

More Jobs Are Open Than Ever Before!

THIS IS YOUR CHANCE

More than a college diploma is needed for jobs these days. War industries are draining the country of trained men and women, yet business and professional personnel directors demand more than a high GPA in their future employees. They wanted their employees to have a foundation basis of experience as well. Many positions where such necessary and valuable experience is gained are now opened on the Emerald business staff. Graduating Emerald workers can always count on a hearty recommendation from W. F. G. Thatcher, professor of advertising, and Dean Victor P. Morris of the Business administration school.

- Experience
- Opportunity
- Activity
- Fun

JOIN UP NOW!

Attend This Meeting!

Wednesday at 8:00

Students interested in joining the staff are invited to this Wednesday meeting at 7:30 in Room 105, Journalism, where Fred O. May, business manager, and Betty Jane Biggs, advertising manager, will explain more fully what the Emerald business staff can offer you.

Here Are 5 Executive
Jobs for Someone!

- Three day managerships, in complete charge of downtown coverage on his designated day.
- Promotion manager—carries on an active posters and publicity campaign for the Emerald.
- Classified manager, takes care of all classified advertising.

OREGON  EMERALD

Room 5, Journalism. Fred O. May, Mgr.