

Feast Planned For Architects

A group of Portland architects will visit drafting room students next Wednesday to discuss problems with the students, according to Cyrus Nims, president of the Drafting Room club.

Glenn Stanton, chairman of the educational committee of the Portland chapter of the American Institute of Architecture, has made all the arrangements for the visit of the Portland men.

The architects will arrive in Eugene Wednesday morning, have lunch with the faculty of the art school at the Anchorage and spend the afternoon in the drafting room discussing architectural problems with the students.

At 6:30 a banquet will be held at the Anchorage for the visiting architects, members of the faculty, and drafting room students. A charge of 75 cents will be made for this banquet.

Later in the evening the group will go to the Little Art gallery for informal discussion.

Educational Honorary Elects Representative

Stanley Williamson, president of Phi Delta Kappa, national honorary for men in education, was selected to represent the local chapter at the national convention in Chicago in December at the meeting held Monday evening. Professor F. L. Stetson will also make the trip as regional representative.

Plans were made by the members to sponsor Charles H. Judd, former dean of education at the University of Chicago and at present consultant for the Portland schools, the afternoon of December 12 and the morning of December 13. Talks and a banquet have been planned for the occasion.

Jam for Breakfast

The marvelous item in said pressing is a short ten bars of Coleman Hawkins tenoring which is better than most of his late stuff has been.

Most of the good recorded stuff is showing on Okeh these days. Claude Thornhill's ork is cutting like mad on this label with "Traumeri," "Hungarian Dance No. 5" and "Snowfall," released thus far. Only thing worth saying once about Decca this week is the B. Crosby, J. Teagarden, M. Martin clog on "Waiter, Porter and Hot Diggety Dawg."

Millrace Yields Ancient Hoard After Big Flood

Lost anything since you've been here? If you have, there's a good chance you'll find it in the mud in the bottom of the millrace.

Since the water all went out of the race some rather queer things have been found in the mud. Among the treasures dug up have been water tanks, salt shakers, a dollar bill, silverware, bottles, tires, records, inner tubes, a pair of glasses and old clothes.

The Gamma Phis announced that Pat Sutton had found a Sigma Nu pin. Also reported were several term papers, a thesis, and date books.

Career School Offers Awards

Five fashion fellowships to be awarded members of this year's senior class have just been announced by the Tobe-Coburn School for Fashion Careers in New York. Each fellowship covers the $700 tuition in the school for the year 1942-1943.

Women members of the senior class who wish to register for the fellowship awards must mail registration blanks and the first paper, an informal autobiography, to the school by December 5. Two more papers, a set of test questions, and a fashion research project are spaced at convenient times.

"A Letter to Seniors" containing complete information, with registration blank, may be obtained in the dean of women's office in Gerlinger hall.

ately refuses to budge from her position and continues her campaign of hate amongst her peoples against the encircling powers.

The next move is up to Japan and that means war.

Cuff stuff: Joachim von Ribbentrop says: "The constant pouring of materials out of America will in a relatively short time bring this land to an economic crisis the like of which no land has yet seen."

For heaven's sake Jo, Germany started with economic chaos and I must grudgingly admit done rather well in a constant state of economic crisis. Our resources are far greater than Germany's and if Germany can struggle through I am inclined to think you're not thinking.

Violinist Wins Wide Acclaim

Stout defenders of the governmental policy of furthering South American friendship will be interested in the following excerpt from the letter of the South American manager of Yehudi Menuhin's record-breaking tour through the South American countries.

"I have had the honor and privilege of introducing this great master and genius to the music lovers of South America. The first tour of Yehudi Menuhin brought new glory and recognition to this universally-loved musician, record-breaking achievements in capacity attendance, in ovations, the like of which has not been witnessed in any of our metropolitan music centers in a generation.

"In the year 1941, North America has had no better or truer ambassador of good-will than the modest, earnest, and glorious Yehudi Menuhin, who sang himself deeply into our consciousness. He made us all realize, by direct voice of sublime music, that North America has also a great soul and spirit to offer to us another bond of friendship."

Menuhin's concert will begin at 8:15 Monday evening in McArthur court. Exchange tickets must be obtained at the booth in McArthur court and must be accompanied by an educational activity card for admission to the concert.

Classes to Broadcast

German and Scandinavian classes will present a radio program over KOAC Monday, December 1, at 8:30 p.m.

The program, directed by Mrs. Astrid Mark Williams, assistant professor of German, and Robert Curran, graduate assistant in German, will include talks on the languages and a solo by Margaret Zimmerman, "Solweig's Song" from Peer Gynt.

Pi Delta Phi Meets

Pi Delta Phi, French honorary, will hold a business meeting in Dr. Laurence Lesage's office, room 117 in Friendly hall at 2:45 Friday.

The purpose of the meeting will be a special election of officers, though other business will be discussed.

NEW MASTER

Yehudi Menuhin, master of the violin, will appear at McArthur court on the Greater Artists Series Monday evening, December 1. Menuhin was a child prodigy at the age of 7 and is now a polished player at 23. Exchange tickets must be obtained for the concert.

Westminster Holds Open House Tonight

Open house will be held at Westminster house after the rally tonight with dancing, games, a play presented by the drama club, and refreshments on the program.

In the play, under the direction of Erma Scott, drama chairman, are Florence Anderson, Norman King, Nathan Edwards, and Irene De Zaney.

Extension Division

O. K. Burrell, professor of business administration, will instruct a new class in theory of accounting Friday night at Salem as part of the work offered by the state extension division.

The class is made up of men from offices in state departments and various industrial and business organizations of that city.

Miss Morris is a past member of Kwama and Phi Theta Upsilon. Last year she served as co-chairman of the World Service Student fund. Yesterday it was announced that she was one of the Oregon students to be listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges."

Students Aid Comish On Research Articles

Dr. N. H. Comish, professor of business administration, is writing a series of articles on exchanges and returns in 337 Oregon stores. Two articles in the series have already been published in the October and November issues of the Oregon Merchants' magazine. The October article is entitled "The Significance of Returns and Exchanges," and the November article, "A Reduction of Returns and Exchanges Through Better Salesmanship."

Data for the articles were gathered by Dr. Comish's research students through personal interviews with 337 Oregon merchants and 1,135 selected consumers in Eugene, Albany and Salem.

Research students helping to make the surveys are G. L. Chandler, A. M. Cloninger, Helen Elliott, M. W. Elle, Edward Farrar, Robert Kroessin, Maxine Klinge, Virginia Miller, J. H. Nicholson, L. C. Reid, Robert Smith, S. P. Smith, P. B. Thormann, and S. Zion.
