New 'V' Campaign

has written several plays based on early American history. Two of his most well-known ones are "Winterset" and "High Tor."

Speaking of "Victory," Richard Watts, of the New York Herald Tribune, wrote, "Here is a new American play of quality and stature. The power of the Anderson speech is at its finest and most stirring."

Cast

The cast includes: Adrian Martin as the Reverend Phineas McQuestion; Jim Bronson as Jared Mungo; Bob Farrow as Winston Urquhart; Jean Pearson as Mrs. McQuestion.

Miss Durkee

Dorothy Durkee as Oparre; Lorraine Longas Toala; Charlotte Louise Means as Durian;

Frank Loomis as Harry, a bailiff, and as Van Zandt, a sailor.

The box office for the play will be open daily after Monday, from 10 to 12 and from 1 to 5. Holders of season tickets are requested to reserve seats as early next week as possible if they want the choice seats by calling 3300, local 216.

Jam for Breakfast

run till 12:30, with Art Holman at present seeking late date permission for campus women, so that they may attend the affair. Nothing but good music, with Holman, Elmo Bailey, Vern Minkler, and Bob MacFadden on the stand for an hour apiece. The orks are furnishing gratis bash and the kill will only nick you a stone a couple, so remember it. H-m-m-m-m-m.

And now a few words about tonight's ball. Go.

The placement bureau of Bemidji (Minn.) state teachers college has placed 96.4 per cent of all candidates for positions in the last five years.

Look at Stars Sunday Night

Sunday night has been set as an ideal time for astronomical observation by Hugh J. Pruett, Eugene astronomer, who has extended an invitation to the Natural History society and persons especially interested to visit his evergreen observatory that evening.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., five people are to arrive at the observatory every fifteen minutes. Through four telescopes observations will be made until 9 o'clock, groups remaining fifteen minutes at each supervised station. Mr. Pruett's four-in refractor telescope will provide a splendid opportunity for scientific stargazing.

Here are directions for reaching the evergreen observatory, situated at 1832 Longview street: Drive south on Columbia street to Fairmount boulevard, then around the loop of the boulevard toward Hendricks park. Continue past Spring boulevard on the right and a steep street at the left. About one block further east, turn around and park facing west on Fairmount boulevard. Walk down the steep connecting walk to the Pruett house. A green neon star will indicate the observatory.

Persons planning to attend Sunday night should phone Mrs. Helen Kilpatrick, secretary of the history society, before Saturday noon for reservations, as only a limited number can be accommodated at the observatory.

Coast Co-op League

The Pacific coast student cooperative league will hold a board of directors meeting here this weekend, according to Joyce Addis, representative on the board from Oregon.

The purpose of the meeting is to plan a conference to take place at Bozeman, Montana, later this year.

Committeemen Called

Students interested in taking part in the discussions and in serving on committees for the Student Business conference this year to be held on March 3, 4, and 5, please call at the business administration office as soon as possible.

Draftees Get

It's No Rumor, Webfeet Swing As Miller Plays

Glenn Miller will play for Junior Weekend.

"But not on the campus," Pat Cloud, junior class president hastened to add.

According to a telegram received by Fred O. May, business manager of the Oregon Daily Emerald, Glenn Miller during his Chesterfield hour will dedicate a piece to the University of Oregon's Junior Weekend on his May 5th program.

The telegram read: Fred May, business manager, Oregon Daily Emerald: Glenn Miller is planning to serenade Oregon on May 5. He will dedicate one number on his Chesterfield broadcast of that date to the Junior Prom and Junior Weekend which you say will held May 8. . ."

Mortar Board to Invite 3-Point Coeds Monday

Five Mortar Board members, clad in traditional black robes, will present invitations to their annual Smarty Party during Monday's lunch and dinner at various campus living organizations.

Approximately 350 girls, who received a three-point GPA or better fall term, will be invited to the dessert scheduled for Tuesday evening from 6:30 until 7:30 at Gerlinger hall.

Military Hop

Governor Charles A. Sprague, Gen. Charles Martin, former governor of Oregon, and Scabbard and Blade alumni now in military service in the state have been invited to the ball as honored guests, according to Ed Wheeler, dance chairman.

Counting of Little Colonel ballots will begin at 10 p.m., Ken Bowes, Little Colonel contest chairman, announced. Bowes urged students to cast their ballots in the box in the Co-op before noon today to avoid congestion at the dance. No ballots will be accepted at the dance after the vote counting has begun, the contest chairman declared. Last year's Little Colonel was Pat Wright.

Dr. W.C. Jones Receives Honor

Gov. Charles A. Sprague revealed Tuesday that he has chosen Dr. William C. Jones, political science department head as one of the three Oregon delegates to the annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science to be held in Philadelphia April 10.

Dr. Jones, who came to the University last fall from Willamette university where he had been connected with the political science department, remarked that he considered his appointment a great honor.

"It came as a great surprise to me," stated Dr. Jones. "I knew about the convention, but had no idea I might be chosen to go."

The other Oregon delegates chosen are Dr. Frank A. Magruder of Oregon State college and Charles McKinley of Reed college.

being handled by Allied Arts, Portland commercial decorators, and music for the dance will be provided by Art Holman and his orchestra. Admission is $1.50.

Dr. George D. Stoddard, dean of the graduate school of the University of Iowa, will succeed Dr. Ernest E. Cole as New York state education commissioner on June 30, 1942.
