Ab Wilson Nearly Chose Oregon State---Whew!

Think of it, Elliott Wilson nearly went to Oregon State. Now that you've wiped away that cold sweat here's the dope. When Wilson chose Oregon as the state to go to school, he picked the Aggie school as his Alma Mater. He stopped briefly on the Oregon campus, Smokey Whitfield, former colored actor and then boxer of Oregon intercepted him, Elliott went up and talked with Warren and came to Oregon.

A rangy lad of some 220 pounds, Wilson has had a somewhat spectacular athletic career since his rescue from Oregon State. His freshman year he was first string center on the football team and center on the basketball team.

His athletic endeavors don't stop here however, as the husky also tossed the javelin and discus when in high school.

His basketball and track may be forgotten but his football playing in the Stanford game will go on for a while in many memories. Few were the plays that he didn't get his hands on, and fewer yet that he did get his hands on and didn't stop.

Wilson hails originally from the dust bowl area, Nebraska. Many say it's All-Coast for him this year, and it won't take many more games like last Saturday to make it.

HE'S COMIN'

"Wild Bill" Regner, Oregon right wingman. Regner was acting captain against Stanford last Saturday. "Wild Bill" is slated to aid in stopping Idaho razzle-dazzle antic Friday.

Faculty Club Meets Start at Erb's Home

Another University tradition fell this week as the faculty club took over the president's home for their gatherings. Future faculty club meetings will be held there and a faculty luncheon in honor of Clarence Streit, visiting "Union Now" leader, will be given there October 13.

The building, situated near Johnson hall on the new campus, was originally built and occupied by Professor Collier, who was for a time acting president and a member of the faculty for many years. Later, around 1893, the house was bought by the University and became the home of all succeeding presidents from President Charles N. Chapman to the present time, except for President C. Valentine Boyer who owned his own home here and did not choose to occupy the traditional residence. During this time it was occupied by Chancellor William Jasper Kerr.

Radio Group Will Plan Year's Work Monday

Lambda Lambda Nu, national honorary radio fraternity, will meet Monday to organize its activities for the coming school year. All members are urged to attend this first meeting in order to start the year "on cue."

Membership in the radio honorary is gained through attendance at the meetings and the vote of the present members of the guild. Radio experience and an above average grade point are also necessary requirements.

The purpose of Lambda Lambda Nu is to foster directorial and dramatic skill in radio productions. The other chapters over the United States have been instrumental in qualifying persons for profitable positions in the professional fields of radio.

President Donald M. Erb has moved to the new home, purchased by the University, at 2315 McMorrin Drive on Fairmount Heights.

Ruffing Sinks Dodgers, 3-1; Gordon Shines

Big Red Ruffing's superb pitching and the timely slugging of Oregon's Joe Gordon and Bill Dickey gave the New York Yankees a 3 to 2 victory over the fighting Brooklyn Dodgers in the opening game of the 1941 world series.

Ruffing's victory was his sixth in world series competition and ties the record for wins held by his team mate, Lefty Gomez.

A packed Yankee stadium watched the power of the New Yorkers sink the underdog Flatbushers. Joe Gordon's homer in the second after two were out gave the Yanks a lead they never relinquished. Bill Dickey's 400-foot double off the center field wall drove in Charlie Keller after two were out in the fourth.

Reese Slugs

Pee Wee Reese, with a puny .228 batting average, led the Dodgers with three hits. He singled in the fifth for the Dodgers first hit of the game and scored on Mickey Owen's triple to left-center.

The Dodgers threatened in the sixth when Ruffing gave up two walks, but the next two Lippy Leo's boys tallied their final run in the seventh on an error and two singles.

Two double plays by the airtight Yankee infield snuffed out promising Flatbush uprisings. In the sixth the Dodgers had one run across the platter and runners were on first and second when Pinch-hitter Jim Wasdell fouled out to Red Rolfe. Reese tried to advance from second and was out Rolfe to Rizzuto. With two men on and only one out in the ninth, Herman Franks hit sharply to Gordon. Joe whipped the ball to Rizzuto and the relay to Sturm nipped the runned to end the ball game.
