

Lettermen Say Traditions Due To Rule Again

Long-forgotten University "traditions" will be enforced again this year by members of the Order of the "O" in the week before Homecoming, members decided Wednesday noon at their first meeting of the year.

Traditions were enforced last year, and persons caught violating them were summoned to the law school steps and "hacked" for their impudence. Among punishable acts last year were smoking on the old campus, walking on the Oregon seal in front of Villard, and wearing the wrong "class pants." Freshmen were required to wear rooters' lids all week.

"We really hope to make this a big week," Jim Rathbun, president of the Order, said Wednesday. "After last year's experiment which turned out so successfully, I feel sure we can put it over."

Gerald Huestis was appointed chairman of the Order of the "O" alumni banquet, set for November 29. Bill Carney was elected vice-president of the organization, and Hank Anderson was elected secretary.

Members initiated John Buhalo, Henry Burns, Nick Begleries, Bill Hammel, Bill Beifuss, Homer Thomas, and Bob McKinney.

Radio to Spur Debate League

In order to introduce and promote the High School Debate league a series of weekly broadcasts will be given over KOAC each Wednesday from 3 to 3:30 p.m.

The broadcasts will consist of talks on the various phases of the debate question by professors of the speech department.

This year's schedule follows: October 1, Professor Marvin Krenk explained the function of the debate league; October 8, Research on the Debate Question, Professor Kirt E. Montgomery; October 15, Organizing the Debate Case, Professor W. A. Dahlberg; October 22, Discussion and Debate, Professor John Casteel.

Professor Krenk is in charge of the league. The subject for this year's debate is "Should Oregon Adopt the Sales Tax."

Employment Problems Fail to Stump Dr. Breen

Professor Quirinus Breen, assistant professor of social science and history, has been experiencing non-employment problems.

Before fall term opened Professor Breen had four graduate students to assist him. National emergencies and government priorities intervened, however, and Williams Clemes was claimed by the farm security administration program; Keith Rinehart was transferred to the University of California at Berkeley for educational work, and Freeman Holmer's services were requested by the government at Salem.

The opening day of school was approaching, and Professor Breen was left with only one assistant. After some difficulty, he succeeded in securing three other assistants: Daniel Koch, 1941 cum laude graduate student of Albany college; John Cavanagh, past Oregon student body vice-president, and Maxwell Morris.

National defense may not be up to the anticipated results, but Professor Breen has at least done his part.

Rifle Class Startled By Falling Building

Captain Harvey Blythe's women's rifle class shuddered with apprehension as the ominous creak of rending timbers filled the ROTC target range and one of the beams supporting the roof split.

The girls, unable to keep firing, could only huddle in mute terror as the roof of the barracks settled a full three inches.

While the aged and rickety building is still intact, it is very probable that the roof may continue to settle and assume the sort of skyline made famous by swaybacked horses.

Colonel R. M. Lyon, head of the military science department, said that the cause of the accident has not been determined. There are rumors of sabotage, however, as well as the possibility that some feminine marksman may have sent a stray bullet into the timber unknowingly.

Dean Jewell to Speak At Teacher Meetings

J. R. Jewell, dean of the school of education, will be a visiting speaker at Washington and Idaho meetings of the State Teachers associations the week of October 20.

Dean Jewell will speak on "The Teachers' Critical Responsibility." In this talk he will stress the importance of the development of an appreciation for the things learned. Second topic he will discuss will be "Revolt Against Civilization."

He will address the Washington meetings in Yakima October 20, and in Seattle October 22. He will speak in Idaho at Boise October 24, and at Twin Falls October 25.

WAA Sponsors Freshman Tea

Freshmen and new girls will have their chance to meet outstanding women on the campus at a tea sponsored by the Women's Athletic association in the alumni hall in Gerlinger today.

A skit entitled "W.A.A. in Later Life" will be presented by Robin Nelson at 4:15 o'clock, after which refreshments will be served.

Chairmen of the committees assisting Barbara Hampson, who is in charge, are: Helen Holden, decorations; Frances McCarty and Mary Jane Terry, refreshments; Barbara Lee Jacobs, invitations; Marge Dibble, reception; Mary Ellen Smith, publicity; Elsie Brownell, clean-up.

The receiving line will include Dean of Women Hazel P. Schwering, Assistant Dean of Women Alice B. Macduff, Miss Janet Smith, Mrs. Elizabeth DeCou, Mrs. Donald M. Erb, and Mrs. Frederick M. Hunter.

Outstanding campus women to be introduced are: Lois Nordling, Hope Hughes, Elizabeth Steed, Ruth Hall, Marge Dibble, Rhoda Harkson, Nancy Riesch, Billie Christenson, Helen Angel, Wini Green, Bette Morfitt, Miss Warrine Eastburn, and Mrs. Corrine Nelson.

Kwamas Add Member

Beverly Padgham, sophomore in the school of law, was tapped Tuesday night into Kwama, women's sophomore service honorary. A vacancy in the honorary was created when Grace Babbit failed to return to school at the University this fall.

Scheduling Suggested To Remedy Conflicts

The personnel office announced yesterday that all scheduled events of organizations, clubs or other groups, should be made clear on their schedule so that no further mix-ups will occur such as the three events taking place in one night last Thursday. A calendar of all campus events is kept at this office to take care of these situations.

To have meetings or events of any kind scheduled, call 245 on the University exchange and state the date, place, and time.

YWCA Announces Soph Commissions

Members of the YWCA sophomore commission as announced by President Betty Kincaid include a representative from every women's living organization on the campus.

They are as follows: Elizabeth Hecht, Phyllis Collier, Jane Alice Pengra, Beverly Padgham, Marilyn Campbell, Norma Baker, Luella Mullen, Audrey Rial, Virginia Gilmore, Stephani Peterson, Evelyn Mitchell, Sue Sawyer, Nancy Ames, Jean Schneider, Babs Du Puy, Majolanie Le Beck, Doris Jones, Lee Montgomery, and Joyce Addis.

Caswell Directs Boy Scout Drive

"Back a Boy" is the slogan of the Boy Scout finance campaign this year, according to Professor A. E. Caswell, who is in charge of the drive, replacing the late Dean Stafford.

The cost of Scout work for one boy for a year is $8. The Lane county quota to support Scout activities for 610 boys in 41 troops and cub packs totals $6,500.

The following staff members, composing the committee to solicit funds for the Boy Scouts, are Professor Caswell, Harvey Blythe, Quirinus Breen, N. H. Comish, F. A. Cuthbert, E. E. DeCou, Wendell Gray, Howard Hobson, C. G. Howard, A. L. Lomax, E. H. Moore, W. D. Smith, George Turnbull, Rex Underwood, and L. O. Wright.

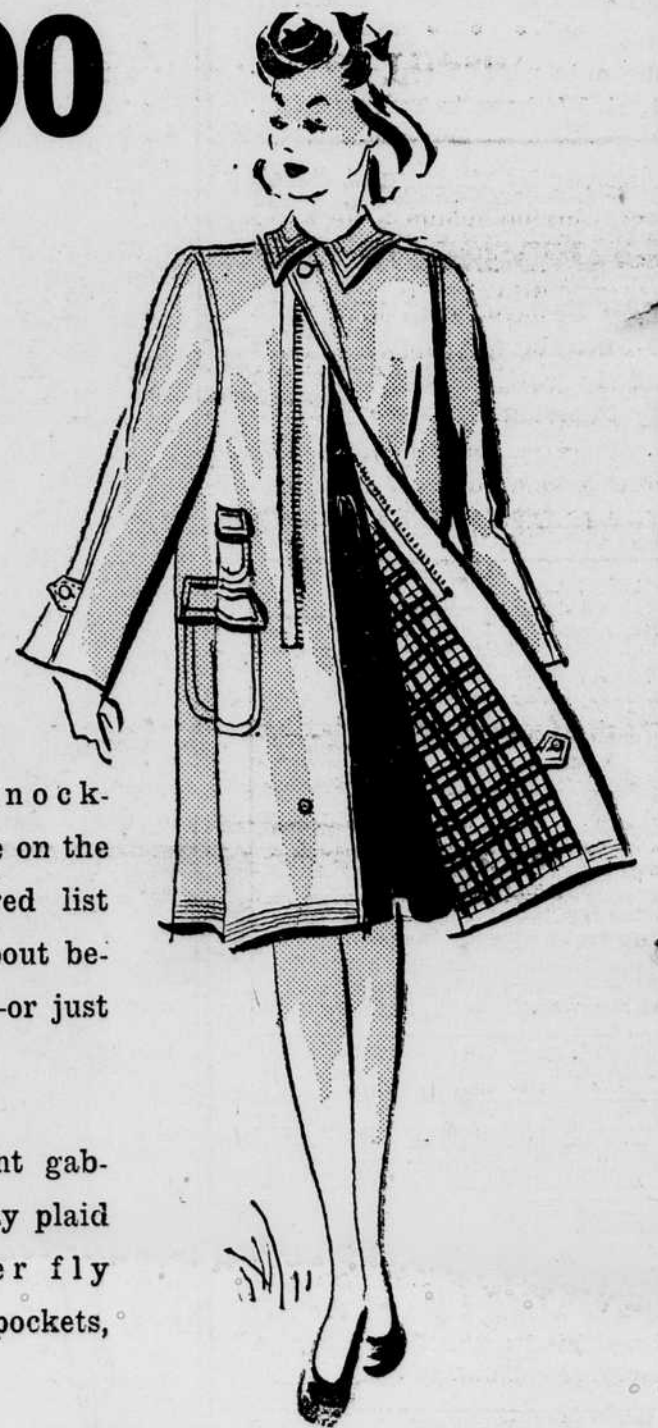

Vent Named Assistant

Herbert Vent, who was a graduate student at the University last year, will act as graduate assistant in the geography department this year. He is working for his master's degree in geography. He replaces Wilbur Greenup, who is now doing survey work for the government on the coast, near Taft.
