

Game Features ROTC Drill

For its first public demonstration, ROTC Company A, commanded by Cadet Captain Ted Lindley, will migrate nearly 100 strong to Portland for participation in the Armistice day parade and a half time stunt at the game Tuesday, November 11.

Drilling both in the regular Thursday periods and an additional two hours on Tuesday nights, the company has perfected a series of maneuvers with rifles executed without orders. This silent manual will be featured at the Santa Clara game along with some new marching formations on the field.

Assembly

Captain Harvey Blythe, adviser for the company, announced that all students participating in the Portland demonstrations must appear at the corner of Madison and S.W. Park avenue at 10 a.m. in uniform. The company will assemble in the park blocks for the parade.

The military department will see that the needed rifles are transported to Portland, Captain Blythe announced, but students will be responsible for their own transportation.

Shine Up

He told the boys to be particularly careful that their brass is polished and their shoes shined.

The University band, under the direction of John Stehn, will provide music during the demonstrations.

Law Women Seek Aid; Cop to Crash Capers

It is rumored that there will be one man at the Coed Capers Monday evening, November 17.

O. L. Rhinesmith, the campus police officer, has been asked to assist the senior "cops" in keeping out possible male crashers at the coeds' exclusive party.

At a Thursday night AWS cabinet meeting, Bette Morfitt announced the "temporary acquisition" of 15 lettermen sweaters in which the "cops" will display their official power, at least for Monday night.

Rally Openings Now Created

Two impending vacancies in the rally squad and one in a yell duke position were brought to the attention of the ASUO executive committee Friday afternoon.

These positions will be open to a senior woman and a sophomore man who will be picked to replace Pat Howard and Charles Mallory.

One Ineligible

Miss Howard has been declared scholastically ineligible, and Mallory will not be in school next term, the committee was informed.

Bud Steele, yell duke, has also been declared ineligible because of grades. Earle Russell, yell king, will appoint a successor to Steele.

Petitions

Persons wishing to fill rally squad vacancies must submit petitions to ASUO President Lou Torgeson, or Secretary Bette Morfitt. The executive committee will then appoint the two new members.

A similar situation existed earlier this year, when Ray Dickson did not return to school. George Arbuckle was appointed by the executive committee to fill his position.

Week-Long Card Drive Set for Monday Start

The junior class card drive will begin next Monday, according to Pat Cloud, class president.

"Because so few cards were sold at registration," announced Cloud Friday, "we are inaugurating a week-long drive at the Igloo and, in addition, we hope to have house representatives sell the cards."

The cost of cards is 10 cents. Cloud believes them necessary to assure selection of the best men qualified to fill positions open within the class. The drive will end Saturday.

Bishop, Page to Visit UO Medical School

Wilbur Bishop, editor of the Oregana, and Emerson Page, business manager, will be in Portland this weekend to organize an Oregana sales campaign at the University medical school, Page announced Friday.

While there, Bishop will investigate color printing for the 1942 annual. They will talk with members of the Portland Dads' club about purchase of copies of the yearbook.

Committee heads are working on class skits and have announced the titles or general idea of the satires. "Seven Beers With the Wrong Man" is the title of the freshman skit; the sophomores are keeping their's a deep secret, except for the fact that it has something to do with a "woman's world;" the juniors intend to present a musical comedy, and the seniors call their entertainment, "Horace, the Bear." Mrs. Alice B. Macduff, assistant dean of women, is heading the faculty skit, but has not yet divulged the title.

A prize will be awarded for the best skit, and additional prizes will be given for the cleverest house costume, and most original individual attire.

Publicity will continue with a display of posters advertising the Capers, and with short skits to be presented at women's living organizations next week.

Representatives in each house will handle ticket sales for that house, Finance Chairman Florence Cooley announced. The tickets are 15 cents and will be distributed next week, she said.

Police Dog Steals Master's Binder

Jeff, a well trained police dog, remained at attention during the entire economics class Friday from his accustomed place at the feet of his master, Ed Wyatt.

After waiting patiently for the dismissal bell before rising, he grabbed Ed's leather binder and headed for home.

Hidden Book Haven Houses Sam's Tome

Sam Johnson's dictionary was too big. So they put it in the "mezzanine room," the "Orphan Annie" of library sanctuaries.

The library had some costume plates, too, and they were too big. So they put them in the mezzanine room.

The mezzanine room is the library retreat people never hear about. It contains one table, three chairs, congressional records, current congressional bills, documents, catalogs, publications of government offices, the costume plates, and Sam Johnson's big book. Latest census reports were added last week.

The room may be found by asking the reference librarian for the "mezzanine room."
