Petitions Given To Exec-Comm For Vacancies

Four petitions for each executive committee vacancy were turned in to ASUO President Lou Torgeson by 5 p.m. yesterday.

Persons petitioning for the second vice-president's spot, left vacant when Jim Frost succeeded Bob Calkins are: Ken Christianson, Milton Small, Jean Spearow, and Glenn Williams.

Persons applying for the sophomore position, left vacant when Chuck Woodruff did not return are: Leonard Barde, Phil Hunt, Bill Moshofsky, and Dick Shelton.

The executive committee will probably meet early next week, Torgeson said, to begin a series of interviews with petitioning students. Petitioners for Homecoming chairman, however, will probably be interviewed before the executive committee applicants, Torgeson said, because of the urgency of filling the Homecoming position.

Bob Calkins, now in the army, was elected first vice-president of the ASUO in May. Jim Frost, elected as second vice-president, succeeded him, following last Friday's meeting of the executive committee.

Chuck Woodruff, now working in Los Angeles and attending UCLA, was elected as one of the two sophomores representatives on the committee, following a vote of the student body and authorizing two committee representatives from each of the three returning classes. The other sophomore representative is Oglesby Young.

To conduct the long series of interviews that Torgeson said would be necessary before new officers could be determined, he predicted a long meeting, adjourning each afternoon to the following afternoon.

Guess They Don't Know Their Bunions

From Hendricks hall to Zeta Tau And back to Susan Campbell This year's Bunion Derby list is surely in a scramble

From TriDelts to the Highland house

With no ten-minute rest. From Tri-Delts to the Highland And back is 'bout the best.

I don't know who the blighter was

That made the trip so far, But I bet the guy that wrote this list

Has got himself a car.—J.W.S.

The annual trek to the photographer's studio to pose for Oregon pictures will begin Monday, October 6, when Alpha Chi Omega is scheduled to visit Kennell-Ellis, 961 Willamette street.

Alpha Phi will follow on Tuesday, and Chi Omega on Wednesday.

Derby Schedule Changed; Marathon Starts at 7 p.m.

By MARJORIE MAJOR

Tonight coeds and men will meet and mingle briefly at the annual fall term open house. Starting at 7 o'clock this year's bunion derby will be over by 11:50.

A change in the previously-published schedule has been made necessary by the changed addresses of several houses. As is customary, ten-minute intervals are allowed between groups of houses.

Each men's living organization will visit first the house which is opposite its own on the schedule and will continue to call on the women's houses in the order named. They are referred to the top of the list when they have reached the bottom.

Ten minute stops are provided for at each house plus the stipulated ten-minute periods. Yeomen invite all independent men to join them at 6:45 in Gerlinger to make the rounds. The corrected schedule may be found on page eight.

Gridiron Shower Postpones Contest

Rain that refused to go away forced postponement of a proposed drum major and majorette contest between halves of the Oregon-Idaho football game last night.

Competition will now take place Wednesday at a mass rally to send the team on a trip south, Les Anderson, rally squad leader, announced.

Packed student grandstands caught a brief glimpse of women contenders as they strutted across the field in a short "performance." The five entrants included Mary Anderson, Doris Gardner, Jeanne Gill, Betty Koster, Lorraine Mason, and Helen Marie Skjersaa.

Two of the group will be chosen permanent majorettes for the football season along with one of two men tryouts, Dick Shelton and Elwood Rickman.

The first Three o'Clock club meeting of the new year was held last night.

Roblin Shines As Oregon Wins Home Opener

By JOHNNY KAHANANUI,

A spectacular offensive burst in the opening minutes of play, supplemented by spasmodic spurts in the second and final quarters, gave Oregon's 1941 grid team a 21 to 7 victory over Idaho during the Ducks' first home appearance in Hayward stadium last night. An uninterrupted downpour kept the turf drenched during the entire contest, as 5,500 spectators huddled beneath sweaters and raincoats on the stadium's protected bleachers, a way from the rain and chill.

Tommy Roblin, Oregon left halfback, set the Webfoots up for their initial score with a magnificent 62-yard gallop to the Vandal 11. With the game hardly on its way, Idaho halfback Howard Manson booted to Roblin who rushed back 15 yards to the Duck 27-yard line.

Roblin Races

On the first play Roblin grabbed the ball from center, faked a reverse, pounded through a huge gap in the left side of the Vandal line, veered toward the western sidelines, and streaked along the white chalk mark until overhauled after a frantic diagonal chase by the Idaho secondary and dumped out of bounds on the invaders' 11-yard line by Dale Clark, Idaho halfback.

Duck right halfback Curt Mechem slashed off left tackle for two. Bill Dunlap, Oregon fullback, punctured center for one, but Idaho was off-side on the play, and the ball advanced five yards to the four. Idaho, desperate and over-anxious, was docked for another off-side and the ball edged inside the two. Roblin then climaxed the splurge with a smash over right guard into pay dirt. Jim Newquist, Duck sophomore fullback, pranced on to the field to convert, sticking Oregon out in front 7 to 0.

Ducks Tally

Oliver's Webfoots chalked another score up after 3 minutes 30 seconds of the second quarter had elapsed. Poised on his own goal line, Pete Hecomovich, Idaho quarterback, kicked one out to Roblin, who raced back 17 yards to the Vandal 30. Roblin then skirted Idaho's left end to be cut down on the 13, but Oregon was offside, and the ball retreated to the invaders' 35.

Mechem then slid out to the Webfoots' right flank. Oregon shifted right and the ball shot back to Roblin. Roblin launched what appeared to be a wide

Advice Asked on Frosh Nominations

An advisory opinion on nomination proceedings at Thursday night's freshman class meeting will be asked from the ASUO judiciary committee, Lou Torgeson, ASUO president revealed last night.

Torgeson said he felt it would be wiser to clear up doubtful legal points before elections were held, than to wait until class affairs were taking shape and risking possible nullification by the committee if a petition for a hearing should be submitted to it.

The petition asking for the advisory opinion will probably be introduced to the judiciary committee today, and an effort will be made to have a decision on the validity of Thursday nominations for freshman offices before Tuesday.

Disagreement

Principal bone of contention in the nominations squabble is the requirement, published in Thursday's Emerald, that all nominees present to Torgeson a declaration of intention to run and a certification of scholastic eligibility from the office of the dean of men or dean of women.

Nominations of persons who had not done this were not honored at the Thursday assembly.

Giesecke

Chief individual concerned in the squabble is Fritz Giesecke. He was nominated Thursday night, but had left the meeting before his nomination. No declaration of intention to run or certification of eligibility was filed with Torgeson, so it was understood among the freshmen that his petition was not honored. Later, however, Giesecke announced that he had mailed Torgeson the necessary credentials. His case will also be reviewed by the judiciary group.

Several other individuals, and groups on the campus had planned to submit protests, questioning the legality of Thursday proceedings of the committee.

Photo Deadline Nears

Entering students will be given a last chance to have their photographs taken for registration files on Tuesday, October 7, between the hours of 1 and 5 p.m. in room 2, Johnson hall. This record is absolutely essential, says Dean Onthank's office, and must be made before registration is complete. For information call the dean of personnel's office.
