Donut Sports Gets New Deal

A new streamlined intramural sports program, replacing the unwieldy one used last year, will be in effect for the 1941-42 season. The list of 14 sports has been narrowed down to nine major ones, three per term.

Fall term, touch football and volleyball, both "A" and "B" divisions, will be on the intramural menu. Basketball, "A" and "B," and handball are listed for winter term, while in the spring swimming, softball and Sigma Delta Psi have been retained.

A tabulation of the 1940-41 intramural activity reveals Alpha Tau Omega as the top point collector, with Phi Delta Theta a scant distance behind. The ATOs compiled a total of 1126 points to 1067 for the Phi Deltas. Beta Theta Pi came third with 970 and Kappa Sigma fourth, having 956.

The ATO title was the second won by that house since the present intramural set-up was started in 1931. The Betas and the Phi Deltas have both annexed three titles during the past years while the Yeomen have grabbed the remaining two championships.

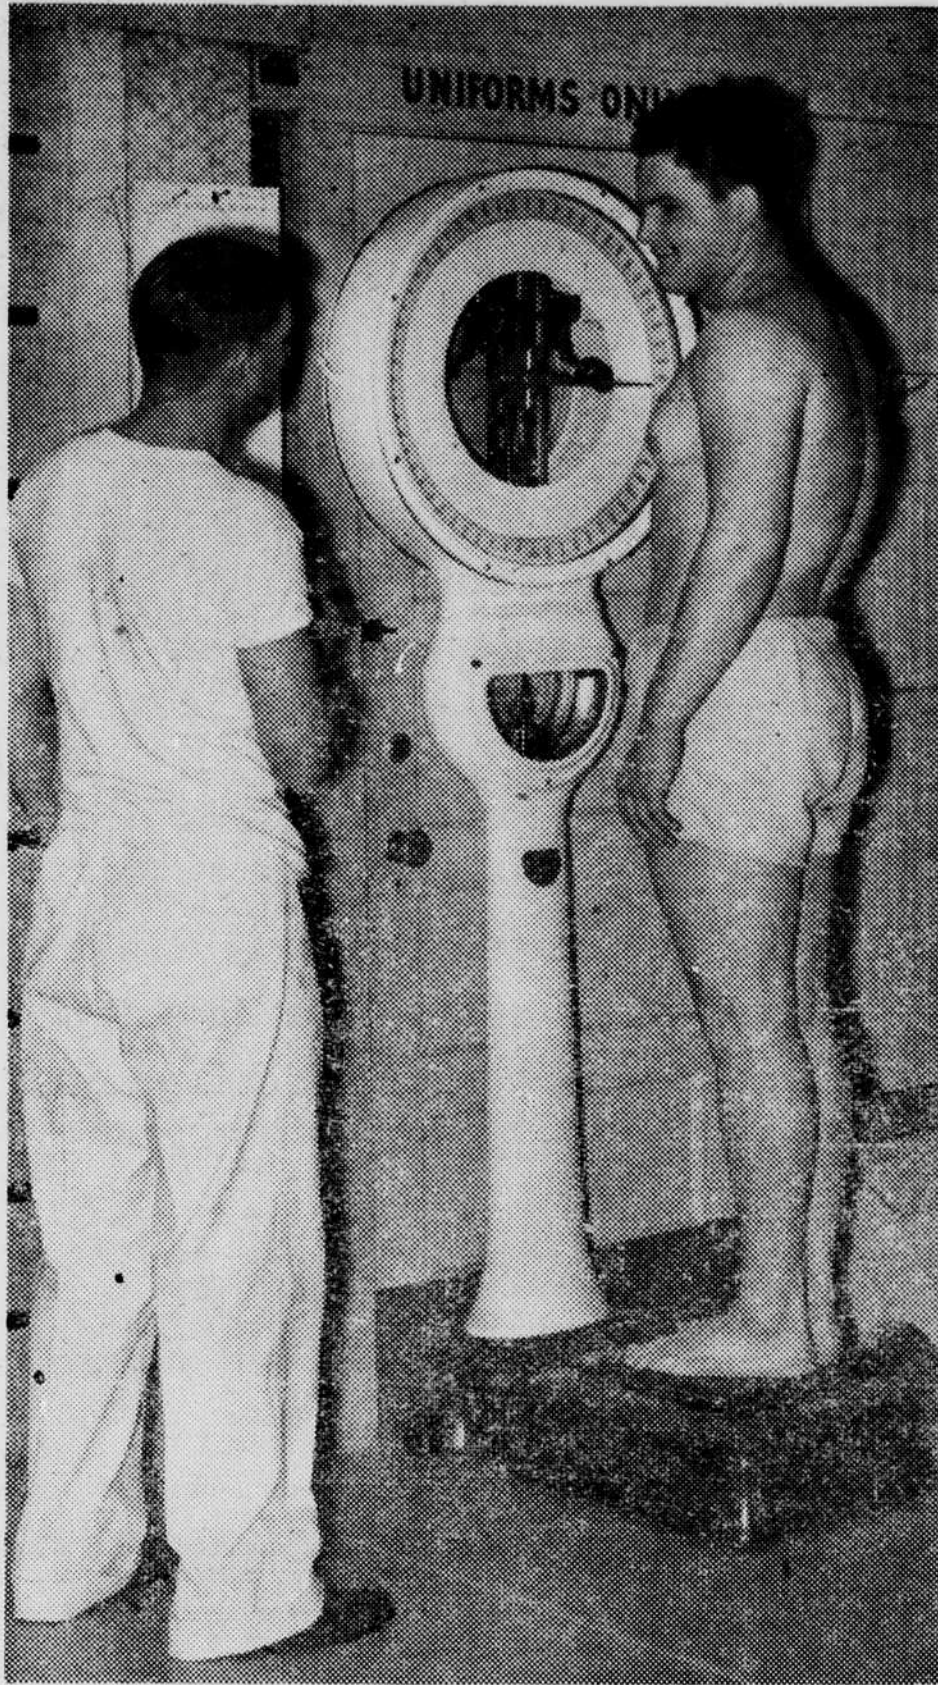

Foundation for a majority of the ATO points was their numerous firsts. They claimed titles in tennis, "A" volleyball, wrestling, ping pong, and Sigma Delta Psi.

The Phi Deltas pulled down three championships in touch football, "B" volleyball, and swimming. Kappa Sigma copped a pair of wins in "A" basketball and water polo. Single winners were the Awful Awfuls in "B" basketball, Sherry Ross in handball, and Delta Upsilon in softball.

Tex Oliver Remains Silent; No Grid Travelers Named

By JOHNNIE KAHANANUI

Oregon's football team comes out of hiding this evening long enough to board the train for Palo Alto, where it runs up against Stanford Model "T" in the Indians' stadium at 2:15 Saturday afternoon.

As the Emerald went to press late last night, the Webfoots' traveling squad had not been named.

Rolling south with the Greenwave from Eugene will be Head Coach Gerald "Tex" Oliver, Line

Coaches Vaughn Corley and "Mannie" Vezie, and Backfield Coach Lieutenant Mike Mikulak. What Oliver will throw against Stanford Coach Clark Shaughnessy's Indians outside of the regulation number of players on the field at one time is a matter of speculation. Oregon's grid general has had a standing "no trespassing" order in effect around Hayward field whenever his charges were kicking up the turf there in rehearsals for the Stanford foray.

Co-ordination of a veteran line and a "half-ripe" but lightning backfield may take the spark out of the Stanford "T." All 6 feet 5 inches and 230-some-odd pounds of Elliott Wilson will probably be the hub of Oregon's starting line. Flanking him will be Ray Segale and either Steve Bodner or a rejuvenated Val Culwell. Old hands Ed Moshofsky and Dick Ashcom return for another season in the tackle berths, with All-Coast candidate Bill Regner and Jim Shephard to take care of the wing positions.

In the quarterback harness stripped off last year by Chet Haliski is Duke Iverson, an understudy last season, who has been groomed for heavy-duty blocking, a job quarterbacks inherit under the Oliver system. There'll be a ding-dong battle for starting halfback positions, with Kenny Oliphant, Frankie Boyd, Curt Meham, Tommy Roblin the chief contestants. Jimmy Newquist, who graduated from frosh ranks just this year, appears to have the edge at fullback over

Bob Koch, purged from Stanford by an Atherton decree last spring.

Hymie Harris, clever veteran Webfoot wingman, joined the ranks of those definitely out of the Oregon grid lineup for the season. In the naval reserve and on duty in Chicago, Harris was refused a request for a leave of inactive duty.
