Duck Powerhouse Dunks Portland 6-5

Jack Shaw, rotund University of Portland right hander, slowed down the rolling attack of Coach Howard "Hobby" Hobson's Webfoot baseball team yesterday, but the ball cracking Ducks slapped out hits when they were needed for a 6 to 5 Howe field win.

Captain Dick Whitman and Johnny Bubalo took care of most of Oregon's runs, getting five of Oregon's 10-hit bombardment.

The Ducks tallied first in the opening inning. Whitman doubled to left after two were out, and Johnny Bubalo sent him home on a single through shortstop into left field. Again in the third, Whitman batting number two for the inning hit a long triple against the right-center field fence, and scored on Bubalo's home run over the left field bank.

Bubalo wasn't confining his work entirely to offense, however, for the lanky right fielder took over the pitching assignment against the Pilots and held the Rose city squad to two runs for seven innings. He retired in favor of a relief hurler in the eighth. Portland picked up their first score in the fourth inning on an error, a single, and a long fly to right field. They found the offerings of Bubalo for a single and a double in the seventh for another score.

Rieder hurled the eighth frame for the Webfoots and held the Pilots scoreless. They came back in the ninth rapping Pete Igoe for four singles and picking up three runs. The bases were loaded when Igoe struck out Drath to end the inning.

Oregon scored twice in the fourth on Hamel's infield single, an error and Burn's sharp single to right. Whitman leading off for Oregon in the seventh tripled to right and scored on the shortstop's wild throw to the plate, for the final Webfoot score.

4 to 2, Oh Me! Frosh Lose

Rook Hurler Stops Duckling Batters; Oxman's Hit Futile

Bewildering slants served up by Rook Pitcher Dick Johnson proved too much for the frosh batters Friday as the Oregon State yearling nine grabbed a close 4 to 2 win from the Ducklings.

Johnson scattered six hits well over the nine innings, and with the aid of eight strikeouts, was never in serious trouble. Bill Gissberg hurled nice ball for the frosh but a shaky first inning which netted the rooks two runs put the Duckling twirler behind. Gissberg allowed seven hits and set down four batters by strikeouts.

Oxman Homers

Bob Farrow was the only frosh batter who seemed to solve Johnson's pitching successfully as he got two hits. Tom Oxman blasted one of Johnson's offerings for a homer in the eighth. Joe Kato, rook outfielder led the Oregon State boys with two doubles.

The rooks grabbed the lead in the first inning when they bunched two singles and a walk to fill the bases and then shoved two runs across on Kato's first double. The frosh tallied their first in the fifth. Martini singled, George Sertic was safe when he forced Martini at second. Sertic went to third on infield outs and then scored on Pete Peterson's single.

Rooks Ice Game

The rooks got two more in the eighth on a single, a fielder's choice and two errors. Oxman's homer in the eighth was the final counter for the frosh.

Summary:

Frosh	000	001	010—2 6 3
Rooks	200	000	10x—4 7 2

After-Breakfast Events List Push-ball Contest

No flags on "hello" walk! Neckties outmoded! White shoes banned! Sabotage!

Calves may come and cows may go but the bull goes on forever when a Junior Weekend specialty like the frosh-soph tug of war gets black-balled.

To replace pro and conning by two lower-class groups that have previously pulled ropes back and forth on the banks of the mill-race, the weekend committee has arranged to hold a push-ball contest at 9 o'clock this morning on the field below McArthur court.

Elliot Wilson announced that two teams would compete.

Decree Hits Oregon For Alleged Breach Of Proselyting Rule

Boe, Casper, Sheridan, Olson, Gissberg, Gianelli Declared Ineligible in Charge OSC, Washington, Stanford, WSC Hit Also

INS Teletype Dispatch to Eugene Daily News, SF, May 9—Six University of Oregon athletes were banned from further competition on Webfoot teams, when Commissioner Edwin N. Atherton tonight charged five colleges with recruiting and subsidizing athletes in violation of the conference's anti-proselyting rule.

Ineligible athletes include Ingvard "Inky" Boe (football), Milwaukie; Laurence Casper (football), Blaine, Washington; Bartholomew Gianelli (football), Everett Washington; William Gissberg (basketball-baseball), Everett, Washington; Laurence "Larry" Olson (football-baseball), San Francisco; and Robert "Bob" Sheridan (baseball-basketball), Portland.

University officials had no comment to make tonight on Commissioner Atherton's ruling. The athletic board will meet at 8 o'clock this morning in McArthur court to discuss the commissioner's charge.

Other schools in the Pacific coast conference affected by Atherton's decree include the University of Washington, Oregon State college, Stanford, and Washington State.

"The penalty provided is that the schools are deprived of the athletic competition of the boys involved," Atherton stated. "Investigation has disclosed violations of these rules, in some instances by staff members, but more generally by alumni.

"On the other hand," declared the commissioner, "should any of these students, who are now enrolled at a conference school, desire to transfer to another school, they may make application, through the commissioner, for waiver of the transfer penalty." A total of 23 students now enrolled as freshmen in coast universities were affected. Stanford, in addition to being accused of subsidizing eight first-year men, also was charged with subjecting 13 members of all All-star Oklahoma and Texas high school teams to "an organized campaign to affect their enrollment."

Wimpy Quinn Goes to Cubs

J. Wellington "Wimpy" Quinn took the big leap up into major league baseball Friday when he was sold to the Chicago Cubs as a pitcher. The step into the big time ball for the ex-Oregon ball player partly fulfills a prophecy made earlier this year by Jimmie Wilson, manager of the Cubs, when he stated that Quinn could be changed from a first baseman to a chucker and be pitching satisfactory class A ball with two weeks work under the watchful eyes of the Cub manager.

Hobby Hobson also made the statement when he had Quinn on the Oregon squad that the ball hawk had the stuff for big league ball.

Wilson, who handled the Cincinnati hurlers in the World Series last year, is well known for his work with pitchers. Among his proteges are Kirby Higby, Johny Vander Meer, and Junior Thompson.

Webfoots Slap Bearcats Over ECC Golf Course

The University of Oregon varsity golfers scored a convincing victory over the divot diggers from Willamette university yesterday at the Eugene country club. Oregon won by a score of 18 to 0.

Medalist for the winning Ducks was Dick Hanen, runner-up in the Washington State junior playoffs and ex-Oregon junior champ, with a neat 73.

Summary:
Doubles — Hanen and Duden, O, beat Reynolds and Fariola, W, 3 and 0; Golden and Engelke, O, beat Beardsley and LaValta, W, 3 and 0.
Singles — Hanen, O, beat Reynolds, W, 3 and 0; Golden, O, beat Beardsley, W, 3 and 0; Duden, O, beat Fariola, W, 3 and 0; Engelke, O, beat La Valta, W, 3 and 0.

A 'Hung' Jury Forced 'Judge' Orlando Hollis to school moot trial a mistrial. The eight-woman, four-man jury was unable to reach a decision after 45 minutes deliberation.

The case, an action for deceit brought by Jack Dunn against Jack Hay, was based on injuries to the reputation and character of the plaintiff by reason of alleged false statements which led to his arrest.

Lawyers for the plaintiff, Wendell Wyatt and Don Richardson, asked for $5000 punitive damages and $68.65 actual damages. Floyd Hamilton and Dave Rementeria acted as counsel for the defendant.

Witnesses called for the plaintiff were Jack Dunn, Elmo Wickers, and Dick Bryson.
