

PRINCESS OPARRE . . .
 . . . a South Seas character comes to Eugene in tonight's drama, "The Wingless Victory."
 (See story column four)

Misses Dibble, Puziss, White Get Coed Titles

OREGON Daily EMERALD

VOLUME XLIII UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1942 NUMBER 85

AWS, WAA, YWCA Elect New Officers

Apparently good things run in threes—Marge Dibble, Gertrude Puziss, and Abbie Jane White in this case. These three coeds were elected to the presidencies of AWS, WAA, and YWCA, respectively, Thursday morning in Gerlinger hall by the feminine half.

Other Officers

Miss Dibble will be assisted by Corrine Nelson, new AWS vice-president. Miss Dibble was formerly secretary of the organization, and Mrs. Nelson was president of Orides, independent women's group.

Miss Mary Jane Terry, new vice-president of WAA, steps up from sergeant-at-arms. President Puziss was this year's vice-president.

Second in command of the YWCA group will be Genevieve Working, former regional officer. President White was secretary of the organization this year.

Other officers of AWS were Neva Haight, secretary, now president of Kwamas, Rohda Harkson, treasurer; Gerd Hansen, sergeant-at-arms; and Betty Ann Stevens, reporter.

Beautiful Set

"I think they elected a beautiful set of officers," said incumbent Elizabeth Steed Thursday night.

Completing the new crew for WAA are Janet Ross, secretary, ex-custodian; Babs DuPuy, treasurer; Beverly Goetz, custodian; Audrey Hannum, sergeant-at-arms.

(Please turn to page seven)

Effervescent Ball Coeds Reverse Roles Tonight

Gamma Alpha Chis became so excited about their Champagne Waltz scheduled for tonight that they couldn't wait; they printed 8 o'clock on all publicity signs. However, the time is 9 p.m.—the place, Gerlinger hall.

Coed models will display spring sportswear and dress-up creations in the fashion show, intermission feature. Muriel Stevens, sophomore in social science, will read the script for the event, while Art Holman's orchestra will furnish a scintillating musical background in tune with the dance theme.

Sale of tickets for the girls-turn-escorts affair will continue in women's houses. They may also be procured tonight at the door, according to Kathleen Brady, head of ticket sales.

As previously announced girls are taking a turn about where social amenities are concerned. They will send boutonniers, call for the boys, furnish cigarettes, check wraps, and take dates home.

Committee heads are: Mary Ellen Smith, general chairman; Kathleen Brady, ticket sales; Pat Wright, patrons; Emily Tyree, programs; Bette Workman and Maxine Cuning, decorations; Anita Simon, orchestra; Barbara Jean Tuttle, publicity; Marilyn Marshall and Jeanne Routt, fashion show; and Betty Mae Lind, cleanup.

Defense Drive Started Anew By Torgeson

Oregon students will set the pace for the rest of the nation when they start buying defense bonds and stamps this morning, according to Lou Torgeson, student body president and head of the campus defense committee.

Today the individual pledging campaign for bonds and stamps will reopen to give the houses another opportunity to reach the 100 per cent mark.

Seventy-five cents per person on the campus was the average pledged by 522 people contacted during the initial 12-hour campaign period.

Last night pledge books were again distributed to house representatives and the Kwamas. At 12:30 today the white-sweatered girls will be at a row of desks between Oregon and Chapman buildings to receive pledges from any students who have not been contacted through their living organization.

All houses are expected to go 100 per cent on the pledging which will obligate them to purchase stamps or bonds of the

(Please turn to page two)

ABBIE JANE WHITE . . .
 . . . Will steer YWCA course.

GERTRUDE PUZISS . . .
 . . . Honored by WAA
 (Photo by Kennell-Ellis)

(Photo by Kennell-Ellis)
MARGE DIBBLE . . .
 . . . AWS' New leader.

Wingless 'V' Flits on Stage At 8 Tonight

The macabre curtain of a New England nightmare will raise tonight at 8 when "The Wingless Victory" flies across the Guild hall stage. The play promises to be one of the most entertaining given this year.

One of the important cast members is Durian, the four-year-old daughter of Princess Oparre and Nathaniel. This role is played by Charlotte Louise Means, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Paul B. Means.

Charlotte was born in Singapore, coming to this country when she was 20 months old. She has several lines in the play, and is wearing her native costume, which was brought back from Singapore.

There are still tickets left for Friday night, but they are selling fast. Anyone interested should call at the box office in Johnson as soon as possible.

The dates for the play are: Friday and Saturday, February 27, 28, and Thursday, March 5. It is to be held in the Guild hall at Johnson.

This is the third American drama to be presented this year. The other two were "Three-Cornered Moon," a gay tale of Brooklyn family life, and "Of Mice and Men," a gripping tale of wandering farmhands in California.

Maxwell Anderson, author of "The Wingless Victory," is an already famous American playwright. Noted for delving into historical legend and history, Anderson has previously written two epics of the American way of life. "Winterset," and "High Tor." The latter was produced on the Guild stage last year.

Mr. Anderson is said to rank with Robert Sherwood and Thornton Wilder as an exponent of serious drama in the modern American theater.

Songbird Jepson Tours To Boost Victory Spirit

She held up two fingers to form a "V" for victory and looked as if she meant it.

Sitting comfortably at a lone microphone in the suburban studio of KORE yesterday noon, lunchless Helen Jepson graciously posed for pictures and chatted easily with visitors following her 12:30 broadcast for "Bundles for America."

In her first 1942 cross-country concert tour, the Metropolitan opera star is not only building morale with a song, but is also developing in women throughout America the will to win the war by giving until it hurts. "Morale building is our job," she told her radio audience.

"I give a broadcast urging Americans to support 'Bundles for America' in every city where I am scheduled to sing," she explained, "and even if I'm not singing in certain cities, I stop to tell them about the movement." In one mid-western stop, she gave four talks in an hour and a half.

She was able to steal a day from her concert tour to come to Eugene to visit old friends and speak at yesterday's tea because her singing engagement took her to the Corvallis campus Wednesday.

(Please turn to page three)

HELEN JEPSON . . .

. . . Metropolitan opera star sweeps through Eugene

Harvard Man Will Lecture

Phi Delta Kappa, men's professional fraternity in education, and the University lectures committee are jointly sponsoring tonight's speaker, Harold E. Wilson, Mr. Wilson, associate professor of education at Harvard university, will speak on "Education Faces the Future" at 7:30 p.m. in the faculty lecture room of Friendly hall.

The Harvard man will arrive from San Francisco, where he has been a principal speaker at the American Association of School Administrators' convention this week. An author, contributing widely to periodicals and having written several publications dealing with his field, social studies, Mr. Wilson should prove a rare treat for faculty members and students alike.

Tonight's lecture will serve a dual purpose as open February meeting for the local Phi Delta Kappa chapter and a public meeting for all persons interested.

Ballot Ballad

Political schemes
 Always give me the themes
 For sarcastic poems full rare.

So I hate to say so,
 But as far as I know,
 The women's elections were fair.
 —J.W.S.