Netmen Tip Linfield, 6-1; Tinpants Win

Oregon dropped the No. 1 doubles match, but then swept all five singles duels and copped the No. 2 doubles after three drawn-out sets to trounce Linfield college at Linfield yesterday 6 matches to 1.

On the University courts the day before, Coach Paul Washke's Duckling tennis team smashed Eugene high school, 7 matches to 0, keeping unspotted its ledger for this season, which shows an earlier 4 to 3 win over Oregon State's rooks.

Tall Wally Borrevik Hurt in Auto Crash

By WALLY HUNTER

Elongated Wally Borrevik, the tallest of Oregon's tall fir basketball team, was seriously injured in an automobile accident Saturday night at 7 o'clock, at Reedsport, Oregon.

Sophomore Borrevik was thrown from his car when it was struck as he pulled away from a stop street. He suffered a fractured skull, a brain concussion, and blood vessels were ruptured in the right side of his head, when he struck against large boulders that were part of the fill at the side of the road.

Don Baldrige, a fellow Sigma Chi, was in Marshfield at Borrevik's hospital last Sunday, and reported that nothing could be decided about his chances of recovery. He wasn't yet in good enough condition to be x-rayed, but doctors were sure of their diagnosis of his injuries.

Condition Unsettled

Further official word is expected on Borrevik's condition by Baldrige sometime this morning.

Said Baldrige, "It wasn't until late Sunday that they gave him a chance." Baldrige also revealed that Borrevik's condition would improve and then he would suffer relapses, so that things are in the uncertain stages.

Lanky Wally was one of the outstanding sophomore players last season. He made the circuit east to play the bright light teams there but failed to make the Hawaiian islands trip when the ineligibility axe clipped him just before the jaunt.

Les Steers to Jump In L.A. Track Meet

Les Steers is scheduled to make his highest and longest jump into the stratosphere to date, Thursday. It will not be competition in the high jump pit, but rather an airplane hop from Portland to Los Angeles for Steers who participates Saturday in the first annual Coliseum relays. At 9:40 a.m. the Oregon star will leave Portland, accompanied by his durable coach, the venerable Bill Hayward.

Up to now Leapin' Les has held no serious opposition, seizing firsts with monotonous regularity. Saturday should be a different matter. Three nationally-known aces will be out to contradict Steers' supremacy among the high-jump elite. Picture such an array as Johnny Wilson, Southern California flash; Bill Stewart, Southern California Athletic association; H. G. Boydston, Oklahoma A. & M.; and Steers all in one pit.

Steers Sets Mark

Monday, Hayward's springing sophomore provided a lone rosy glow to an otherwise drab picture when Steers set a new northern division record, while Oregon's team was placing a disappointing fourth. Washington State, perennial champion, captured their ninth consecutive flag on their Pullman lot, with 48 2-5 points. Washington came second with 33 1-5, Idaho third with 30 2-5, Oregon fourth with 26 1-10, Oregon State fifth with 16 2-5, and Montana sixth with 10 1/2.
