NYA Grants Cut One Tenth

Cuts in NYA allotments will amount to 10 per cent for each worker, according to Miss Aida Brun, secretary, personnel division. This curtailment is not in addition to that announced earlier but is merely a statement of the distribution of the reduction.

"It is possible that unused hours may permit some restorations of the deductions later on, but there is no assurance at present," Miss Brun said.

Students should receive notice of their changed allotments within a few days.

Lieutenant to Describe Coast Guard Cadet Life

Robert H. Prause, lieutenant junior grade, U. S. coast guard, will describe the life of cadets at the coast guard academy Wednesday at 4 p.m. in the lecture room of the P. E. building. The meeting, designed for all men interested in this branch of the service, was originally scheduled for January 28.

This program is a prelude to the 1942 competitive examinations for appointments to the academy at New London, Connecticut, to be given May 13. Lieutenant Prause stated Monday that about 250 cadets will be taken by the coast guard this year. This is about two times the enrolled number, and is made necessary by the rushing of graduations during the present emergency.

Examination will be open to men between the ages of 17 and

Defense Dances Click, Coeds Shun Date Idea

By BARBARA YOUNGER and BETTY ANN STEVENS
(Editor's note: This is third in a series of surveys which are being conducted on the campus through scientifically-determined cross-sections.)

When all but one of the students surveyed said that they would prefer buying stamps and bonds through dances such as the Senior ball rather than buying them when solicited or when there were drives on the campus, they expressed their whole-hearted approval of the Senior ball committee's plan.

The question asked was "which way would you rather purchase defense bonds and stamps?"

1. Drives on the campus.
2. Direct soliciting.
3. Dances such as the Senior ball.

Dances Favored
One hundred per cent of the men were in favor of paying through dances.

Ninety-three and one-third per cent of the women were also in favor of dances while only 62-3 per cent were in favor of solicitation.

One of the students said that he thought that the student body should put on a "smoker" with wrestling and boxing.

Feminine vanity is still queen of the Oregon campus. The girls say that even though there are more women than men on the campus, they don't want to ask the men to go out. The men, for the most part and with a Utopian gleam in their eyes, say that the idea has great possibilities.

Women Daters
The question asked was, "If there are more men than women on the campus next year, do you think that the women should ask the men to go out?"

Sixty-six and two-thirds of the men approved; 33 1-3 per cent did not.

Six and two-third per cent of the girls approved; 93 1-3 per cent did not.

When asked his opinion one student merely looked bewildered. Another male student sighed and said, "I've always wanted a harem." A freshman woman said that the girls do it anyway.

MILITARY MAN

Ed Wheeler, Coburg, chairman of the military ball, has announced the appointment of Ken Bowes as chairman of the committee for the selection of the Little Colonel. The selection of candidates by houses will begin today for the Little Colonel position and for two Little Majors and two Little Captains.

'Martial' Poll Begins Today

Selection of the Military ball Little Colonel contestants by their living organizations begins today, according to Ken Bowes, recently appointed chairman of the contest.

Contestants' names must be submitted by 5 o'clock Thursday evening. Their names may be turned in to Bowes or to General Chairman Ed Wheeler.

The actual selection will be by vote of the couples attending the Military ball on February 21. The runners up will constitute the Little Colonel's staff of two majors and two captains.

Emerson Page, chairman in charge of ticket sales, has announced that couples who buy advance tickets may vote in advance.

An effort is being made to avoid duplication of voting, as was charged last year during the contest. This is the only campus contest which is submitted to popular vote.

The Military ball is sponsored jointly by Scabbard and Blade, military honorary, and the military department.

Defense Committee Lists Raid Wardens

Air raid wardens for campus living organizations were announced last night by Steve Worth, member of the personnel division of the student defense committee.

Wardens will organize defense activity in the houses. Through Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary, campus women will arrange to sew for the Red Cross and assist in other defense work.

Duties of both men and women wardens will be four-fold:

- (1) To equip the house with adequate first aid equipment and to maintain the supply. Materials for this will be furnished by the Red Cross, Worth said.
- (2) To be responsible for students in the house in case of disaster. This includes housing them in another building.
- (3) To organize fire drills.
- (4) To be responsible for the efficient execution of blackouts.

Complete List

Wardens follow:

Houses Pick Men for King

Candidates for the King of Hearts to rule over the Heart Hop being held a week from today were nominated at each men's living organization last night. A complete list of the candidates has not yet been received by Betty Kincaid, dance chairman.

The annual dance is a girl date boy affair sponsored by the sophomore commission of the YWCA. Assisting Miss Kincaid are Elizabeth Hect and Evelyn Mitchell who are working on ticket sales. Phyllis Collier has been asked to head the election of the King of Hearts.

The dance this year will be from 2 to 5:30 in the afternoon at four sorority houses, it was announced by Miss Kincaid.

Evans Leads Gleemen To Encores in Concert

By BOB FOWELLS

Under the skilled baton of John Stark Evans, the Eugene Gleemen sang themselves proud last night at their concert in McArthur court.

The chorus was encored for its stirring rendition of Sibelius' "Onward Ye Peoples," in which it was augmented by a brass quartet from the University band. The highlight of their sacred group was the Bach chorale, "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring."

Verne Sellin, violin soloist, received an ovation for his playing of the "Romance" from the Wieniawski D-minor concerto. He gave two encores, "Liebesfreud" by Kriesler, and "Perpetual Motion" by Bohm.

Stage Lighting

In the group titled "Songs by Firelight," in which the stage was lighted with red and blue lights, the audience especially applauded "Bendeme's Stream" in which Robert Johnson sang the baritone solo, and "Summertime" from Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess," a quartet sung by Fred Beardsley, Lawrence Celsi, Laurie Pratt, and Willis Johnson. The program ended with Mr. Evans' arrangement of the "Star-Spangled Banner," also accompanied by the brass quartet.

Cowboy Melody

Something new to the usual choral program was the "Trail to Mexico," a cowboy melody with a rhythm suggestive of a horse jog. Another well received, light number was the Finnish folk song, "Tulatulla."

Mr. Evans and the Gleemen are to be congratulated on their beautiful work, their diction, and precise attacks.
