Two Selected To Fill Places In Committee

Tony Cummings and Bill Farrall were chosen yesterday by the ASUO executive committee to fill existing vacancies in the rally committee. The vacancies were filled after the committee had considered petitions of the candidates.

Miss Cummings replaces Pat Howard, who was declared ineligible recently. Farrall will replace Chuck Mallory, who will not be in school winter term.

Similar

A similar situation existed earlier in the term, when George Arbuckle was chosen to fill a rally post left vacant by Ray Dickson, who did not return to school. Dickson is now in the US navy.

The rally committee has already started work with the Homecoming committee in presenting the rally assembly to be held in McArthur court Friday, November 27. The rally will take the place of the usual noise parade.

Program

Included in the rally assembly will be yells led by Earle Russell and his yell leaders, tap dancing, a one-man band, and the AOPi quartet. The program will go on the air at 9 p.m. Two prominent stations will broadcast it.

Following the rally a free, informal dance will be held at Gerlinger hall.

Sophomore Skit Wins First Place at Capers

Sophomore women won first place in the coed capers skit contest last night with their "Conscription Calls Coeds," play. The skit was supervised by Janet Ross. Seniors took second place with "Horace the Bear," arranged by Robin Nelson.

Hendricks hall women won the costume contest with their suffragette theme, which was originated by Mary Reimers.

Two men, allegedly "planted," were ejected by the "senior cops." The "cops" picked them up, carried them to the door, and threw them out. They waited, however, until a photographer was present.

'Y' Cabinets to Meet In Bungalow Today

YMCA and YWCA cabinets will meet in joint session this afternoon at 4 in the "YW" bungalow. Problems common to both groups will be discussed and reports of the "Y" conference held at the Dayton migratory camp last weekend will be given.

Br-r-r-r

When I came down to school this fall,
'Twas wonderous weather to behold.
I made my bed 'neath windows wide.
On sleeping porch I would abide
Where breath of nature could unfold.

But not I much of weather knew,
For wind doth blow and cold doth sting.

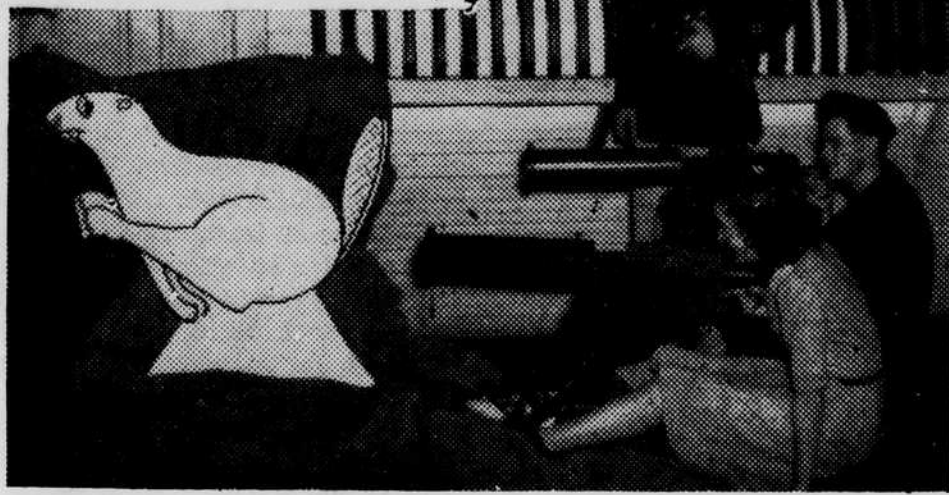

So now I lie all shivery,
And think how grand 'twill surely be

If I can but hold out 'til spring.

—J.W.S.

BLITZKRIEG

"Blitzing the Beavers" in wartime style are Hope Hughes, Homecoming hostess, and Ancil Payne, Homecoming promotion chairman. Russ Hudson, general chairman, looks on with semi-militaristic nonchalance.

Welcome Back, Grads 'Hello Girl' Will Greet Alumni at Homecoming

"Hello," smiled Oregon's No. 1 "Hello Girl." "How are you? Won't you sit down? Just make yourself at home. Would you like to take off your coat?"

Thus with a warm, friendly smile and a cordial handshake Hope Hughes, Homecoming hostess, welcomes her guests. Thus will the spell of her vibrant personality make returning alums and other visitors to the annual alumni fete feel they are truly "coming home."

Fun?

"I think it's fun," Miss Hughes said of her job as hostess, "although I've really done nothing yet but say 'hello' to everyone I meet. But I like being hostess for Oregon—I even liek the ribbing I get about it."

More than a little puzzled about the duties of a Homecoming hostess, Miss Hughes is not yet quite sure exactly what she is supposed to do, aside from greeting all the students, faculty members, alumni, mothers, dads, brothers, sisters, and family goldfish she meets. "I think I'm supposed to help with registration of alums," she remarked vaguely.

Broad Field

Oregon's official hospitality girl is a history major because "history is such a broad field and includes so many other fields as it records their developments." She hasn't yet decided what to do after graduation next spring, but thinks she might like to teach history in college.

"Sports are my favorite diversion," Miss Huges, president of the Women's Athletic association, declared, "with swimming heading the list but closely followed by volleyball and rifle."

Big Meetings Planned Here For Old Grads

Three different meetings, business and social, have been planned for Oregon alumni who will visit the campus during Homecoming weekened.

Two o'clock Friday afternoon, November 28, 36 alumni directors meet in 107 Friendly. President Erb will discuss University and alumni association business.

The annual business meeting of the entire association will take place Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Guild theater of Johnson hall.

The annual social get-together of the grads and friends will take place in the Eugene armory, Seventh and Pearl, immediately following the Homecoming game and will last till 6:30 p.m.

CPT Head to Quiz 20 Applicants Today

Twenty applicants for spring primary civilian pilot training will be interviewed today. Franklin Sherwin, ground instructor, will talk to the students between 1 and 3 o'clock at 107 Condon.

Asked to report today are: Charles Putnam, Harold Morgan, Ralph Crawford, Jack Lakefish, Kim McKim, Ed Parry, William McKevitt, Roy Trask, George Anderson, Trenton Wann, Robert Davis, Robert Parker, Philip

David Will Organize Oregana Ad Workers

Persons interested in working on the advertising staff of the Oregana will meet in the Oregana office at 3 p.m. today, according to Doug David, advertising manager. The staff will include salesmen, layout men, and production managers.

Yet's Dance

Woody Hite to Play At Homecoming Hop

Woody Hite's orchestra has been signed to play at the Homecoming dance Saturday evening, November 29, it was announced late Monday by Ted Hallock, band chairman.

After losing all his instruments and library in the disastrous Palladium fire in Portland, Hite organized a new band and purchased a complete new library. He has since been playing in the Uptown in Portland. He also provided music for the Portland rally dance.

Last year Hite played on the campus for the Military ball. The orchestra boasts two vocalists.

Big Name

Although attempts were made to sign a big name band, it was found that all those contacted had been booked far in advance.

Hite's band is comparatively new, having first been organized just seven years ago. Don Hite, brother of Woody, is a member of the orchestra.

Informal

Short silks for girls and suits for boys will be the order of the evening, as the Homecoming dance is traditionally informal.

Patrons and patronesses are being invited to the dance by means of letters.

Tickets to the dance will be sold through the living organizations.

Weekend Rain Floods Faculty, Drenches Pets

With his cat floating around in the basement, and his chickens roosting in trees, E. G. Moll, associate professor of English, had a decidedly uncomfortable time Sunday night when "old man river" was flooding his basement and orchard, putting his new furnace out of order, and sending all the sawdust floating in his basement.

Professor R. H. Ernst also was in rather trying circumstances Sunday when he went out to a golf course and parked his car. Upon returning he found his car flooded, and himself obliged to find other means of transportation.

FIRST NIGHTER

Phyllis Gray, pianist, will give the first student recital of the year tonight at 8. Her featured number will be Liszt Concerto in E-Flat. The orchestral part will be played at a second piano by Aurora Potter Underwood, associate professor of music.

Student Recital Tonight at 8:00

The first student recital of the year will be given by Phyllis Gray, pianist, in the music auditorium tonight at 8.

Her featured number will be the Liszt Concerto in E-Flat, a work which is noted for its brilliance and technical difficulties. The orchestral part will be played at a second piano by Aurora Potter Underwood, associate professor of music.

Also of interest will be the "Capriccio" by Thad Elvigion, former University student. For the first time in Eugene the "Caprice Burlesque" by Gabrilowitch, pianist, conductor, and son-in-law of Mark Twain will be played.

Two descriptive numbers will be included on the program. The first is Schumann's suite, "Papillon," in which the composer describes different parts of a carnival, and the second, Debussy's "La Soire dans Granade" in which memories of an evening in Granada are portrayed.

YM Freshmen to Plan Dessert at Meeting

Points on campus etiquette by Dean of Women Hazel P. Schwerling, a tentative comedy skit, and plans for a preference dessert are on the slate of the meeting of the YMCA frosh commission at 4:30 today in the YMCA house.

Almost Best SDX Second in Nation

For the second successive year the Oregon chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, is rated second in the nation. Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Portland Oregonian and a professional member of the Oregon chapter, was elected national president at the fraternity's convention in New Orleans last weekend.

The Oregon chapter came out one percentage below the first-ranking Northwestern university group. Lyle Nelson was president during 1940-41. In 1938-39, the Oregon group won first place.

Biggest boost to the local chapter was its successful Kay Kyser dance last spring which netted $900 for the student union fund. The society has sponsored several all-school assemblies, compiled a photographic yearbook, staged banquets, helped run off newspaper conventions on the campus, and initiated prominent Oregon journalists as professional members.
