

Arthur Burg Awarded Medical Scholarship

Arthur W. Burg, pre-med student, has been named winner of the Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie scholarship to the University of Oregon medical school, President Donald M. Erb announced Friday.

The newly established memorial fund was made possible by a $250,000 bequest to the University from the will of Mrs. Mildred Anna Williams, millionairess of New York, Los Angeles, and Monte Carlo. In her will she stated that the University "trustees" could use the money at their own discretion.

Although Mrs. Williams died in August, 1939, her will, made at Monte Carlo, was not probated until last March in New York. The man for whom the fund is named was the late Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie, first dean of the University medical school in Portland. It was therefore decided to establish a $1000 scholarship to the school for University pre-med students and a professorship in surgery at the Portland medical center.

Later, after the recommendation of Dr. Richard B. Dillehunt, dean of the medical school, and President Erb, the scholarship was broken up into five $200 awards. Since this is the first year there have been awarded, four of them went to outstanding students of the Portland school, one from each class.

The four students named by David Baird, assistant dean of the medical school, to receive these scholarships are James A. King, Marion Wietz, Clarence G. Peterson, and Gordon McGowan. Students to whom these scholarships are awarded must keep up the level of their work while in the Portland school or forfeit the honor to the currently outstanding member of his class.

Each year a faculty committee will pick the outstanding pre-med student in Oregon to benefit from the Mackenzie fund. The committee this year was composed of the following professors: Dr. Albert E. Caswell, Dr. Harold Crosslund, Professor King, and Dr. Harry B. Yocom.

Box Office Sale Ends For Season Tickets

The box office sale exclusively for season ticket holders will end at 12 o'clock today. However, season tickets may be purchased until the last performance date of "Three Corned Moon," according to Adrian Martin, drama division secretary.

Sales will be resumed Wednesday, November 5. This sale will include the regular purchase of tickets, and will continue intermittently through performance dates.

Letters

(Continued from page two) ment if the individual happens to be of a shy nature. The friendliness and interest of the Oregon boys made me forget, very easily, the dollar lost on the UCLA game.

The Greeks' Word

And so it went. A few of the experiences obtained from the fraternity houses will long be remembered. Did you ever hear the Phi Deltis sing? Call them "bathless" if you will, they're still good! They're not so bad at other things, too. They've contributed a great deal to the Air Corps and many of their boys are now flying our very best Air Corps planes. You shouldn't miss the "Keep 'Em Flying!" trick of the ATO. It starts out with the shout of "Keep 'Em Flying!!!" and the plane itself goes all around the table and where it goes nobody knows but there's no doubt that it went.

If a boy will attend classes before school starts in the morning and after it stops in the afternoon, you've got to hand it to him. This is just what the boys (and a girl in each class) are doing in the CPT programs, directed by Mr. Frank Sherwin, and they're doing all right, too. You can be sure of that.

Women Okay, Too

Last, but by no means least, was "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." It always was my favorite fraternity song but the way the Sigma Chi boys sing it, well, one could never forget it. The Sweet-

Eugene Helps House Alums

Lane county alumni directors will work with the Homecoming hospitality committee on the housing of Oregon alums during Homecoming and the alumni reception in the Eugene armory after the game, Mrs. Mary Miles, county alumni directors' housing chairman, announced last night.

"We are very grateful for the assistance offered by the alumni directors," Russ Hudson, Homecoming chairman, said last night. "The fact that all Eugene hotels and motor courts are already booked for the weekend makes the housing of returning alums a serious problem, and we appreciate the alumni directors' action."

The Lane county group will canvass Eugene to find possible places for alums to stay. Visiting with cars by members of the alumni will be met at the station Homecoming hospitality committee.

Eugene householders having rooms which will be vacant during the Homecoming weekend, November 28, 29, and 30, are asked to contact Mrs. Miles, phone 967, or the alumni office, extension 271.

Eugene Mothers Meet In Gerlinger Hall

Eugene chapter of the Oregon Mothers' club met Wednesday in the alumni room of Gerlinger, according to Mrs. Frank Jones, social chairman.

A program and refreshments followed the regular transaction of business. Mrs. A. E. Caswell and Mrs. Virgil Parker poured. Those serving were: Mrs. J. E. Stone, Mrs. Harold Johnson, Mrs. A. E. Brown, Mrs. Arthur Pengra, Mrs. Odine Mickleson, Mrs. H. I. Parish, and Mrs. Walker Range.

Staff Gives Tea

Mrs. H. M. Douglass was honored guest at a tea given for her by the library staff Friday. Among those attending were Mrs. Hugh Ford, Mrs. Blair Alderman, Mrs. Henry Tromp and Miss Beatrice Barker. Mrs. Douglass is the wife of H. M. Douglass, head of the University library.

heart herself looked mighty pretty to me. Betty Anderson, I think her name was. There's no doubt the fraternity boys have excellent taste.

The only regret I have in coming to the University of Oregon is that I couldn't visit more of the organizations.

The board will be back again in February of next year to give enthusiastic Oregon students the opportunity of entering the United States army air corps. In the meantime, keep in touch with the air corps activities and no matter which way you look at it there is no doubt that YOU . . . "Keep 'Em Flying!"

1st Lt. Air Corps.

Campus Calendar

There will be a meeting of all Homecoming chairmen today at 11 a.m. in the alumni office in Friendly hall.

Office staff of the Emerald business staff will meet Tuesday night at 7:15 p.m. in the Emerald business office. This meeting is important. All office secretaries should be present.

BA Honorary Holds Initiation for Eleven

Beta Gamma Sigma, business administration honor fraternity, added 11 new names to its ranks Friday night during initiation at Gerlinger hall at 5:30. A banquet followed at the Del Rey cafe.

Speaker was Dr. Edward G. Daniel, with Dean Victor P. Morris, of the business administration school, presiding. A. B. Stillman, professor of business administration, welcomed the initiates.

New members are Frank Albrecht, Herbert Bigej, Robert Currin, Arthur Douglass, Roy Hensley, Edward Lawson, Robert Lovell, Elmer Olson, Clyde Rose, Richard Warren, and Quay Wasam.

Mumble-Peg Beats Beta

When the Patterson street gang took up mumble-peg it looked like a nice quiet little game. But the little party of Friday afternoon turned out pretty rough, for 'round 3 p.m. Ken Jackson staggered into the Pill Packing House on the arm of Beta pal Andy Jones. The little blade had run hi mthrough his shoe, and stuck his foot.

Those infirmed at the health service Friday were: Luella Miller, Virginia C. Durckel, Shirley Buberick, Ruth Foreman, Jim Ricksecker, Allen Foster, Robert Irvin, Bill Borchner, Dan Plaza, Walter Krause, Reed Gurney, Robert Donnelly, and Roy Metzler.

Art School Displays Trask Water Colors

A collection of six water colors by Helen Trask, sophomore in painting, is on display in the lobby of the drawing and painting department of the art school. The pictures are all scenes in Yellowstone national park and vicinity.

Miss Trask painted these pictures while she was in Yellowstone park last summer. She was employed by the Mammoth Springs hotel there. It was on her days off that she did the paintings on display.
