

Rifle Coach's Face Red, Frosh Say 'Make It Good'

With about two hours of hunting season left, Captain Harvey Blythe of the military department watched a huge mule deer go over the hill last Thursday near Baker, Oregon.

After two days of tramping the ridges and draws after the roe, Captain Blythe finally saw the buck of his dreams on a ridge just ahead.

Throwing his rifle to his shoulder, he frantically pulled the trigger. Nothing happened. He squeezed again. Still no explosion. As the deer dropped out of sight in the distance, Captain Blythe saw to his consternation that the safety was locked.

"Well, I practiced what I preach," the captain explained. "I always tell the freshmen to keep their rifles locked and this time I kept mine locked too long."

However, he did bring back a buck, a smaller one, but still a buck.

Girl Ad Society Takes Pledges

Pledging of 14 girls to Gamma Alpha Chi, national advertising society for women, at a dinner given by the entire society was announced Wednesday by the president, Mary Kay Riordan.

Pledges are: Anita Backberg, Eula Baird, Lee Barlow, Leith Brown, Marilyn Campbell, Elizabeth Edmunds, Helen Flynn, Jean Gallo, Helen Johnson, Peggy Magill, Helen Moore, Helen Rayburn, Mary Reimers, and Leota White-lock.

The national president of the sorority, Miss Mary Gist, will visit the local chapter in early November, and a dinner has been planned for November 6 at the Osburn hotel to honor her and the 14 new pledges.

Mrs. Spencer Collins, adviser to the local chapter and national secretary-treasurer, will also be a guest at the dinner. Jeanne Routt is general chairman of the banquet.

Lawmen Plan Rustic Affair

It's going to be a Halloween coed-whiskerino barn dance for the young attorneys Saturday night, according to Cecil Wright, law school student public relations counsel.

The Lane county fairgrounds barn will be decorated with plenty of hay, black and blue streamers, and jack o' lanterns hanging from the rafters. Roger Overton will help serve the refreshments.

Intermission entertainment will be provided by the various classes in the law school. Walker Treece will give a humorous lecture on "Calisthenics" with demonstrations by H. H. Phelps, for the first year class. Second year men will present Jeanette (the Judge) Thatcher and Phil (hiszonner) Lowry in a soft shoe number. For the third year class Bob Carmichael will sing "All Alone and Lonely" and Leon Olmstead will give a reading of "Lips That Touch Liquor Shall Never Touch Mine."

Albany Conference Attended by Onthank

Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel administration, and Prof. F. L. Stetson, professor of education, attended a meeting of Oregon Guidance conference in Albany Wednesday night.

Guidance workers from all western Oregon sections attended the meeting to discuss problems connected with their work.

Propeller Club Elects Conroy

Raymond Conroy, senior in business administration, was elected president of the Propeller club which met last Wednesday night. Other officers elected were Hall Simons, junior in business administration, vice-president; and Maurice Burgess, sophomore in business administration, secretary-treasurer. Professor A. L. Lomax, of the school of business administration, is the club adviser.

A review of the activities of the club at the national convention held in San Francisco, October 21 to 24, was presented by Dick Johnson, Porter Jennings, and Hall Simons.

The project for securing model ships for use in foreign trade classes in business administration was outlined and a committee was appointed to investigate the best means of securing the models.

YWCA Publicity Group Appointed at Meeting

Plans were formulated and committees were appointed to head various phases of the YWCA publicity program at the first meeting of the "YW" publicity club. The group will meet again this Monday at 4 in the "YW."

A new group called the "Flying Squadrons" was organized with Lois Bechdolt as its head. The group plans to give short talks during luncheon at various girls' houses immediately before any important "YW" activity. They are as follows: Norma Baker, Ruth Kilkenny, Gloria Dunham, Lueline Voegelien, Jane Huston, Joanne Dolph, and Betty Lou Allegre.

Doris Jones and Joanne Dolph are in charge of planning programs for the club's semi-monthly meetings. Ruth Kilkenny, Gloria Dunham, and Lueline Voegelien are in charge of bulletin notices. Representatives to various "Y" clubs are Lueline Voegelien and Doris Nordstrom.

Jane Huston, Helen Gilson, and Shirley Burberick head the scrapbook committee, and Betty Lou Allegre and Mimi O'Donnell are in charge of publicity in Eugene newspapers.

Recently received in the John Henry Nash room is the book, "The Pilgrims Progress" by John Bunyon. This book contains 29 full pages of water color drawings by William Blake. The drawings will be of special interest to art students because these pictures have never before been reproduced. The originals are owned by Marquis of Crewe and were reproduced by Arther Jaffe of the famous Venus Jaffe firm.

Chapter Entertains

Girls in Alpha Phi and Gamma Phi Beta are entertaining regional officers. Mrs. Elizabeth Saylor, district governor of Alpha Phi will visit the local chapter house until early next week. Mrs. D. M. Dickover, province president of Gamma Phi Beta, came from Boise, Idaho.

Planning to Build Cottage for Two?

Illustrated diagrams showing the correct method of fitting "the house of your dreams" onto "the lot that was sold to papa" are on display now in the home economics department in Chapman hall.

These diagrams show correct ways of building a home in order to insure some sunlight in each room daily.

An illustrated chart also shows the way the house should "sit," and helpful aids are given for improving the appearance of foundations, ground lines, and slopes of the home.

Dean Heads Service Unit

Virgil D. Earl, dean of men, will head a committee of three to pass on preliminary applications for service with American ambulance field units in Europe.

Wells Gilbert, regional director of the field service, Portland, wrote Dean Earl Tuesday that he had too much to do to handle personally all the applications coming to his office from Oregon students.

If accepted here by the local board and affirmed by New York headquarters, enrollees will be required to pay $200 for equipment and make their own way to New York, where they will board ship for England.

Applicants will probably have to take out insurance for their enlistment period, Mr. Wells announced.

University Library Receives New Books

"The Madras Quadrangle" is the type area for many of the important formations, structures and geomorphic features of central Oregon. This book, recently received at the periodical department of the University library, was written by Edwin T. Hodge.

Also received this week is the book, "Among Us," which is composed of news letters of the committee on international relations by the National Education association. It was written to "help teachers and students to keep pace with pan-American education events, and to find information and instructional aids in Latin American studies."

Grants Open In Food Field

Announcement of the new fellowships in nutrition offered by Swift and company effective November 1 has been received by President Donald M. Erb.

To be eligible for grants, projects should be aimed at either the development of fundamental information on the nutritive properties of foods or the application of this fundamental information on the nutritive properties of foods to the improvement of the American diet and health.

Each fellowship will be operative for one year, unless renewed, and will be granted in an amount to be determined by the scope of the project. Placement of the fellowships will be coordinated by Dr. R. C. Newton and his staff of the Research Laboratories of Swift and Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago.

YM Elects Officers

Beauford Clemens, sophomore, was elected president, and Jack Morris, sophomore, was named secretary of the YMCA in a cabinet meeting, Tuesday.
