Reign or Shine, 21 to Enter Junior Weekend Queen Race

Next Lap: Committee To Pick Eight

The first white, fluttering flags of the annual Junior Weekend Queen footrace fell to the ground Thursday when Bud Vandeneynde, chairman of the queen's reign committee, announced the names of the contestants who were then sprinting into the first lap of the grueling marathon.

Nominees announced are:

More Nominees

Eleanor Engdahl, Gamma Phi Beta; Pauline Johnson, Hendricks hall; Elaine Dahl, Highland house; Elizabeth Gregg, Hilyard house; Phyllis Gordon, Kappa Alpha Theta; Margaret Sleeper, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Frances Cox, Pi Beta Phi.

Bette Reames, Sigma Kappa; Patricia Perry, Susan Campbell hall; Mildred Wilson, Orides; Elaine Lee, University house; and Helen Trask, Zeta Tau Alpha.

All contestants for queen will meet today at 4 p.m. at the University news bureau.

Complete plans for a popular-choice selection method will be revealed Tuesday, Vandeneynde said. The first step in the back-to-popular vote idea will be narrowing of the 21 nominees down to 8 for final judging. The narrowing will be done by a faculty-student committee.

Wires Crossed (Ed's Note: She Did Not Attend)

Evidently the YMCA got its wires slightly crossed concerning Dr. Hayes. Dr. Hayes thinks so anyway, for Dr. Marian G. Hayes, assistant University physician, is a woman.

According to her story, she received a card from the YMCA recently inviting her to a "stag affair to play ping pong and drink tea."

Evacuee Tells of War

Free Will or Draft? Oregon Women Vote To Volunteer Work

By BARBARA YOUNGER and JEANNE HINES

Next year the women of Oregon may be worrying about their draft numbers, for much pressure has been brought to bear upon the administration to draft women for work in defense industries and as an auxiliary to the armed forces, not doing actual fighting, of course.

Mrs. Roosevelt said, 'I've come to one very clear decision, namely, that all of us, men and women in the service, and men and women at home, should be drafted and told what to do. The only way I can see to get the maximum service out of our citizens is to draft us all and tell us where we can be most useful and where our work is needed.'

Vote Divided

The student opinion is split. Most of the women do not want to be drafted, and most of the men want to draft them.

One student volunteered that, "I think it should be voluntary, but I think every woman should do everything she could."

One Man's Opinion

Another student said he thought it would be a good idea if the women would leave industry after the war is over.

In England over two million men were replaced by women so that they could go on active duty.

The question was: "Do you think that women should be drafted for work in defense industries or in auxiliary forces or do you think it should be voluntary?"

	Men	Women
Voluntary	35%	72%
Draft	65%	28%

Busterud Runs Without Bloc Backing

Just two hours before last night's 12 o'clock deadline, John Busterud, junior representative on the executive committee, presented a petition signed by 50 members of the ASUO to Jim Frost, first vice-president of the student body, which will place his name on the ballot for the general student body elections to be held next Tuesday.

Busterud's petition puts him in the running against five other nominees for the four executive committee positions—president, first vice-president, second vice-president, and secretary-treasurer.

Other Nominees

Other candidates for election are Les Anderson, Steve Worth, Nancy Riesch, Mary Anderson, and Carolyn Holmes. Busterud, who is also president of Druids, junior men's honorary, is running "on no ticket."

"My name will appear on the ballot without bloc affiliations," said the new nominee last night. "I hope that the students will not vote a straight ticket, but for the best man."

Qualifications

Busterud said the only qualification he offered was his experience on the executive committee and knowledge of the campus.

"I decided to run because of the way bloc meetings have been going lately," he explained. "Politics have become un-democratic and I don't think we need to run things like that on this campus."

King to Swing At Frosh Glee

Jan King and his band "of a thousand melodies" will furnish music for dancers at the annual Frosh Glee, Friday, April 24, it was officially announced by Hal Locke, orchestra chairman.

After several weeks of dicker-ing for a suitable orchestra, Lock said he has received a contract from King and that he was immediately accepted.

King's band, consisting of "14 men and a girl," is rated one of the finest in the Northwest. He recently completed an engagement at Jantzen Beach in Portland where he was very enthusiastically received. His band plays a variety of sweet and swing numbers.

Tickets for the Frosh Glee will sell for $1.10, and will go on sale in all living organizations and at a booth on the campus one week before the dance. Freshmen who have purchased class cards will receive a reduction on their tickets.

Hobart Bird, decoration chairman, announced that plans were virtually complete for decorations, which will carry out the
