A CROWN FOR THE QUEEN

MORNING NOON AND NIGHT

Arabia to Reign Supreme

Six Events Start Festive Second Day of Junior Weekend this morning, beginning with the painting of the "O" on Skinner's butte.

Freshmen were urged to "bring all cars" to Villard hall at 7:45 this morning. From there they will parade through campus and town to Skinner's butte where they will paint the "O."

Following "O" painting, they will parade back to the campus for their "pushball contest" with the sophomores in Hayward field.

All sophomores should be at the field by 9 a.m. Morris Jackson and Hersh Patton, representing the Order of the "O," are in charge of "O" painting. Duke Iverson, Val Culwell, and Floyd Rhea will officiate at the frosh-soph pushball game.

Both these events are sponsored by the Order of the "O."

University mothers meet at 9:45 a.m. in Johnson hall.

Ten o'clock will see a baseball game between the Oregon frosh and the Oregon State rooks on Howe field.

The morning will close with guest luncheons in campus living organizations at 12:30.

Bug Victims Were Restless Friday as They tried blackmail, threatened arson, and pulled a lay-down strike in an unsuccessful attempt to "break out" for the junior weekend celebration.

After a futile try at intimidating the doctors, nurses were offered everything from a private de luxe streamline-convertible-combination thermometer-pulse counter to the roommates' worn-out house slippers—all to no avail. Oh well, THEY won't have a hangover.

Perpetrators of the unavailing attempt were: Kathryn Jenkins, Elizabeth Hunson, Judy Sherman, James Kurtz, and Jean Strickland; better known as "the foiled five."

Six Pledges Were announced Friday by the dean of the men's office. They include the following: Jake Leicht, Stockton, California, Alpha Tau Omega; Patrick Wood, Eugene, Theta Chi; Edward Crane, The Dalles, Sigma Nu; Ed Denniston, Eugene, Chi Psi; Charles Taylor, Colfax, California, Sigma Phi Epsilon; and Don Richardson, St. Helens, Kappa Sigma.

Arabian Princess

I did not drivel off a verse
On the story of the fete,
And I think I have my reasons
Which I herewith will state.

For wherever I may roam
O'er land or sea or foam
I will never find a word so hard
As Scheherezade to try to work into a pome.

—J.W.S.

Queen Annabelle I smiles demurely as Cullen Murphy, Junior Weekend prime minister, places the diadem of authority on her head. Coronation ceremonies climaxed Friday's campus luncheon. Sharing the stage were Princesses Helen Angell, Jean Burt, Barbara Neu, and Barbara Todd.

ASUO Vote Rescheduled To Come Next Tuesday

register in Johnson hall almost 500 strong yesterday morning and afternoon.

Ernie Williams, student in charge of registration, reported that the classes were running a close race in numbers of mothers present and that the final decision could not be reached till official registration ends at 3 o'clock in the marble first floor hall of the administration building.

Mothers who appear later on the campus are asked, for the sake of the records, to register at the living organization of their sons or daughters.

It was decided at the first mothers' meeting of the weekend of the officers and board of directors in Gerlinger hall yesterday afternoon, to set up a new memorial fund in connection with their loan fund. It will be called the Mrs. A. C. Greenwood fund in honor of the past president of the organization.

Money in this fund will be dedicated to the memories of persons who die in the organization. This memorial will take the place of the usual flowers sent to funerals by the mothers' group, stated floats will drift down the millrace this evening to climax the packed-full day of Junior Weekend events. Opening with music by the University orchestra, the queen, Annabelle Dow, and her court of four princesses will take their places on the dias and the story of the One Thousand and One Nights will be unfolded.

Performing during intermission will be Bill Bishop, professional magician and former worker with Thurston. Bishop is a freshman in the University.

Starting off the afternoon will be an open air dance to be held at 1:30 on the terrace of the library. Ray Dickson's orchestra will provide the music. At the dance the Abandoned Bedouins (boy friends of the weekend queen and princesses) will reclaim their girls in readiness for the canoe fete.

At the same time will be held a horse show at the fair grounds and at 2 o'clock mothers will be taken on a tour of the campus by their sons and daughters.

During the afternoon Les Steers, Oregon's champion high jumper, will probably draw a record-breaking track crowd as he tries for a new world record.

At 4 o'clock outside the music building will be held the Sunlight Serenade, a singing program with outstanding student talent performing. Jack Boone and Eleanor Sederstrom are in charge of the serenade.

Speeches by several of the Mother's Day committee will be given at the mothers' banquet to be given at 5 p.m. Phyllis Sanders is chairman of the banquet.

After the canoe fete mothers and daughters will return to the women's living organizations and men will take their mothers to any of the women's living organizations. They will be serenaded there by five of the fraternity houses of the campus. Further information on the Moonlight Serenade will be found on page 2.

Honor Trio Picks New Members

during the colorful campus luncheon festivities Friday.

Friars, senior men's organization, tapped Buck Buchwach, Martin Schedler, Jack Saltzman, Lou Torgeson, Jim Frost, Jim Carney, Wilbur Bishop, and Professor George S. Turnbull of the journalism school as an honorary member.

Roses emblematic of acceptance by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, went to Helen Angell, Elizabeth Steed, Pauline Pengra, Hope Hughes, Bette Morfitt, Billie Christensen, Lois Nordling, and Assistant German Professor Astrid Williams as an honorary member.

Gerlinger, Koyle Awards Go to Morfitt, Lovell

at the Junior Prom. The cups are presented annually to the junior woman and man judged most outstanding. Bette succeeds Grace Irvin and Bob follows Lyle Nelson.

Judges for the Gerlinger award were Barbara Stalleup Warner, president of Mortar Board; Betty Buchanan, AWS president; Miss Mary Perkins of the English department; Mrs. Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women; Mrs. Frank Chambers of Eugene; and Miss Irvin.

Koyle cup judges included Virgil Earl, dean of men; Anse Cornell, athletic manager; Jesse Bond, professor of business administration; Calvin Crumbaker, professor of economics; and W. A.

Dahlberg associate professor of speech.

Bette Morfitt

Pretty, blonde Miss Morfitt is "gracious and democratic" in the opinion of judges; she finds time for more activities than famed Ali Baba, and his cohorts rolled into one.

She acts as campus social chairman and is a member of the AWS council; she is now running for a post on the executive committee. Affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, she is or has been a member of Kwama, Phi Theta Upsilon, 41 club, Oregon business staff, Pi Delta Phi, and Sigma Delta Pi.
