

State Schools Show Slight Enrollment Fall

Registration figures for the Oregon state system of higher education were released today by the office of the chancellor. All schools showed a slight decrease with the exception of the medical school.

Figures complete to October 11 showed an enrollment of 3467 for the University which is a decrease of 7.3 per cent. Oregon State has 4330 students, with a decrease of 8.3 per cent. The medical school has a total enrollment of 417, 268 of which are listed under nursing education and 268 under the medical school itself.

The Oregon College of Education has the most students among the normal schools with 339 registered. This is a decrease of 12.2 per cent. The Southern Oregon College of Education has 217 students, showing a decrease of 16.5 per cent. The Eastern Oregon College of Education reports an enrollment of 305, making an 11.3 per cent decrease.

The total of all schools is 9820 which is 805 less students than last year. The complete decrease is 8.2 per cent.

The dining hall at Farmville, Va., State Teachers college uses 240 dozen eggs, 525 gallons of milk and 900 pounds of sugar a week.

Frosh Committee Selects By-Laws

The newly appointed freshman by-law committee will meet at 4 p.m. today in the ASUO office in McArthur court to draft a set of by-laws to present to assembled freshmen at a nominating assembly Tuesday evening, Jim Frost, ASUO first vice president, announced last night.

By-laws suggested by this committee, however, are not binding on the class. Members are free to accept or reject any part of them or all of them, Frost said.

ASUO President Lou Torgeson, First Vice-President Jim Frost, and Second Vice-President Jean Spearow will be present at the meeting, and Torgeson will preside.

Committee Chairman Selected by 'Y' Frosh

Temporary officers were elected Wednesday at a meeting of the YMCA freshman commission.

Harold Brevig was named chairman of the dance committee, Ross Lanser was chosen head of the ping-pong tournament, and Fred Kuhl was picked as membership chairman.

Next meeting will feature a joint session with the YWCA Tuesday, October 21, at 4 p.m. in the YMCA house.

Primary CPT Group Enrolls New Students

An addition of 10 new students has been made in the primary civilian pilot training class, it was announced yesterday by James C. Stovall, coordinator. The 25 per cent increase in the primary quota brings the total enrollment to 40 students.

The new students will start ground school immediately and are expected to be in the air by the last of the week, according to Coordinator Stovall. With the 20 men now engaged in advanced flight work here, the local CPT program is training 60 students.

New trainees are: Kenneth Bergstrom, David Casey, Charles, G. Childs, Everett Dickerman, Walter Girdlestone, Harold Hartzell, Jacob Maddox, John Raffetto, Tom Watts, and Patrick E. Wynne. Alternates are Bob Ellinwood, William Hopper, Ross Croessin, and Wayne Phillips.

Freshman Girls Given Assembly by Kwamas

Approximately 250 freshman girls attended the Wednesday assembly in Gerlinger, sponsored by Kwama, sophomore women's honorary.

Featured on the program was a skit entitled "What the College Girl Wears" in which every Kwama member took part. Outstanding examples of what not to wear in various situations as well as what to wear were modeled by the members.

Officers of the group were introduced to the freshman girls and refreshments were served on the sun porch.

Talent Survey Planned By Westminster Club

The drama club of Westminster house will meet there this afternoon at 4 to discuss and read plays which they may give this term, cast parts, and make a survey of other talent they can use.

These plays and skits are given as deputations to the various Eugene clubs and schools in the surrounding community throughout the term. Anyone having talent along any entertainment line or anyone interested in this kind of work is requested to attend, Erma Scott, chairman, declared.

Council Offices Filled During Dorm Session

Vacancies in the interdorm council caused by the unexpected resignation of the president and vice-president were filled at a special session last evening.

Jim Brown of Sigma hall was elected president and Roy Hensley of Alpha hall was elected vice-president, reported the secretary-treasurer, Wini Green of Hendricks hall.

An interdorm dance will be held the last week of October. The exact date will be announced soon, said Miss Green.

Co-op Closes at Noon

Forseeing a large attendance at the Oregon-California game in Portland Saturday and a corresponding lack of customers the University co-op will close Saturday at noon.

M. F. McClain, manager of the Co-op, announced the half-holiday in view of the majority of the student body leaving for Portland Friday or Saturday morning.

Articles Win Notice

Notice of the 10 most outstanding magazine articles each month is posted on the bulletin board in the periodical department of the library. These articles are selected by a council of librarians.

Sick Bay Acquires Comforts of Home

Several things about the student health service seem to be improving.

New equipment marks the primal advance in the eyes of nurses and doctors. Among utilities added this year a lighter, more easily carried stretcher, a number of modern chromium and leather chairs, and bedside tables to match the now complete set of beds.

Registration in the hospital wards jumped from six to thirteen Wednesday with the admission of Roger Dick, Jake Prince, Clifford Anet, Richard Rule, Arthur Hosfeldt, Leon Olmstead, Mardell Webb, and Frances Triska. Old residents are Roy L. Smith, Fred Treadgold, Bill Maltman, Virginia Tyrell, and Arliss Boone.

Group of Five Handles Lower Division Work

A committee has been appointed to take over the administrative work of the lower division and service departments for the remainder of the academic year, resulting from the death of Dean O. F. Stafford.

Professor A. E. Caswell, head of the physics department, is chairman of the committee. Assisting him are Professor A. F. Moursund, head of the mathematics department, and Professor H. B. Yocom, head of the zoology department. Professor L. K. Sisk, maker of the education department is directing the work of lower division advisers.

Since the construction of new offices for the division this summer, Deady hall now houses all of the science departments except chemistry and geology.

For Oregon's Liquid Sunshine

If you wish to reign, dear, get your rain gear, speedy like a reindeer at Russell's. Bright blue and red gabardine raincoats with hats to match. The coat has a fly-front covering the zipper, which goes right up to the little round collar. The hats are pork-pie style with a stitched brim. $6.95 and $1.65 respectively.

Classy Joe . . .

Is what they call this two-piece charmer down at the Broadway. It's a Doris Dodson original (which gives class to any cut) and is made from rayon jersey. The blouse has a long Torso line, and short sleeves. There are rows of stitching around the sleeves and yoke—also the pockets at the waist. Seven square-cut, suede covered buttons (it comes out merchant), run the full length of the blouse. The unpursed pleats of the skirt give it the right fullness. All extra-special is the cluster of baby pine cones on the sweater. Yours for the price of $12.95.

He-Man Stuff . . .

Are the man-styled slacks at Hadleys. No more "slack" in your slacks with these tailored britches. They have the fly-front, and fittedrotch. Made of Congo Cloth in brown, light navy, and California Redwood. Cinched up with a jewel-studded cowboy belt. Yours for $5.95.

Lapel Foo . . .

Penney's jewelry counter is plenteous with lapel gadgets. An eye-catcher is the tiny football score board, with a megaphone, football, pennant, and cleated boot attached to the bottom of the board by tiny gold chains. This will show that "you know what the score is." On the first floor near the Willamette street entrance.

Secret Maneuvers

When you apply the new breath concealing lipstick at Tiffany-Davis. It neutralizes unpleasant breath from cocktails and cigarettes. A double duty performance—because it has marvelous shades, too, Gaiety, Ratchet Red, and Sparkling Burgandy. Who could ask for more. 50c and $1 sizes.

F.P.J.F.C.N. . . .

Code for "Flannel Pajamas for Cold Nights," which season is certainly here. You can avoid head colds, rheumatism, and pneumonia by getting a pair of cuddly flannel pajamas at Gordon's. Butcher-boy tops with Peter Pan collars. Fringe on the edge of the collar and pocket tops. The sleeves are three-quarter length that will cover your elbows. Little-girl glamour for $2 and $3.

Ah! Science . . .

Even in the shoe industry. Nylon shoes are something new and different at Millers. You can have dressy dogs in the strap sandals that look smart with the 2 1/2 inch heel. Made by Paramount—See it in the next issue of Vogue.
