

They're Tuning Up Coed Pianists Give Joint Recital at 8

By MARGIE ROBINSON

Elizabeth Walker, violinist, and Phyllis Taylor, pianist, will present a joint recital tonight at 8 o'clock in the music auditorium. Musicians predict that the program will be one of the finest to be given this school year as the young performers demonstrate their unusual technical skill and remarkable excellence of expression.

Concertmaster of the University symphony orchestra, Miss Walker has won no little fame for her brilliant playing. Last year she won the Federation of Music clubs' state contest at Salem and soared even higher to win the northwest district contest at Seattle.

Group Pledging Hits New High

One, two, three, four, and on and on goes the mounting number of University living organizations that have reached the goal of 100 per cent in the drive for defense stamps and bonds pledging.

According to the sign in the Co-op store window, the official honor roll for the drive, 12 houses have unanimously done their part. The honor roll lists the following:

Alpha Tau Omega, Alpha Phi, Phi Kappa Psi, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Theta Chi, Kappa Alpha Theta, Alpha hall, Chi Omega, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Gamma, Sigma Nu, and Pi Beta Phi.

Snaky key chains in gold, silver or clear plastic add a smart note to that best pair of dress slacks. Also gives hands something to twirl.

Program
The program tonight is:
Bach's "Fantasia" in C-minor, No. 1tu77de—"The.....77o 78290
Beethoven's "Sonata," Op. 27, No. 1, andante-allegro, scherzo, by Miss Taylor.
Chausson's "Poeme" by Miss Walker.
Respighi's "Nocturne," Hopkins' "Gavotte," Debussy's "Evening in Granada," Chopin's waltz in F-major, by Miss Taylor.
Weinberg's "Cabalist," Achron-Heifetz's "Hebrew Melody," Sarasate-Heifetz's "Zapateado" (Spanish Dance), Miss Walker.

If your neck is just a little too thin and long make it an asset by wearing a pearl dog collar with a black formal. Strand on strand of pearls—right up to your chin. New wrinkle in tie clasps is the wishbone. Good opening for conversation at spring term desserts.

Half Key Lower

... or must we be genteel? ... breathes there a man with as much talent as Dean Kratt has for keeping huge classes content? ... say "uncle" or I'll repeat Maxine Hansen's story about the little red corpuscles who all went to church in a body ... or the story of how one Betty Fryer, viceprexy of the Tri Delt house is going to the Delt house dance with Al Siewert, she having Bob Cherney's pin and he with his pin on Harriet Crawford, one of Betty's sisters. ... oh hoomeus college days ... and what was that statement in this noble publication about Pi Kap being a legal fraternity ... I guess the rest are illegal, all of which proves the old adage that you can lead a fraternity man to water, but why disappoint him ...
ON FOREIGN FRONTS

Cadet Private Jim Lyle, who left school last term, sent Joan Stinnette a mighty comely set o' wings, which is more or less gilding the lily ... added note ... he didn't clip them ... is everybody happy? ... hardly, after the way some of the Monday-morning - at - the - Co-op pictures turn out—so dash down wildly early Monday and grab them up ... Cossack Pete Lamb has been bombarding the local dates with letters from Idaho—with love ... you can repeat that for one Miss Carole C. Boone, who is (we hear) the object of one mill-race male's mute admiration ... since mute rhymes with gnu, we recall the ancient legal treatise set forth by Erasmus Q. Carmichael, better known as "Hoagy," in which Mama Gnu met Papa Gnu and said, quote, "I've got gnus for you." Unquote ... try it with gestures, so may-amen.
