

Hoopers Brew Potent Tactics For Beavers

By FRED TREADGOLD

The sound of pounding feet re-echoed through vast McArthur court far into the night Wednesday as Coach Howard Hobson sent his charges through a lengthy and strenuous scrimmage, destined to ready for them for the Oregon State Beavers Saturday.

All squad members saw action in this extended workout in which many different combinations were tested. On the whole the teams showed up quite well, both sides ringing up sizeable scores.

A quiet confidence is expressed by the Webfoots regarding their chances to knock over the second-place Beavers. Typical of this is Paul Jackson's reply, "We ought to have a pretty good chance against Oregon State this weekend. They will probably be tired from their road trip, while our boys are in good shape."

Men Show Stuff

Three men, who stand in the first line reserves, looked exceptionally good and are conceded an excellent chance by Mentor Hobson to crash the starting lineup before the week is out.

Little Don Kirsch, hero of the last Oregon State tussle who has displayed plenty of fire of late, was a lion on defense in the scrimmage and showed also a deadly shooting eye. One-handed pushers, the likes of which Kirsch used to capture the OSC contest in the dying minutes, were being tossed in from all over the floor by the stocky Kirsch.

Rolph Fuhrman, who also possesses a lethal one-handed shot, was swishing the hemp with regularity, and served notice that Bob Wren and Warren Taylor would have to hustle in order to retain the starting assignments.

Tail Jackson Shows

Third man to establish himself as a possible first stringer was Slim Lloyd Jackson, sophomore center. Jackson was moving around on the floor more and handling the ball with ease, as well as occasionally tipping in a stray rebound.

Susie Mermaids Outsplash Coeds

Susan Campbell's trim mermaids churned to an easy win in the coed intramural swimming meet last night in the girl's pool. The Susies outpaddled their nearest competitors by more than 30 points, ringing up five firsts, two seconds, and one third for 55 points. The Lame Ducks and Hendricks tied for second with 22 points. The Gamma Phis were third with 18.

Marie Foster, Hendricks hall, was the top scorer, splashing to first in the 20-yard breaststroke and seconds in the 40-yard breaststroke and the 20-yard breaststroke. Pat Carson rang up first in the 20-yard freestyle and the 40-yard freestyle.

Margaret Leshler paced the winners, garnering a first in the 40-yard breaststroke and a second in diving. She also swam in a 40-yard backstroke exhibition.

Results:
60-yard medley relay—Susan Campbell, Hendricks hall.

20-yard freestyle—Pat Carson, Susie; Pat Lynch, Gamma Phi; Maylee Green, Theta. Time, 10:25.

80-yard freestyle relay—Susie, Lame Ducks, Gamma Phi.

Kappa Sigs Win in Last Second; Sigma Chis Pushed, Take Zeta

Delts Outrun SAM, 36-28 In 'A' Battle

By JOE MILLER

A couple of lowly and unregarded independent clubs scared the day lights out of two of the top teams in the "A" league before succumbing. The Kappa Sigs, defending champs, nosed out Alpha in the final 20 seconds of play, 19 to 18, and the Sigma Chis made a high percentage of their foul attempts to dump a gallant Zeta hall band, 23 to 20. In the final "A" game, the perpetual motion Delts had their shooting eyes with them and galloped over a fast, but fading Sammie team, 36 to 28.

Alpha hall jumped out in front, and with a deliberate slow break attack that worked through the Kappa Sig defense, took a 10 to 5 lead at the half. Uke Paris, midget guard gunned seven of these through and outjumped the gigantic Kappa Sigs to take rebounds. Hoot Bailey and Kay Ito were once more prime factors in the smooth working Alpha offense, and they appeared to have things well in hand at the half.

Kelly Hits Jackpot

But they reckoned without a KS comeback. With burly Jameson firing it up, and the rest of the club chasing their fading championship hopes, they pulled to 15 to 14 at the third quarter. The final canto saw both teams cover each other like a blanket, the only points made veing via the free line route. Then with 20 seconds to go, Vern Kelly, scoreless all season, got free in the center, and lofted the jackpot points. The casaba, hit the net squarely, and the hallmen were again hard luck losers, 19 to 18.

The Sigma Chis' unceanny ability at the free throw line netted them a well sweated-for decision against a surprising Zeta hall gang, 23 to 20. The Sigs led all the way, but until Wait Reynolds and Sherman Olts left on personals for the Zetans, anything could have happened. The Zeta boys actually made more goals from the field than the Sigs did, but Dick Burns hit for seven out of seven free attempts to top their scoring for free. Dusky Zeta flash, Walt Reynolds, turned in his top performance of the season, tanking 8 to lead the scorers, and playing a magnificent floor game to give the high-

The White Cross boys sorely missed Jolting Jim Shephard, but for a leg operation, and "Dumbo No. 1" Len Surles had a hard time filling his shoes. Dick Burns played brilliantly on the floor in addition to his dead eye. The halftime score was 12 to 8, Sigma Chi.

Hornets' Nest or Basketball

Two small and fast teams tangled in what appeared to be a toss-up battle, but the Sammies faded before the continual charge of the battling Delts, and were convincingly waxed, 36 to 28. The Sammies started fast and broke through the confused Delts to run up an early lead of 8 to 2, that was not higher, but for the foul SAM shooting. But the DTDs rallied, and with big Gene Dutton bounds, tied it up. Lee Kilburg hit from 15 feet out, giving the Delts the lead, and from here they were never headed.

It was 15 to 13 at the half, and the Delts rambled in the second. The Sammies were not checking back fast enough to stop the lightning Delt offense, and Kilburg and Jerry Battles put in a flurry of baskets on lay-ins to make it 30 to 22 at the third. Both clubs hit with nearly everything to pile up the score. For the Sammies,

Aqua-Ducks Pep Up; Lay for OSC Mermen

By WALLY HUNTER

There's trouble brewing for the Oregon State Beavers in the University of Oregon varsity swimming pool!

The Webfoot varsity after a rather lethargic week suddenly came to life last night and churned through with one of the most brisk workouts of the year. Every man on the squad showed more zip than ever before.

Coach Mike Hoyman was more than a little satisfied with the showing made by his charges in last night's workout and the Oregon dream of knocking Oregon State over for a second time with better times came nearer a reality.

Beavers-Ducks Clash

The Beavers and the Ducks are scheduled to clash in the Oregon State swimming pool Saturday afternoon.

The Oregon Staters, after making a poor showing against the Webfoots in the seasons' opener, came back last Saturday strongly enough to clamp a talon on all but one first place in a dual meet with the Harry Glickman, a fine ball handler, got 11, while for the Delts, Dutton canned 11 and Kilburg, 10.

Washington State Cougars.

This meet could portend some trouble for Coach Mike's gang but there are several reasons why the Webfoots should sink the Orangemen. When they met previously the Beavers showed very little in the way of genuine power. Though they could have improved in the weeks following it hardly seems logical to say that they could have bridged the gap that is between the two teams.

Corbett Back

To add to this is the fact that Tom Corbett, one of Oregon's two fancy divers, was missing in that meet. In his absence Ox Wilson took first place. At present Wilson and Corbett are on nearly even terms when it comes to the board event so the railbirds have a chance for a little speculation.
