Law Breakers May Expect No Leniency

By FRITZ TIMMEN

Offenders of Oregon's revered traditions throughout the coming days will be highly honored, though they may not think so at the time. It isn't every malefactor who can receive his chastisement with a weapon especially constructed for the purpose.

Ji mRathbun and his Order of the "O" men have constructed a paddle especially for the purpose of reminding tradition breakers that they shouldn't do a second time what they just did.

According to Rathbun, hacking will begin Tuesday, November 25 and continue throughout the week with the exception of Thursday, when students will be occupied with ROTC drill.

Hackable offenses include not speaking to all persons on "hello walk," stepping on the Oregon seal, not wearing class pants and rooster's lids, smoking on the old campus, and walking on the grass.

Even women will not be immune from punishment, Rathbun declared. Law breakers will be immersed in the fountain between Fenton hall and Deady.

Order of the "O" men will attend a luncheon at Gerlinger Friday, November 28. Oregon lettermen plan a parade at 1:45 p.m. following this.

Robert Bradshaw, captain of Oregon's 1914 football team, will act as toastmaster.

"There will be no long-winded speeches at the lunch," Rathbun stated. "It is supposed to be more or less of a bull session."

Professors and students have gathered for the University of California library some 200,000 pages of valuable source material relating to the history of California.

The cast of "Skylark," Very Little Theater production, listens to instructions from their director, Ethan Newman. The play had its first showing Wednesday, November 5, and will have its final performance tonight. Featured in the Broadway success are the University's Jerry Lakefish as George Gorrell, roving bachelor, and Bill Wood as the bewildered butler.

Little Theater Opens Season With 'Skylark'

By MARJORIE MAJOR

Humorous, wistful "Skylark" brought understanding smiles from the audience Wednesday night when the Very Little theater opened its current season.

This famous Broadway success featured the University's Jerry Lakefish as George Gorrell, roving bachelor, and Bill Wood as the bewildered butler.

Lydia, the charming role made classic by Gertrude Lawrence, was delicately handled by Adele Griffith.

Chorus girl, Myrtle Valentine, was zestfully interpreted by Mrs. W. A. Roecker. Mary Graham and Albert Ronney also scored as Charlotte and Ted Franklin, a slightly muddled and eccentric couple.

"Skylark" continues for one more performance, the curtain to rise at 8 tonight. Tickets may be reserved by calling Mrs. Gerda Brown, 2808-R.

Orides, Yeomen Plan No-Date Dance Session

Campus clothes and no dates are in order for tonight's Orides-Yeomen sports dance at 8:30 on the second floor of Gerlinger, it was announced by Jeanne Smith, co-chairman of the dance.

Members will be admitted free upon presentation of their membership cards. Non-members are welcome, but must pay a 15-cent admission price. All independent students are invited to attend.

Music for the dance will be furnished by records.

Extension Publication Aids Distant Students

Students taking University extension work will be kept informed of opportunities and accomplishments of the Oregon state system of higher education extension work by means of a new quarterly publication—the General Extension Journal.

The paper, the first issue of which is just off the press, will be offered free to the 5,500 persons participating in general extension work. It is written by the journalistic writing class of the Portland center, and printed at the University Press.

The publication has eight three-column pages, and contains all news pertaining to extension work.

Dancers Entertain 25

About 25 college and high school students and townspeople attended the Spanish folk dance group Wednesday night in the YMCA under the supervision of Ladrew Moshberger, University high school teacher. They learned Las Chiapanecas, one of the dances from Mexico, said Betsy Steffen who has been helping with arrangements.

University of Detroit enrollment is up five per cent.

Special Train Leaves Tuesday

Oregon's rally train will leave Eugene at 8 a.m. Tuesday, November 11, to carry the vanguard of Ducks to Portland for the Oregon-Santa Clara game.

Early birds can leave Saturday or Monday on the 12:15 or 5:10 afternoon trains. The special Armistice day train will arrive in Portland at 11:55 a.m. in time for the opening whistle.

Special fares are being offered, according to the announcement made by the rally committee, rates being $2.89 round trip, Saturday and Monday, and $2.63 on Armistice day.

The returning rally train will leave Portland Tuesday, November 11, at 6:30 p.m. Tickets and information may be obtained at the booth on Thirteenth street between Oregon and commerce buildings.

Byrne Will Speak

Charles D. Byrne, secretary of the state board of higher education, will speak following the 8 a.m. mass at the St. Mary's Catholic church Sunday. He will address members of the church grade school on current questions.

Social Officers Hold Election

Men's Social Chairmen committee, organized last year to coordinate social activities in the men's living organizations and to work with women social chairmen on all-campus events, met Thursday at Gerlinger hall for the election of officers and to plan the course of action for the coming year.

Art Wiggins was elected president, replacing Ken Bowes. Jack Brown is vice-president, and Dale McKenzie is secretary.

Wiggins, who will represent the group, will work with Carolyn Holmes, campus social chairman, in the planning of the proper attire for campus dances, late permission for dances, and similar problems hitherto settled by campus women.

Dean of Women Hazel P. Schwering and Assistant Dean Alice Macduff attended the meeting.

Main purpose of this official organization will be to give campus men some "say" in the planning of campus social life.
