Honorary to Meet

Pi Lambda Theta, national honorary for women in education, will meet tonight at 7:30 at the YWCA house.

Main business will be the election of new members.

Mrs. R. W. Leighton, Nanette Schmuki, and Katherine Peters will be hostesses.

Noted Lecturer Speaks at UO

Dr. Louis Marlio, noted professor of economics and a refugee from war-torn France, will speak at the University Thursday evening in room 12 Friendly on "Nazi Education" in the second of the University lecture series.

Dr. Marlio, who has been in the United States since the summer of 1940, predicted in a pamphlet published by the Brookings Institute that "The U. S. can win the war by 1943 without a shot." The pamphlet, titled, "A Short War Through American Industrial Supremacy" was the result of a survey made by Dr. Marlio since his arrival in the U. S.

As a French industrialist and economist, Dr. Marlio is the ideal man to explain the conditions in France since the Nazi invasion," said Professor Ernst, chairman of the University lectures committee.

Dean Jewell Attends Meeting at Roseburg

J. R. Jewell, dean of the school of education, has been attending the regional teacher's institute meetings for Douglas and Coos counties at Roseburg and Lincoln and Linn counties at Corvallis Monday and Tuesday.

Dean Jewell talked on "Teacher's Responsibility" and told of the system of individualized instruction being used in certain high schools of the state.

Dr. Means to Speak To YWCA Assembly

Dean Jay C. Knode of the college of arts and sciences at the University of New Mexico, will leave today to visit other Northwest colleges after his three-day stay on the University campus.

While here, Dean Knode took note of the work of Oregon's art and science departments.

AWS to Revive Capers

"In addition to concessions and dancing, there will be games with prizes, and skits from each class as well as from the faculty," added Adele. "There will be absolutely no men allowed," she stressed, "and a group of senior women have already been appointed to act as 'cops' to keep men from crashing the gate."

The "cop" list includes: Hope Hughes, Lois Nordling, Billie Christiansen, Helen Angell, Bette Morfitt, Ruth Hall, Wini Green, Elizabeth Steed, and Maxine Hansen.

Additional seniors may be chosen later, it was announced.

Council Plans Call for Indexes

Plans for the three-fold program of the Independent Students' association call for an extensive card-index system for listing all independents and their chief interests, Steve Worth, independent leader, revealed in describing plans for the association.

A bureau of "placement and information" will be established Worth explained, and this file system will be handled through that. Students will be indexed by name and by interest.

Another purpose of the organization will be the promoting of the "political well-being" of independents, Worth said. He explained that an effort would be made to erase the possibility of clique control.

Social orientation of independent freshmen will be undertaken through a coordinated action by house social chairmen. The program will be conducted on what Worth called a "long-term projection."

Heads of independent living organizations will meet at 8 o'clock in the College Side.

Obliging Pupils Doze As Leiman Hypnotizes

Twenty-three living examples in psychology lab proved Graduate Assistant J. M. Leiman's point. The point was that the power of suggestion acts very strongly on certain individuals.

During a movie showing the effects of hypnotism, the assistant pointed out to the class how the instructor in the picture got his subject to relax by repeating "sleep, sleep, sleep deeply" over and over again.

Carried away by his enthusiasm, Mr. Leiman actually put himself in the pace of the instructor and repeated the instructions aloud to the class.

When the movie finished the last reel and the lights were turned on Mr. Leiman turned to see what the class thought about the experiment in the picture.

There were twenty-three proofs to his point on the power of suggestion calmly sleeping.

Grades Due

Midterm grades are due this weekend, according to the registrar's office. Reports of the students' work will be sent to faculty advisers, the dean of women, and the dean of men.

Students whose work has not been satisfactory will be notified.

Thursday Release Set For Old Oregon

Old Oregon, alumni magazine, will be out Thursday, November 6, according to Editor Lyle Nelson.

Among the stories will be one on a series of biographical sketches of some Oregon alumni by Art Litchman, '43, of the Emerald sports staff.

C. E. Wagner, '01, has a story on the first game between the University and the University of California in 1889, which was the first football game between two state universities on the coast.

Dean Knode Leaves

Dr. Paul B. Means, head of the religion department, will be guest speaker at the monthly YWCA meeting Thursday at 4 o'clock in the bungalow. His topic will be "Importance of Our Christian Tradition."

The assembly is open to everyone and is under the general supervision of Patty Pearson. Gerd Hansen, president of the freshman commission, will lead the worship service and Shirley Holcomb, newly appointed song chairman, will lead group singing.

Advanced CPT Begins Solos

Leading the secondary civilian pilot training class, Bob Crusen took his first solo in one of the new Fairchild 11-62-B's Sunday. Crusen was followed by 13 other initial soloists Monday and Tuesday, according to J. C. Stovall, coordinator.

Students in the advanced CPT class are flying two low-winged Fairchild monoplanes, which arrived from their Hagestown, Maryland, factory last Monday. Although all secondary students hold a private pilot's license, at least two hours of dual instruction in a heavier type plane, is necessary. Stovall explained.

Other secondary soloists include: Ben Wohler, Jack Van Dervert, Bruce Giesy, Jim Taylor, Elmer Pressman, George Drach, Don Kirkpatrick, Bob Hone, Bert Hagen, Ehrman Giustina, Ken Jensen, Bob Anderson, and Lawrence Roger.

All students who have soloed so far have been instructed by either Harold Rathbun or Frank Barker.
