

SDX to Select 'Perfect Type'

Oregon's "perfect type," as selected by the University of Oregon chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national men's journalistic fraternity, will be announced Friday night, the chapter decided Tuesday at a special meeting.

The contest to select the queen of the Oregon campus, the acme of royalty on every women's organization which boasts a queen, will close Thursday night at 6:30 p.m. Names of bonafide queens must be turned in to Buck Buchwach, president of the local Sigma Delta Chi.

The winner will be the guest of honor at a banquet honoring Jay Allen, noted European newspaper correspondent, Friday night. All candidates will be at the banquet, with the winning queen to be announced early in the evening.

In addition to selecting their "perfect type," Sigma Delta Chi has invited the members of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, and all members of the journalism faculty to the banquet at which Allen will give an informal talk.

The banquet will also be the scene of the introduction of four new pledges selected at the Tuesday meeting. They are Dewey Ray, Francis Tuckwiler, Lynn Johnson, and Charles Boice.

YWCA Reps Elect Year's Officers

Freshman representatives from every women's living organization on the campus elected Gerd Hanson president of the YWCA freshman commission Tuesday afternoon. Betty Kincaid was elected president of the sophomore commission.

Betty McFadden was named freshman vice-president; Sue Stater, secretary; and Ardis Jensen, treasurer.

Elected sophomore officers were Elizabeth Hecht, vice-president; Phyllis Collier, secretary; and Jane Alice Pengra, treasurer.

Uniform Rush Over; Soldiers Get Suited

Last Thursday a few ROTC students appeared on the drill ground without proper uniform because of the rush in the supply room. The situation has been remedied, Colonel R. M. Lyon, head of the University military department, announced and all lower division men will be fully equipped for Thursday's drill.

Juniors are being measured for their uniforms and their new tailor-made garments will arrive soon, Colonel Lyon said.

In addition to the basic infantry training which started last week, part of the regiment will drill with rifles Thursday. Seniors will be in charge of companies and platoons and juniors will serve as sergeants, according to Colonel Lyon.

'YW' Cabinet Lists Two Conferences

Members of the YW cabinet decided to sponsor a doughnut sale during the weekend of Halloween and discussed two YWCA regional conferences which will be held during October and November at their regular meeting Tuesday.

The Rock Creek conference will be held October 24 and 25 and representatives from the Northwest, Idaho, British Columbia, Montana, Oregon, and Washington YW's will attend. Another conference for YW's in the Oregon area will probably be held on the Linfield campus.

Barbara Hampson, national representative, reviewed an article, "We Psychology," from the Good Housekeeping magazine. She interspersed her readings with humorous remarks.

Michi Yasui, religion chairman, was in charge of the devotionals and as a part of them gave a short character sketch of Toyohiko Kagawa, outstanding Christian leader of the Orient. Kagawa is author of the book, "Behold the Man," and gave a copy of it to Miss Yasui's father this summer.

Oliver Field Leaves For Washington Post

According to Mrs. Lourane Reynolds of the special collection department there has been a change in the library reserve staff. Oliver Field, head of the open field department for four years, has left to take a position in Washington, D. C.

Beverly Caverhill, who was first assistant in first book room, is now in charge of open book reference. Mrs. June Jossey is taking Mr. Caverhill's place in reserve book room. Also a number of new students have been added to the staff this year.

WAA to Meet Frosh at Tea

Freshmen and new students will receive the welcome of the WAA at a Thursday afternoon tea in the alumni hall of Gerlinger.

Presentation of a program will begin at 4:15, with refreshments to be served after.

The reception line will include Dean Hazel P. Schwering, Assistant Dean of Women Alice B. Macduff, Miss Janet Smith, Elizabeth DeCou, Mrs. Donald M. Erb, and Mrs. Frederick M. Hunter.

Lois Nordling, Hope Hughes, Elizabeth Steed, Ruth Hall, Marge Dibble, Rhoda Harkson, Nancy Reisch, Billie Christenson, Helen Angell, Wini Green, Bette Morfitt, Miss Warrine Eastburn, and Mrs. Corrine Nelson, will be introduced.

Future Nurses Hear Medical Professor

Miss Ruth Wheelock, associate professor of nursing education at the medical school in Portland, will speak to the backgrounds of nursing class Wednesday afternoon in the men's lounge at Gerlinger hall.

The hall will be informal and refreshments will be served.

Print Reproductions Displayed at Library

Four rare reproductions of fine prints are now on display in the circulation department of the library. The prints are part of a group purchased by the school of architecture and allied arts with a $5000 grant from the Carnegie Foundation. The work of both modern and important older painters is represented by the canvases.

Those now showing are: Walchensee by Louise Corinth; Flower-piece by Paula Morderson Becher; The Boy Blue by Pablo Picasso; and The Nile at Assuan by Max Slevogt.

White Lies

There are a awful lot of people on this campus who would like to know just when exactly Thanksgiving vacation is around this state . . . When is Homecoming?

Is Oregon State going to play our homecoming game? As I see it we play Oregon State Thanksgiving vacation, and that way nobody gets the turkey. Governor Sprague is in a muddle, Chancellor Hunter is at a loss for an explanation, and Franklin D is behind the eight ball again. It's a cinch that nobody would relish the thought of sticking around here all Thanksgiving vacation . . . although it looks like the way that it'll turn out. The only solution to the whole thing is to have Senator Wheeler isolate all the turkeys, and then we wouldn't have Thanksgiving at all.
