Ducks Trek Homeward; Classes Meet

Friday saw many Oregon students leaving the campus for home towns, or for Portland. Many will stay through Tuesday to see Oregon play the Santa Clara Broncos in Multnomah civic stadium. Classes will meet Monday as scheduled.

A plan had once been pushed to hold Monday classes Saturday, but this was declared impractical in view of the fact that many students have Saturday jobs. Students planned to take advantage of allowed cuts by going home for a four-day weekend.

Woody Hite

Woody Hite's orchestra will play for a rally dance at the Masonic temple in Portland at 9 p.m.

ROTC's crack honor team, company "A" will march in Portland's Armistice day parade and will present a drill stunt at half-time in the Santa Clara game.

Late Permission

Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women, has granted 12:15 permission to University women for Monday night.

The Emerald will be published Monday morning, but no issues will appear Tuesday or Wednesday mornings, Fred O. May, business manager, has announced.

The four-day Thanksgiving weekend, now only two weeks away, is expected to decrease the number of students that might ordinarily go to the game this weekend.

Ruby Jackson Edits Features

Appointment of Ruby Jackson, junior in journalism, as feature editor of the Oregon Daily Emerald, was announced Friday by Ray Schrick, managing editor.

Miss Jackson will be in charge of feature material and will cooperate with the regular news department in this work. She worked on the Emerald-last year, as a reporter and on the copy desk and night staffs. She was pledged recently to Theta Sigma

No Superstitions Haunt Healing Hut

There is no such thing as superstition among the enlightened personnel of the Pill Palace, as witnessed by recently-assembled data. The building is on 13th street, and the operating room is numbered 13.

But there were six more than thirteen patients Friday: Merritt Kufferman, Bob Newland, Benjamin Paull, Henry Voderberg, Doris McLain, Alice Maude Bloodworth, Patricia Mead, Shirley Burberick, Eathel Sutton, Milodene Goss, Lorraine Lewis, Maurice O'Connell, Jack Fruit, Dan Plaza, Warren Hamilton, Robert Irvin, Walt Hennessey, Edwin Salstrom, and Dr. Lyle Wyatt.

Leighton Given Honor Degree

To honor a College of Idaho alumnus for distinguished service and outstanding accomplishment in his chosen field, the College of Idaho at Caldwell conferred upon Dr. R. W. Leighton, dean and director of the University school of physical education, an honorary doctor of science degree at its

Ex Comm Discusses Grade Requirements

MR. BIG OF ADS

Lou Townsend, national president of Alpha Delta Sigma, men's advertising society, visited the campus Wednesday. Above are Pat Cloud, Dave Stone, Townsend, Chuck Haener, and Warren Roper. Rear row: Al Hunt, David Holmes, Ancil Payne, and Wilbur Lind. The eight students are new pledges to ADS. Mr. Townsend was principal speaker at the ADS pledge dinner Thursday night.

HE'S CHICAGO BOUND

Dr. Theodore Kratt, dean of the music school, shown rehearsing the University orchestra, will be the guest conductor of the Chicago Civic orchestra soon in an All-American program. He will leave for Chicago Wednesday, November 12, where he is scheduled to attend a meeting of the Commission on Curricula of the National Association of Schools of Music.

Kratt Attends Chicago Meet

Dr. Theodore Kratt, dean of the school of music, will leave Wednesday, November 12, for Chicago where he will attend a meeting of the commission on curricula of the National Association of Schools of Music. While in Chicago he will be guest conductor of the Chicago Civic orchestra in an All-American program in which the principal number will be Howard Hansen's "Romantic" symphony.

Dr. Kratt has been a member of the commission for many years and is Pacific coast examiner for schools which are members of the association. The University music school holds the highest rating possible in the association which is the national accrediting body for music schools.

On the way to Chicago, he will stop in Boulder, Colorado, where he will attend a meeting of the Music Educators of State Universities. On the return trip he will stop at Salt Lake City to examine the McCune school of music.

Condon Adds Three

Three new associate members were named at a meeting of Condon club, geology honorary, Thursday, according to Ben Wohler, president. Elected to honorary membership were Dr. Homer G. Barnett, instructor in anthropology and H. L. Robe, attendant at the museum of natural history.

New student associates are George Surdam, Frank Morgan, and Jack Besse.

University To Entertain OSC Guests

What the committee did:

1. Discussed the possibility, of recommending to the scholarship committee that a 2-point GPA be set as requirement for eligibility in University activities.

2. Heard the report of ASUO President Lou Torgeson on the annual meeting of Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders in Corvallis last week.

3. Decided to invite the executive committee of the Associated Students of Oregon State college to the Oregon campus for a banquet and discussion on common problems.

4. Decided to accept petitions immediately for vacancies on the rally squad.

May Recommend

Possibility of an executive committee recommendation to the scholarship committee, suggesting that a 2-point be established as uniform eligibility requirement in all campus activities, appeared at the executive committee meeting Friday afternoon.

At present, ASUO President Lou Torgeson explained last night, there are three standards of scholastic eligibility. The ASUO constitution asks for a 2-point, if a person has completed more than 93 hours. The dean of women and dean of men require that a person with less than 93 hours have a 1.75, and that a person with more than 93 hours have a 2-point. The AWS requires a 2-point in all cases.

Ex UO Net Ace Forced Down

Len Clark, '41, former Oregonatennis star, was forced to make two emergency landings Friday, when a defective muffler on the plane he was flying to Eugene set fire to fabric covering the muffler. He was uninjured.

The first forced landing was made when, one half hour out of Portland, Clark smelled smoke and made an emergency landing in a field. He made temporary repairs and continued the trip toward Eugene.

While flying over mountainous regions in search of a recently, lost plane, Clark again noticed the smell of burning fabric and made a landing in a field 3 miles northeast of Harrisburg.

After putting out the fire, Clark called the Eugene airport for a mechanic. Repairs will be made tomorrow and the plane flown to the local airport.

Oh, Unhappy Day Shoes in Style for 'Sadie Hawkins'

By JANET WAGSTAFF

With the approach of November 8, "official" Sadie Hawkins day, a void was noted in the social plans of campus No. 1. Nary a handicap race, yea, nary even a Dog Patch Dance is scheduled.

So a symposium seeming suitable, statements of students here and there were garnered.

Betty Coed

It says here that Betty (coed) Kincaid thinks it's an okay idea, and ought to give a girl a chance to get a "man" at least once a year.

On the other side, sophomores'
Joe College, Bill Lyon, said, "If we handled it right we could really have a lot of fun with it."

But then he reconsidered, in the light of the bare feet idea, and concluded that Mortar Board takes care of the thing. "Bare feet might be all right in spring, but not now," he decided.

Chased Enough

Concensus of Gamma Phi opinion was relayed via phone by freshman Rosslyn Morrill, "Don't think it's such a good idea. The men around here get chased enough as it is."

After moments of weighty pondering Lou "the prexy" Torgeson handed down this decision, "It's enough to disrupt any system."

Corrine Nelson, authority of the Emerald women's page, replied with spirit, "Well, what would I want with a Sadie Hawkins day!" referring, of course, to Pappy Lyle.

Bob Whitely, columnist, said, "It wouldn't matter whether I were confined in bed, or locked up in a block of cement. Meaning: I don't need to worry."

B. J. Biggs claimed she'd like to tell what she thought of Li'l Abner. "I wish he wasn't just in the funny papers." Then she added more seriously, "I guess we really should let Mortar Board be, and do it up with our shoes on."

No comment was forthcoming from Oregon's own Li'l Abner, Elliot Wilson of gridiron note, so Duck opinion is not yet massed enough to form a decision.
