'Aqua-Slugs' Crawl With 'Lugs' Today

By DON RICHARDSON
Swimming Coach Mike Hoyman will present an early-season preview of his Webfoot splashers, both varsity and frosh, today at 4 p.m. in an intersquad meet at the men's pool. It will be open to the student body and visitors free of charge.

"These intersquad meets often are better than regular conference swims," Hoyman commented yesterday.

This will be the first chance for Duck rooters to view this year's edition of aqua splashers, which show promises of being one of the strongest teams in the Northern division race.

Hoyman has combined the varsity and frosh squads into two teams. "The Lugs," captained by Chuck Nelson and Jack Robinson, and the "Slugs," led by Cub Callis and Gerry Huestis, both hold high hopes of winning, because it has been decided that the losers are to meet the wood (get hacked).

Two newcomers to the varsity squad will make their debut today. Don Belding will help Gerry Huestis uphold the honor of the "Slugs" against "Lug" Ralph Huestis in the 200-yard breast stroke event. Dick Ashrow, another "Slug" is slated to swim in the 150-yard back stroke and the 440-yard relay.

Frosh taking part in the meet are Bob Hanke, Tom Hazard, Gene Davis, Al Peterson, and Al Basmajian. Their turnout will be limited because of illness among several members.

There will be plenty of action in every race, but there are two or three that will be of special interest. Another chapter in the back stroke duel between Chuck Nelson and Cub Callis will be written as these two speedsters tangle in the 150-yard event.

Probably the hottest races will develop between Jack Robinson and Dick Smith in the 220-yard and 440-yard free style tilts. Smith has been out of competition for a year while serving with Uncle Sam, but is working back into condition again. Robinson, who is only a sophomore, has been burning up the lanes so far this year, and shows promise of being one of the best distance men in the conference.

Dr. Staples Takes Geological Holiday

Dr. Lloyd W. Staples, assistant professor of geology, attended the opening of Charleton's commercial laboratory in Portland recently. The only commercial spectroscope in use in Oregon was displayed, and the effects of impurities in diamonds in producing fluorescence shown, according to Dr. Staples.

The remainder of the vacation Dr. Staples spent near Burns, making a geological study of an area reported to yield tin, in an attempt to find out whether or not the region has commercial possibilities. Results of his study will be determined in the laboratory here.

Ducks Topple Rubes In Practice Contest

New Players Star in High Scoring Tilt

By FRED TREADGOLD

Oregon's varsity, playing a fast brand of ball, outlasted the Rubensteins last night in another of their practice scrimmages at the Igloo. No official score was tabulated.

Starting out in fine style, the Rubes ran up an early lead before the Ducks got rolling. Once started Oregon soon had things swinging their way and by half time claimed a slight margin.

Oregon Extends Lead

While the Rubes experimented with new players, the Ducks speeded up the play, and Howard Hobson's green and yellow-clad quintet stretched this lead to a sizeable degree. Things ended with the Rubes closing the gap, thanks to the heavy firing of Earl Sandness and Ted Sarpola, ex-Webfoots.

It was a case of laxity in defense by both teams, rather than exceptional scoring prowess that was responsible for the heavy bombardment of the hoop.

All Ducks turned in a fairly good account of themselves though at times the ball handling was rough. Two newcomers, Willson Maynard and John Erickson, came through with promising performances. Maynard was very effective with two-handed howitzers, while Erickson displayed a deadly lefthanded shot.

The Rubes' "Big Four" of Jack Butterworth, Laddie Gale, Sandness, and Sarpola, once more monopolized the scoring. Gale's fake-and-shoot tactics were particularly lethal, while Sandness produced some stellar overhead shots.

Veterans Start

Starting for the Ducks were Bob Wren and Rolph Fuhrman, forwards; Loyd Jackson, center; "Porky" Andrews and Paul Jackson, guards. Reserves entering the contest for Oregon were: Don Kirsch, Bob Newland, Archie Marshik, Cliff Anet, Maynard, and Erickson.

Colds kept Warren Taylor and Warren Christiansen on the bench. Both should be back in uniform within the next few days.

Kappa Sigs, Chi Psis Defeat 'B' Opponents

By TOM HUEBNER

Although Homecoming signs, evidently now in the making, took their quota of athletes from their respective houses, three eager volleyball teams showed up for Wednesday's contests in the PE building.

Kappa Sigma after winning one tilt, 15 to 9, lost the second to the Chi Psi sextet by a score of 15 to 8 and then fought their way to the top to take the final bout, 15 to 7, thereby taking the series. High point honors go to Corbett and Montage, Kappa Sigs.

Chi Psi Dumps Sigma Nu
A mighty Chi Psi outfit, although they were stopped cold by a mightier Sigma Nu, 15 to 8, in their second tilt, took the two remaining bouts, 15 to 6 and 15 to 12, respectively, to capture win honors in their name. Much of their good luck can be attributed to the activity of Morry Ambrose and Al Putnam.

Gamma Hall Shines
After sporting bad luck in numerous contests previously, Gamma hall took a turn for the better yesterday when they administered a sound 15 to 3—18 to 15 drubbing to Kirkwood co-op. Both teams used a style of play calculated to outplay their opponents by forcing them to return serves into the net. Honors, if any, go to Gamma hall's Pattison and Peterson.

Three Defaults
The other three games scheduled for yesterday were all defaulted. In the "A" league the Sig Eps defaulted to DU and Sherry Ross lost by default to Kirkwood. In the "B" league Theta Chi won by default over the Sig Eps.

Dr. Theodore M. Bischoff, M.D. '39, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Susan Carroll.

Lawyers Mess On Gridiron

It took a writ of habeas corpus to get most of the law school senior class out to the football field last Friday afternoon but once they got started the freshman class couldn't hold them back in spite of their appeals to the judges and claims of nolo contendere. The seniors won, 6 to 0, which coupled with their victory over the second-year class the week before, gave them the law school pennant.

The seniors depended on power drives through center for their yardage with Fullback Irving Mann carrying the ball. The only threat made by the freshmen was a passing attack by Carl Little, halfback. Veteran Phil Lowry of the senior squad was on the bench due to the drubbing he took in the game the week before. The young lawyers now plan to challenge the seniors of the school of business administration to a game.

Three Pledged

Three more men students were pledged by three houses within the last week, announced the dean of men's office, Tuesday.

These were: Fred James Lloyd of Klamath Falls, who was pledged by Kappa Sigma; James Magee, Rieth, pledged by Phi Sigma Kappa; and Dudley Fagerstrom, San Jose, California, pledged by Chi Psi.
