

Forum Series Organized

26 Pledged, Winter Rush Week Ends

Twenty-six girls were pledged Monday by 12 of the campus sororities, as the winter term pledge period opened.

Neophytes are:

Alpha Delta Pi: Mary Stanley.
Alpha Gamma Delta: Fenna Van Gelder, Enna Van Gelder, Betty Jean Hoblick, and Jean Thomson.

Alpha Omicron Pi: Maxine Martin.

Alpha Phi: Clover Jean Cox, and Barbara Morrison.

Chi Omega: Irma Unden.

Delta Delta Delta: Margaret Deane.

Delta Gamma: Grace Henry.

Gamma Phi Beta: Majalaine LeBeck, Betty Jane Reymers, Charlotte Cummins, Carolyn Vaughn, Sue Lewis.

Kappa Alpha Theta: Dorothy Hayden, Mary Riley, and Donna Jones.

Kappa Kappa Gamma: Gerd Hansen.

Sigma Kappa: Miriam Hoffman, Dorothy Mattis, Elaine Voss, Corrine Croft.

Zeta Tau Alpha: Helen Kresh, and Louanne Best.

Jobs Opened On Emerald

Persons interested in working on the Emerald will meet tonight at 7:30 in 105 Journalism for appointment to working posts on the daily, according to Helen Angell, editor.

Appointments to upper news staff positions will be announced by Miss Angell and Ray Schrick, managing editor. Plans will be discussed for a luncheon for Emerald workers, similar to luncheons held at the beginning of winter and spring terms last year.

Several vacancies remain open for reporters, Bob Frazier, news editor, said last night. Sophomores and upperclassmen, and persons having previous Emerald experience will be given preference for these positions, he said.

German Invasions Fail, Reports War Worker

By JANET WAGSTAFF

Mrs. A. R. Crum, former housemother of Alpha Chi Omega, who has been in England since the outbreak of the war, told University housemothers yesterday that although it was not widely publicized, an invasion of England by Germans in flatboats had been attempted twice. The first time they were fought off by the RAF; the next time the English were better prepared: oil was poured on the water and ignited, burning some invaders and making passage for the rest impossible.

Hurt in Raid

Mrs. Crum has experienced many air raids, and one bomb hit was scored near the hospital in which she was working. The Air Raid?

Student Observers Man Library Listening Post

An aircraft observation post has been established atop the University library as a part of the Lane county defense plan, it was announced yesterday by Luther S. Cressman, head of the anthropology department, who is chief observer for the post.

Six fraternity houses have been signed up for observation duty and members of the houses will man the post 24 hours a day for seven days a week. The fraternities cooperating with Dr. Cressman in this vital matter of civilian defense are Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu, Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Sigma, and Phi Delta Theta.

PLANS READY

Janet Morris, chairman of the love and marriage series, announced that the first lecture of the series will be given February 12. Probable speaker will be Dr. Paul Popenoe, head of the Los Angeles family relations clinic.

Apologies

The ninth corps area bawled us out

For the Emerald's recent endeavor

To picture a graphic description Of Oregon's recent weather.

To mislead the Nipponese
And also to play safe; to many
Who ask about the clime, we say
"Today we are not having any."
—J.W.S.

concussion of this bomb threw her backwards and broke the medicine bottle in her hand, seriously cutting her face.

"These bombings have not affected British morale," Mrs. (Please turn to page eight)

The observation time has been set up in three reliefs of 24 hours each. An assistant chief observer, acting for Dr. Cressman, will be in charge of each relief. They are Bruce Hamby, 1st relief; John Warren, 2nd relief; and Lou Torgeson, 3rd relief.

Alternate Shifts

Two fraternity houses will be responsible for having observers at the post for each relief. One house will provide observers for the 12 hours from noon to midnight and the other from midnight until noon, alternating shifts each week.

The observation post has direct telephone connection with the Eugene filter center in the armory. At a meeting last week members of the six fraternities were given elementary instruction in aircraft observation by officials of the filter center.

Two at Post

Each fraternity house is responsible for its relief and the president of the houses have (Please turn to page eight)

Activities Board Names Ad Head

What the educational activities board did:

1. Approved the appointment of Betty Jane Biggs as advertising manager of the Oregon Daily Emerald.

2. Passed the winter term budget of the educational activities board.

3. Reduced the number of Emeralds to be printed for campus distribution by 200 copies.

Betty Jane Biggs, former associate editor of the Emerald, was officially approved by the executive council last night to replace Warren Roper as advertising manager of the Emerald. Roper, who is still in school, resigned from the position.

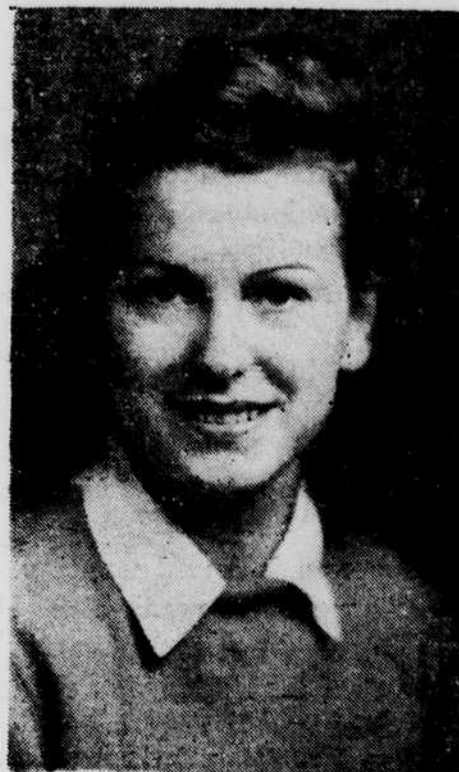

The 200-copy reduction in the number of Emeralds to be printed for campus distribution was occasioned by the lowered enrollment this term.

Oregana

The Oregana, student-published annual, will have the same size page next year, a vote of the council decided.

A special meeting of the activities board will take place Friday, January 24.

POST OPEN

Bette Morfitt, who was graduated at the end of fall term, leaves the position of ASUO secretary-treasurer vacant. Applicants will be interviewed Thursday.

UO Vacancy Petition Due

Petitions of persons desiring the position of secretary-treasurer of the ASUO must be filed in the educational activities office before 5 p.m. Wednesday, ASUO President Lou Torgeson announced last night.

Applicants will be interviewed by members of the executive committee at 4 p.m. Thursday, Torgeson said. The position is the one left open when Bette Morfitt, elected last spring, was graduated from the University at the end of fall term.

Miss Morfitt's failure to return to school leaves Torgeson the only member of the "upper" committee occupying the post to which he was elected in spring elections. Jim Frost, elected as second vice-president, was made (Please turn to page eight)

Director Dedicates Play To Former UO Student

The University theater's production of "Mice and Men," which plays January 16, 17, and 20, has been dedicated to a former student, Alice Hult, by its director, Horace W. Robinson, assistant of drama.

Miss Hult attended the University from 1934 to 1936, appearing in many campus shows. Later, as a member of a group of San Francisco players, she was the first to play Curley's wife in a stage production of "Of Mice and Men."

Author's Permission

The author, John Steinbeck, who is remembered also for "Grapes of Wrath" and "Tortilla Flat," saw the stage play as done by this group and he granted permission for stage performance.

Chief among Miss Hult's campus successes were "Street Scene," "Small Miracle" and "The Queen's Husband."

"Of Mice and Men" will bring to student audiences a number of

Faculty Joins UO Students In Discussion

To stimulate student interest in current affairs, the first in a series of "forums" will come to Oregon Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in 207 Chapman.

Five faculty members will lead the discussions, after which a group of eight students of "above average scholastic ability" will ask questions and attempt to start discussion from the audience.

Informal

Discussions will be informal and will deal with subjects of a "national, local, and campus nature," Lou Torgeson, ASUO president, said last night. Faculty and student personnel will change from week to week, if the forums are continued.

al forum is Dr. C. G. Howard, professor of law. General topic is "The World We Want After the Leader of the first experiment-War." Other faculty members and their topics are:

Topics

Dr. Calvin Crumbaker, professor of economics, "Inside the USA;" Dr. Waldo Schumaker, professor of political science, "Basic Causes Leading to the Present Crisis;" Dr. Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, "Across Our Borders;" Rev. E. S. Bartlam, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, "Values to Live By."

(Please turn to page eight)

Identification Photos

Photographs for new students will be taken this afternoon from 1 to 5 in room 3 Johnson hall.

These identification photographs are required of all new undergraduate students entering the University this term.

veteran Guild players. Jerry Lakefish will play George, ranch hand who travels with the mentally child-like Lonnie, played by Robert Steedman.

One Woman

Parker McNeil portrays Candy, the pitiful old man who cleans the stable. Dave Zilka is the vicious Curley. Curley's wife will be done by Ramona Roberts who is the only woman in the cast.

Slim and Carlson will be played by Robert Farrow and James Bronson. For reservations phone 3300, local 216, box office, Johnson hall.