

Hoop 'Civil War' Flares In Beaver Town Tonight

Pre-game Dope...

OREGON vs. OREGON STATE

Men's Gym, Corvallis

Probable Starting Lineups

No. Oregon	Height	Position	Height	OSC	No.
9 Taylor	6' 5"	Forward	6' 4"	Dement	18
7 Wren	6' 1"	Forward	6' 1"	McNutt	22
10 Marshik	6' 7"	Center	6' 4"	Mandic	28
4 Andrews	6'	Guard	5' 11"	Durdan	29
6 P. Jackson	5' 7"	Guard	5' 11"	Beck	11

Duck Quint Primed For OSC Orangemen

By FRED TREADGOLD

"A battle to survive." That's what tonight's big Oregon-Oregon State civil war resumption at Corvallis will be, what with both outfits needing a win to stay in the running for the league pennant. Whichever team loses will be decidedly behind the well-known eight ball, while the victor's chances of catching the league-leading Washington Huskies will be definitely enhanced.

Game time for the second phase of this critical series has been announced as 8:15.

While the Ducks and the Beavers are making whoopee at Corvallis, Washington will be in the throes of a two-game series with her ancient rivals, Washington State at Pullman. League standings could take quite a change if upsets prevailed over the weekend.

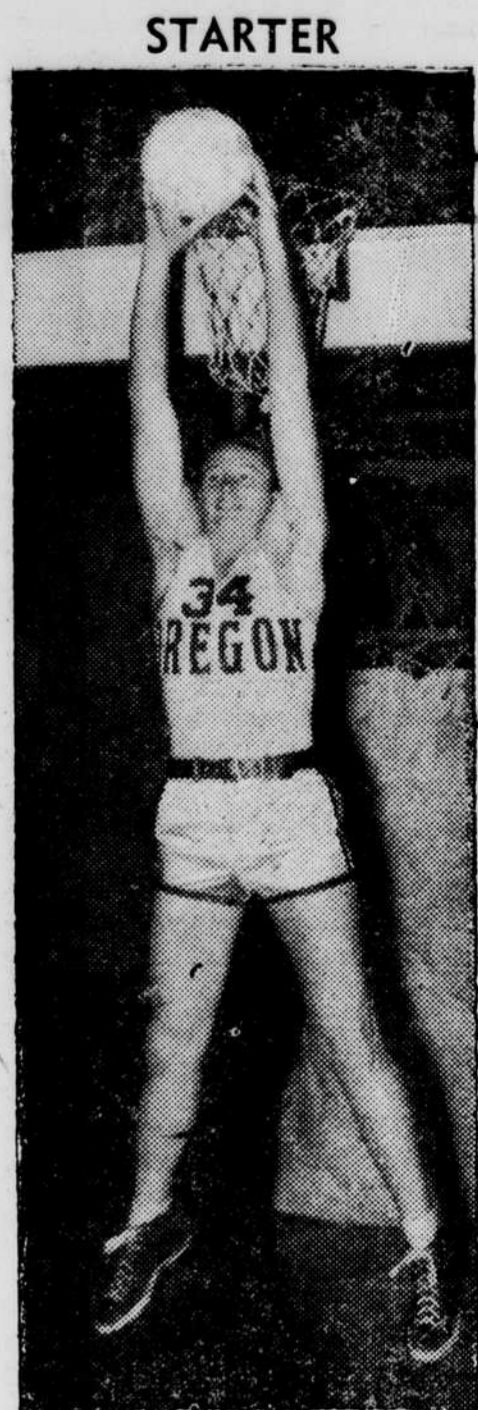

Oregon Perfects Plans

Oregon has been primed for tonight's tilt to the nth degree and reports "all clear" regarding casualties. The Ducks are set to work against either a man-for-man or a zone defense, depending on which Beaver Coach Slat Gill chooses.

Word from the Oregon State campus has it that the Orangemen will be at full strength with one exception. Paul Valenti, veteran guard, who has been ailing from flu, sprained an ankle in the Washington State series and has since been on the injury shelf. It is "questionable" if Valenti will see service during the Duck engagement, Corvallis communique state.

Beavers Fired

One factor definitely unfavorable to the Beavers is the lack of rest following their grueling four-games-in-five-nights while on the Inland Empire trek. They returned home Wednesday afternoon, had a light workout Thursday, and then laid off completely yesterday in an effort to recuperate.

Archie Marshik, gangling 6 foot 7 center on the Duck hoop team will start against the Beavers tonight in the game at Corvallis.

Should Be Close

Weariness, injuries, and all probably will be forgotten when the teams take the floor. Even past scores cannot be regarded highly indicative, though one thing appears certain—it will be close.

Their initial meeting saw the game undecided until the last 26 seconds when the Ducks were put ahead for "keeps" when Reserve Don Kirsch canned a long one-handed howitzer to blast a tie, 47 to 45. Last year all but one contest of the four was won by one point. Victories for Oregon were 41 to 31, 36 to 35, and 37 to 36, while the Beavers salvaged one triumph out of the lot, 24 to 23.

More figures on the statistical side favor Oregon State. Beaver

(Please turn to page six)

UO Swim Teams Invade Corvallis

Aqua Ducks Favored; Frosh Even

By WALLY HUNTER

University of Oregon's freshman and varsity swimming teams travel to Corvallis today for a return splash with the Oregon State Beavers, in a meet that has the Webfoot varsity tabbed as easy winners and the frosh are given an even chance to come home happy.

The Oregon varsity in reality, whetting the blade in preparation for the coming of the University of Washington Husky. The Webfoots sent the Beavers home on the very short end of a 63 to 12 facing when the teams clashed in the Oregon pool previous and it seems just a matter of form that the meet will be run.

Time Important

Uppermost in the minds of the Webfoots and Coach Mike Hoyman won't be the amount of points they can pile up but it will be centered on their times. Oregon times thus far in the year have been nothing to really get excited about. With one of the fattest schedules in Webfoot swimming history ahead of them it would pay the Ducks to improve considerably.

Yesterday the rather confident Ducks ran through a light workout in last minute preparation for the battle. This concluded a rather stiff week of time trials.

Preceding the Webfoot varsity into the land of Beavers will be the University of Oregon Duckwings who have one win and one loss marked up as their season's record. In the opening meet of the season the Oregon State Books measured the little Ducks in one of the closest meets seen in the Oregon pool. It wasn't until the final relay event that the Books were able to pull into the lead—and take the victory with them.

Ducklings Lop Uni Hi

Last week the Ducklings throttled the hopes of the University high school team. The preppers, an inexperienced team, its first appearance of the sea-

(Please turn to page six)

Page 4 DAILY EMERALD Saturday, February 7, 1942

Phi Delts Club DUs; Betas Tip Sig Eps

A lone "A" battle gave the slow breaking Phi Delts a 28 to 13 win over the DUs, while in five brutal "B" battles, the dead-eye Betas waxed the Sig Eps, 30 to 10, the SAEs took a tip from their "A" brothers and skunked the Phi Psis just as thoroughly, 26 to 5, the Zeta hallmen were nosed out by Carl Backstrom and the Canard club, 16 to 15, Sigma hall finally showed up to beat Kirkwood, 11 to 4, and Gamma hall stuck around to stick it into its opponents, the Yeomen, 25 to 5.

The Phi Delts played their usual slow, deliberate game, tossing the ball "around the Horn" and working it through the DU zone defense to outdistance them easily. There was not much scoring the first half, ending 8 to 5. But the PDTs warmed to their task in the second and poured it on. Don Galbreath and Hal Morgan were the ball bearings in the smooth Phi Delt offense, setting up the scoring plays and canning 8 and 10. Wally White gunned 9 for the Damned Unfortunates.

Gorgeous Glenn

The Betas rolled on toward the "B" league championship, hitting with everything but clubs, to swamp the SPEs, 30 to 10. Betas Crish, Crawford, Duden, Rathbun, et al made points, while Gorgeous Glenn Metcalf stood out in a losing Sig Ep cause. Hubey Williamson and Richie Hoffend hit for the only SPE points in the second. It was 18 to "goose" at the half.

The SAE victory over the Phi

Psis, 26 to 5, was a carbon copy of their elder team's win over them yesterday. Schulz made 10

(Please turn to page six)

Igloo Items on . . . Ralph Fuhrman

By BILL STRATTON

The air was filled with the fragrant aroma of rubbing alcohol and oil, as your timid reporter tumbled into the training room in the Igloo. "Is Ralph Fuhrman here?" "Yea, that's him on training table." Yes, that was him, face down, covered with oil, and with the merciless trainer, Bob Officer, standing over him with a murderous gleam in his eye. Between the vigorous yanks and slaps of the not so gentle trainer, Fuhrman managed to eke out a few interesting remarks.

Asked what was going to happen to the Beavers tonight, Ralph grunted, "I think . . . ough . . . we'll . . . ough . . . beat them." The slapping stopped momentarily as everyone in the room agreed. Fuhrman agreed that Mandic and Beck were plenty good, but remarked that Sam Dement was dangerous and a tough nut to crack. He may have formed this opinion when he played high school ball against him in Coos county.

It was during the Washington series, about midway last season, when Fuhrman proved he was really varsity material. He led the scoring for the Ducks in that game, and has been a regular off and on ever since. Incidentally, Oregon beat the Huskies 57 to 35.

Good on Fundamentals

Hobson considers Fuhrman one of the best fundamentally grounded players on the squad. This gives credit to "Spike" Leslie, his high school coach, who is also an Oregon man.

Rolph didn't made the eastern trip or play the first conference games last season, but scored 44 points in the 16 games he did play, which included the Hawaiian trip. He had 19 personal fouls charged against him.

A junior in PE, Fuhrman comes from Sixes, Oregon. He was born in Coquille, however, and played high school ball there before he moved to Sixes, which is only about 30 miles south of Coquille.

Incidentally, Fuhrman can prove that the Sixes river is a sportsman's paradise. Over a period of two days, he caught six steelhead. The water was just right, not too high and not too low, he explained—still face down on the training table.

Fuhrman appears as a clean-cut fellow. He is well proportioned, with 6 feet 3 inches and 175 pounds filling the number 11 suit. He just broke 21 January 29, and has a date with the draft board next Saturday.

Ralph Fuhrman