

Library Display Shows Carvings

Hand-carved wooden objects make up a special Homecoming display at the circulation department of the University library. The objects have been donated for display purposes by Eugene residents.

One of the most weird objects on display is the "Medicine man." He is wearing a ceremonial dancing costume with a fringed Chilcat blanket, ermine skin "trails," cedar bark neck ring, amolite or forehead mask, sea lion bristle headdress with eagle down.

This relic was donated by Mrs. A. H. Ernst, associate professor of English. Also donated by Mrs. Ernst are a treasure box of bent cedar which is made without nails, a figure of a Javanese princess, and a Raven spoon.

Figures carved in Mexico are: Hopi Kochina, who represents the gods of New Mexico; two monks; a carved figure of Don Quixote, and a Mexican maskoid. Sweden is represented by a jewelry chest, spoon, fork, pen, and various other small figures. A very interesting and realistic skull carved from coffee wood comes from Costa Rica.

Women to Speak

First public appearance of the Women's Symposium group will be January 7 at River Road for the women's club.

Big Mystery; Cap Disappears From Infirmary

Lost, strayed, and stolen all in one describes the disappearance of a nurse's cap belonging to a member of the capsule camp's night staff. She treated a patient one evening last week, and as the patient went so went the cap.

As the saying goes, its return would be appreciated.

Those who spent the first night of Homecoming in the infirmary are: Erling Erlandson, Betty Rodgers, Margaret Childs, Peggy Gardner, Mrs. Glenna Piper, Marilyn Woodruff, Edward Nulty, Robert Walter Long, Jean Dutton, William McLennan, Cecil Warner, Nathan Feves, Everett Franks, John Alden, Dick Larkin, Robert B. Petersen, and William Clayson.

Architects Visit

Drafting room students have received word that Glenn Stanton, Fred Aandahl, and George Wardner will be the architects to visit them Wednesday afternoon and evening Cyrus Nims, president of the club, announced Friday.

"Freshman and sophomore students are especially urged to be present in the drafting room Wednesday afternoon to meet and talk with the visiting architects," Nims said.

OREGON EMERALD

Copy Desk:

Herb Penny, city editor
Margaret Brooke
Mary Aldrich
Ray Schrick
Thorn Kinersly
Mary Wolf
Johnny Mathews
Mildred Wilson

Night Staff:

Bob Edwards, night editor
Ted Bush
Jack Billings
Mary Wolf
Marjorie Young
Ruth Jordan

Houses Pledge Four

Three men's living organizations pledged four students Friday, according to the mean of men's office.

They were Chi Psi, who pledged Fred Howard of Eugene, Delta Tau Delta, pledging Russell Gribskov, Bend, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon, pledging William T. Clayson, Portland, and Dan Hirshfeld, Beverly Hills, California.

ORDER

YOUR

CHRISTMAS

CARDS

NOW!

Get your cards of distinction, that you'll be proud to give from . . .

The Gift Shop

Next to the Rex Theatre
We Give Green Trading Stamps

These five "Alums" certainly started something.

STAN ANDERSON

LINDSAY McARTHUR

ERA (GODFREY) BANKS

LYLE McCROSKEY

WILBUR CARL

as officers of the A.S.U.O., filed articles incorporating the University Co-operative Store in 1920.

For twenty-one years the Co-op, started without a cent of capital has functioned through depression and prosperity. Now, at the age of maturity, it is better qualified to give efficient service to students, faculty and alumni than ever before. Student owned and student controlled, with a definite profit sharing policy, the motto of the store has always been, "Economical and courteous service."

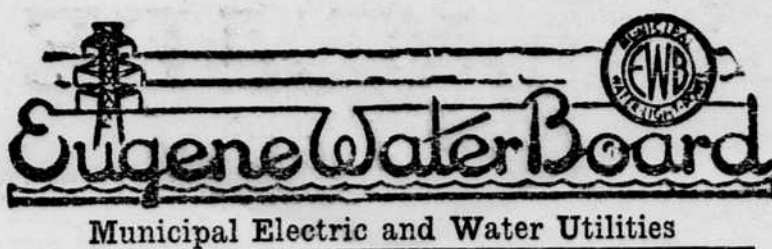

The Oregon students are truly grateful to these five far-sighted founders of this service institution.

The "Co-op"

Blitz the Beavers, Webfoots

May this be Oregon's most successful homecoming! We will be on the job supplying power to broadcast the game for all of those who cannot attend. After the game, you will entertain the alums with the help of electricity in your living organizations.

Municipal Electric and Water Utilities