'Spice-Life' Players Perform Today at 11

Entertainment from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes will be featured today at a rally assembly to be held at 11 a.m. in Gerlinger hall, Bob Whitely, assembly chairman announced Wednesday. "Variety is the spice of life" is the theme of the assembly.

The freshman class will not furnish entertainment at the assembly, Lou Torgeson, ASUO president stated, because it has just been organized. Tex Oliver, football coach, will speak about the coming football game with Washington State.

Russell Performs

Yell King Earle Russell and Duke Max Miller and Bud Steele will limber up the students with a few yells and will reintroduce Russell's new "swing yell." They will be assisted by Bob Sell and Jack Boone.

There will be fraternity and sorority singing from the floor with the selection of the houses drawn from a hat. The women's organizations which might be called on to sing a song of their own selection are Gamma Phi Beta, Pi Beta Phi, and Delta Gamma. The men's group is Delta Tau Delta, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Nu.

Sophs to Jive

Scheduled to perform from the sophomore class are the "Jive Five," consisting of Ted Hallock, drums; Gene Leo, piano; Bob Sell, bass; Dick Carlton, saxophone; and Dave Fortmiller, trumpet. They will play "Honey-suckle Rose." Aldeen Gates, Pat Sutton, and the Alpha Omicron Pi trio will also sing.

The junior class will present Helen Jane Kerr playing her new composition, "Waiting for Tomorrow," and another piano solo. A surprise act will also be given.

Seniors Impersonate

For the senior class Mimi O'Donnell will impersonate Marlene Dietrich. Jack Boone will give a novelty presentation.

The University band will play under the direction of John Stehn, assistant professor of music.

Junior class members will hold a tri-part program this evening at 7:30 in Villard hall, Pat Cloud, junior class president has announced.

At the meeting class members who are interested will register for possible participation in Junior weekend, class authorization for decorating Hayward field for Homecoming will be sought, and a five-day period for the sale of class cards will be discussed. The file for Junior Weekend will be used in making appointments for the annual spring term celebration.

In order to sell class cards a restriction on the sale of cards during the term must be secured. The lifting of this restriction will permit the raising of funds for a party which may be given by the class during the winter term.

'Battle of the Beards' Reaches Climax Saturday

"The 'Battle of the Beards' will reach a climax Saturday, November 1, at 11 p.m., when the undisputed winner and "king of the whiskers" will be announced at the sophomore dance.

E. G. Moll, associate professor of English, and Charles Elliott are the judges for this event, and will present the winner with the traditional prize.

According to Jim Burness, sheriff, a second dunking will take place Friday at 12:30 p.m. and all those who did not appear for their punishment Tuesday, plus any new offenders, will be dealt with properly at that time.

Tickets for the Whiskerino are being sold by Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's service honorary, said Chairman Og Young. Members of Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary, will contact men's living organizations tonight during the dinner hour to further the sale. Tickets sell for $1.40, general price, and $1.15 to sophomore class card holders.

Changing Pants

I hate to change a pair of pants. I sigh and view the things askance.

I change my wallet, watch, and keys, And belt and buckle, if you please,

And after checking through and through, I'm off with other things to do.

What e're the care I exercise At times I must apologize.

"I'm sorry, but it isn't there. I guess it's in the other pair."

Potential Hostesses Apply

Names of applicants for Homecoming hostess were released Wednesday by Janet Farnham, hospitality chairman for the annual alumni fete. From the 11 applicants six will be selected to present to the Oregon football squad for their final selection. The squad will select the hostess Monday, November 3. During Homecoming the hostess will be in charge of greeting visiting alumni.

Those who applied for the position are: Pat Holder, Betty Pratt, Bette Morfitt, June Johnson, Isolde Eichenlaub, Janet Morris, Eleanor Sederstrom, Elizabeth Steed, Hope Hughes, Pat Wright, and Mary Kay Rioridan.

Mr. Oregon? Who's He?

Herman Kehrl, head of the bureau of municipal research, went to Chicago alone, or at least he thought he was alone. But the clerk at the hotel at which he was staying didn't see it that way. The clerk wanted to know when Mr. Kehrl's roommate, a Mr. Eugene Oregon, was expected.

Mr. Kehrl will return Thursday from Chicago where he was one of the main speakers before the American municipal association. His topic was "Practices and Proposals in the Local Taxation of Federal Properties."

Sign Heads Meet

Homecoming sign committee chairmen from all living organizations will meet today at 4 p.m. upstairs in the College Side. Bob Whitely, general sign chairman, will outline the regulations of the contest and plans for the general context of the signs will be discussed.

AD MAN

Doug David will be the advertising manager for the 1942 Oregana, Emerson Page, business manager, announced Wednesday. David was co-advertising manager for last year's yearbook and is business manager for the 1942 student directory.

David Named To Garner Oregana Ads

Doug David, junior in BA, was named advertising manager Wednesday of the 1941 Oregana by Emerson Page, business manager for the yearbook. He will also manage the Lemon Punch canoe fete program. David was co-advertising manager for the 1941 Oregana and business manager for the 1942 student directory.

"David has had that experience of working on the Oregana staff that is so vital to the advertising manager," stated Page. "I know he will do a very good piece of work." David is a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising fraternity, and had charge of the production of the notebook index published annually by that organization.

Staff organization and layout work for the 1942 Oregana are already being worked out. A new feature in the advertising section will be the use of colored advertisements.

A permanent advertising staff will be selected soon. Students interested in doing advertising selling or layout work should contact either David or Page in the Oregana offices.

Meek Talks Today at 4 Before Oregon Coeds

The first mass assembly of AWS for all University coeds will have as its guest speaker Dr. Lois Meek, who will give an informal talk on "Personality" at Alumni room of Gerlinger hall today at 4 p.m.

Dr. Meek was at one time a professor of education at Columbia university teacher's college and at the present time is a member of the teacher's institute for Linn, Lane, and Benton counties.

Senior Posts Attract Ten

Ten eligible seniors have applied for the vacant senior class offices since petitions were requested last week, Pat Lawson, senior class president, announced last night. The six students who applied Wednesday and Thursday this week will be interviewed at 4 p.m. today in the office of Dean of Men Virgil D. Earl at Johnson hall.

Appointments to fill the vacant posts will be made Friday or Saturday this week by Miss Lawson, and Dorothy Jean Johnson, class secretary, acting on the advice of the interviewing council. Members of the council are Miss Lawson, Miss Johnson, Dean Earl, and Dean James H. Gilbert of the college of social science, senior class adviser.

The four applicants who petitioned last Saturday were interviewed Monday. Although they made favorable impressions on the council, Miss Lawson and Miss Johnson asked for more petitions so that they could have a larger field from which to fill the vacancies.

Drafting Club Elects Nims New President

Cyrus Nims, senior in architecture, was elected president of the Drafting club Monday. The new president will take the place of Walt Brown who was elected to the office, but failed to return to school this year.

Members also discussed plans for having several architects from Portland visit them and discuss problems of interest to the students.

Because of her work in child psychology, Dr. Meek was present at the White House conference in 1930 at Washington, D.C.

Included in the assembly will be the presentation by Mortar Board of their plaque to the four girls with the highest grades from last year's freshman class, and the Pi Beta Phi trio. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

This meeting is the first in a series of AWS sponsored mass assemblies for coeds which will be held throughout the term.

Art Students Creating New Textile Designs

New drapes are likely to soon adorn the windows of Associate Professor Brownell Frasier's designing class rooms. At present the students are making textile designs of modern abstract motives. They will later block print the designs on material suitable for drapes or upholstery.
