

SDX Members Swamped By 'Perfect Type' Queens

By JOHNNY KAHANANUI

They shuffled, re-shuffled, cut, and dealt on into the wee hours of the morning, but all that turned up were queens, queens, and more queens, as members of Sigma Delta Chi labored to select a "Perfect Type."

Bona fide blond hair, "dish-water" blond hair, brunette locks, red hair, were brushed up, down, and around into coiffures of all description. These framed vivacious, glamorous, and languid faces peered out at the self-styled, goggle-eyed, connoisseurs of beauty from photographs.

"If I see another queen again, I'll scream," groaned a bedraggled journalist, as he divided his avid gaze between photos of Mary Mercier (Queen of Sun Valley) and Annabelle Dow (1941 Junior Weekend queen) and then with his free hand tried to snatch one of Dorothy Havens (Oregon Valentine girl) out of the tenacious grip of a colleague.

Not for Caslon

"Old Man Caslon, designer of the renowned Caslon type face for printing, would hang his head in shame and wriggle in his grave with envy if he saw the kind of 'type' we're working with," volunteered another photograph-besieged member of the men's national professional journalistic fraternity.

Towards early morning comments voiced in a subdued tone hours before, were being shouted across at one and the other of those present, as each member appeared to be crusading for a different queen.

Entries

Entries received up to near closing time Thursday included Caroline Loud, Ivy Fete ruler at Stevens college; Mary Mercier, queen of Sun valley; Mary Lawson, Yolo county fair queen; Dorothea Godlove, queen of Eugene DeMolays; Annabelle Dow, 1941 Oregon Junior Weekend queen; Betty Jane Biggs, typical sophomore coed at Oregon last year; Pat Wright, Little Colonel; Marge Pemberton, 1940 Oregon Democrat queen; Betty Jane Harding, Portland Rose festival queen; Ruth Revel, Lebanon May fete queen; Dorothy Havens, Oregon valentine girl; and Jo Ann Supplee, Sigma Chi sweetheart.

Sonroma, who tinkles prettily. Millions of house dances come November 8. From now on the bunion derby will please be considered a mere twelve-mile jaunt as compared to the territory to be covered by visiting couples on the eighth eve.

Potential Ginny Simms

Pi Phi Aldine Gates (sorry about the spelling, kid) and Gamma Phi Patricia W. Sutton will audition for Bob MacFadden's ork come Tuesday for the fem chirp position. And even if neither one can sing they're still lovely and who cares anyway. What's a voice, just everything. Another fine week's wax is B. Goodman's discing on Columbia of "Superman" backed with "More Than You Know." Good Helen Forrest vocal on the "More Than" side, and terrific Cootie Williams horn on the reverse.

Just saw a copy of the California yearbook and the swing columnist for said publication writes about nothing but Bessie Smith and Bix. I often wish I could do the same, but no. Bessie Smith sounds like a house-mother and Bix doesn't.

But I'm still not going to give up. Tear the label off your nearest Miller record and send it to me and I promise you brave ones three loud successive huzzahs. Meanwhile carry on till next Tuesday night at seven and Glenn will be with us all again.

Pretty Poodle Flees Mistress

It isn't raining cats and dogs, but you might step into a "poodle" at any time now. If you do, pick it up with any handy armored car and rush it straight to President Donald M. Erb.

Dr. Erb began Thursday, with dog-matic persistence, to whistle up and down the campus looking for a little Penny, all by remote control, of course. Penny is the name of a one-foot high French poodle with a mean disposition, who knows exactly where she is—but everyone else seems to be lost.

Tuesday the president's office received a letter from the office of T. B. Hooker, sheriff of Polk county, which enclosed a plea from Mrs. Ora Swan, Dallas, asking Dr. Erb to please look for her little black and white poodle.

Last Sunday Mrs. Swan was traveling through Eugene. While parked in front of Seymour's cafe, her little pet, a "mess" of curls according to the letter, was taken or wandered away from her car.

Dr. Erb urges students of the University to cooperate in looking for this pup as she is the constant companion of a little girl in Dallas who misses her very much.

Miss Gladys Kerlee, secretary to the president, will be glad to investigate any pinto poodle brought to her office on the lower floor of Johnson hall.

Oregon Must Pay For Damaged Cars

Railways cars marked with chalk at the depot rally Wednesday night and which will have to be repainted must be paid for by the University, Les Anderson, chairman of the rally committee, revealed last night.

The chalk, used by students to write the names of members of the team living in their houses, has destroyed the paint on the cars, and they must be refinished. The students were asked to stop by railway officials and members of the rally squad, but refused to do so.

Anderson said he thought that the athletic department, which supervises rallies, will have to pay for the damage unless action is taken by the interfraternity council to force the fraternities, or members of fraternities who, he said, did most of the work, to pay for the harm done.

Allan Hunt, secretary of the interfraternity council, declared that the subject was not brought up at the council's meeting Thursday but that it would be considered at the next regular meeting if the rally squad thought it advisable.

Students Plan Meeting

YM Presents 'Crazy Show'

A "delightfully crazy" three-act comedy entitled "Birds of a Feather" will be presented today evening in the YMCA hut under the sponsorship of Wesley house. A 15-cent admission charge will be made.

Adrian Martin, University drama instructor, is the play's director. The cast is made up of Wesley students, who were in Eugene this summer, who are from the University, the vocational school, Eugene high school, and University high. Experience gained by these players when they put the play on at the Methodist church on the nights of September 18, 19, and 22, will insure an entertaining performance, Mr. Martin declared.

The comedy is to be presented in the intimate theater style with the audience on the same level and partly around the players.

Those in the cast are as follows: Meredith Olson, Howard Bailey, Roy Smith, Helen Bigelow, Ramona Jones, Louise Rickabau, Harry Thienes, Marguerite Weigant, Georgia Adams, Warden Hadley, Robert Bailey, and Jack Thienes.

New Librarians Added

Two new members have been added to the library staff. These are, Miss Clarice Krieg, who was assistant supervisor of the catalog division at the University of Iowa and Miss Martha A. Foster, who was a junior cataloger at Brown university.

Miss Beatrice Barker, who has been with the library for the past 32 years, retired this year and Miss Krieg succeeded her as head cataloger. Miss Miriam Yoder, senior assistant cataloger resigned this summer to take a position as head cataloger at the University of Idaho. Miss Foster was appointed to succeed Miss Yoder.

At Second Glance

(Continued from page two) passed the rushee and she did the same thing, wiping it on her face. The senior next to her became alarmed. "Tell me, Mitzi, why do you put that salad dressing on your face?" Mitzi, for now that was her name, smiled again. "Salad dressing? I thought it was mayonaisse!"

Which reminds us, in closing, of the freshman who insisted upon eating all of his meals with a knife 'cause his fork leaked.
