will be punched for identification purposes, it was understood last night.

This year for the first time, ten persons will be elected to seats on the executive committee, as a result of a constitutional amendment passed overwhelmingly last Thursday by popular vote.

Besides the "big four" on the committee, two members will be elected from next year's sophomore, junior, and senior classes.

Candidates for "big four" positions are Bob Calkins, Jim Frost, Bette Morfitt, Janet Morris, Jean Spearow, and Lou Torgeson.

Candidates for senior positions on the committee are Becky Anderson, Buck Buchwach, Bob Lovell, and Mary Kay Riordan.

Candidates for junior positions are John Busterud, Janet Farnham, Johnny Kahananui, Jake Risley, and Steven Worth.

Candidates for sophomore positions are Roger Dick, Chuck Woodruff, and Oglesby Young.

Helen McKeen, previously nominated for a sophomore position, has withdrawn her petition.

All candidates will be voted for under a preferential voting system.

Classes to Hold Elections Today

Freshmen to Vote On Constitution To Cut Out Cards

Besides voting for class officers at elections today, two of the four classes voting will be confronted with other measures.

Members of the "official" class of 1944 will vote on a new constitution which would eliminate class cards as voting requisites.

This year's junior classmen will vote to determine "who is a sophomore and who is a junior." Present regulations provide that members of the junior class be holders of junior certificates. The new ruling would open class membership to persons who have been in school six terms.

Juniors will also vote on the 10-cent class card question.

Only one set of nominees is running for office in the "official" class of 1944. They are: president, Barry Campbell; vice-president, Marge Curtis; secretary, Pat Sutton; treasurer, Len Barde.

Members of the Class of 1943 also nominated only one set of candidates. They are: president, Pat Cloud; vice-president, Frances Cox; secretary, Mary Ellen Smith; treasurer, Spencer Weills.

There is only one set of nominees for office in the Class of 1942. They are: president, Bob Chorney; vice-president, Pat Lawson; secretary, Dorothy Jean Johnson; treasurer, Mack Hand.

Only holders of class cards may vote in these elections.

Persons whose names will be on the ballot for positions on the council of the Majority Class of 1944 were not revealed last night.

Popular Demand Returns "All Quiet"

After turning away more than 100 persons, officials of the educational activities board last night announced that two additional showings of "All Quiet on the Western Front" will be scheduled today in Chapman hall.

First showing will be at 3 p.m., and if necessary to handle the overflow, another will be given at 5 p.m. The program includes Al Jolson's "Mammy," the first Mickey Mouse cartoon released, and the stark "All Quiet on the Western Front."

This is the last of the current series of educational activities movies.

Tickets Available

There will be a limited number of $1 Junior Prom tickets available for juniors today. Today is absolutely the last day for juniors to get tickets at the 25-cent reduction.

Preferential Rules Given

Mark your choices with numbers only. (Do not use X marks).

Put the figure (1) in the square opposite the name of your first candidate.

Put the figure (2) opposite the name of your second choice, the figure (3) opposite the name of your third choice, the figure (4) opposite the name of your fourth choice, and so on until the whole number of names have been marked in the order of your preference. You may express as many choices as you please.

Do not put the same number opposite more than one name.

If you tear or deface or wrongly mark the ballot, return it and obtain another one.

You cannot injure the chances of those you prefer by marking lower choices for others. The more choices you express, the surer you are to make your ballot count for one of them, but do not feel obliged to express more choices than you really have.
