Campus Social Activity Sees Weekend Pickup

By LOIS HULSER

Winter term society is looking up with the Miami Triad and other house dances, and a skating party planned for this weekend. Friday evening Phi Kappa Psi s having ts winter formal at the house with Bob McFadden playing. The formal theme will be created by an unusual arrangement of lights.

Alpha Omicron Pi has contracted Art Holman for their informal dinner dance at the Eugene hotel, also Friday. Vernon Mackler is playing for the Kappa Sigma dinner dance at the Osburn, also Friday.

Themes Vary

London Night Club is the theme for Canard club's Friday night dance. A theme from the sunny south has been chosen by Zeta Tau Alpha for their informal. Campbell club's dance is formal, Susan Campbell's informal. University house will be converted into a penthouse for the winter formal with the theme of Symphony in Blue.

Abstraction With Twelve Palms is the creation for Theta Chi's winter formal Saturday night with Art Holman as maestro.

Focus on Triad

The spotlight focuses this weekend on the Miami Triad being staged in Gerlinger Saturday evening. Allied arts is featuring crests, flags, scores of songs of Beta Theta Pi, Phi Delta Theta, and Sigma Chi, in decorations. A canopy will be used in carrying out the formal theme. Bob McFadden is playing.

Beta Theta Pi is entertaining at an upperclass dinner at the chapter house before the Triad dance.

Alpha Gamma Delta is giving a formal faculty dinner Thursday evening.

First inter-co-op ice skating party is scheduled for Saturday night.

The Last Word

By MARGE CURTIS

Strictly formal is the Miami Triad, which takes the social spotlight Saturday night as the largest dance of the weekend.

Bothevening dresses and short silks and heels will be worn to the various house dances Friday and Saturday nights.

Having Sunday tea guests? It's traditional to be dressed up to receive them. A silk or wool dress and heels is the correct attire.

Take your man to the Heart Hop Tuesday afternoon, February 10. Wear campus clothes, with a touch of something strictly feminine—fluffy angora sweater, pearls, crisp white silk blouse, etc.—and you'll be another valentine girl.

Tabis for tall girls" suggests campus social chairman Carolyn Holmes, answering the plea of the near-to-six-foot maidens who can never find evening shoes with low enough heels. The Hawaiian and Oriental shoe-sock has suddenly become very popular among coeds who find it ideal to wear with lounging clothes. Fair weather, however, is essential if one plans to attend a formal in tabis, unless the dance is held at one's house.

Another different idea for formal wear is the fringed evening shawls which coeds wear in place of a coat. Californians adopted the style and brought it to Oregon, where it has shown itself at both house dances and the Senior ball last weekend. The shawls come in pastel and dark colors, and in white.

Engagement

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Ruth Jordan to Fritz Timmen was made Friday evening at the Three o'Clock club meeting.

A special miniature edition of the "3 o'Clock Whistle" told club members that the wedding date had been set for June 15 in Enterprise.

Miss Jordan is a member of Sigma Kappa; Mr. Timmen is affiliated with Campbell club.

His Valentine . . .

He'll certainly ask you to be his Valentine if we glamorize your hair for the big dates this weekend.

Make your appointment today for a coiffure to suit your formal . . . one that can be combed into campus style after the dance.
