

Summer Term Catalog Issued

Dr. Dan E. Clark, director of summer sessions, announced Wednesday that summer sessions catalogs are available to students who will call for them in his office in room 3, Oregon. Students who plan to attend summer sessions are advised to discuss their plans with their advisers and Dr. Clark.

Premedical students will find that English composition, general chemistry, general zoology and intermediate algebra are presented in the special wartime section of the catalog. In the same section are required courses in pre-nursing, general chemistry, survey of English literature, English composition, general psychology, general zoology.

War Effort

In the same defense section are recommended courses for men anticipating service in the country's armed forces, courses which will assist toward more rapid advancement. Chemistry, mathematics, physics, business administration, physical education, psychology, and other subjects depending upon the branch of service.

A course that will attract many school teachers is the summer session of athletic coaching. This summer school alternates between the University and Oregon State College on alternate summers. Coaching of basketball, football, baseball and track and field are taught by the University's experts.

The dates of the first session are June 13 to July 17, for the second session July 18 to August 21.

Visitors

Eight visiting professors have been engaged for summer sessions. Some come from great distances. Visiting professors include: Irving H. Anderson, University of Michigan; Elmer Berry, State College of Washington; William H. Burton, Harvard University; Merl Clasy, Minneapolis Public Schools; John F. Cramer, city superintendent of schools, Eugene; Virginia Garrison, State Teachers College, Minot, North Dakota; Henry E. Stevens, University of Alaska; Gladys Tillman, child guidance teacher in Eugene Public Schools.

Details regarding registration, fees, housing, and other phases of the summer sessions can be found in the catalog.

A tentative course schedule is included in the catalog. Students can plan a course schedule at an early date and be ready for summer sessions with few or no changes when actual registration takes place.

Attendance

Dr. Clark reports that no estimation can be made as to the attendance at summer sessions.

Ski Area Closed But Run Open

All ski-conscious students will probably be unhappily affected by the closing of the Willamette pass recreation and ski area Sunday, April 5, at 5 p.m. As long as the four feet of snow now present remains unmelted, everyone will be allowed to use the run, but the ski tow, ski patrol, campfire, and lunch counter will not be in operation.

It is reported that attendance at the ski area by skiers and visitors for the season which has run 17 weeks, has been well over 21,000. The ski tow ran 14 Sundays and 12 Saturdays and there were only three minor injuries during the entire time.

Reunion

The annual skiers "reunion" will be sponsored by the Upper Willamette Sports association at a ski dance at the University YMCA Thursday evening, April 9 at 8 o'clock. The music will be furnished by Glen Snyder and his accordion. During intermission moving pictures taken by the Eugene Camera club at the ski area a few weeks ago will be shown.

Dr. O. R. Gullion and George Korn will be hosts for the evening's entertainment. Ice cream and cake will be served as refreshment and everyone interested in the recreation area development is invited. No admission is charged but those that wish may contribute to a collection that will be taken to be used to enlarge and improve the ski runs.

"We had many inquiries about summer sessions last year," said Dr. Clark. "There was a big drop in registration, however. Maybe this year," he continued, "there will be a large number of students since there have been few written inquiries. Of course, the only way to know is to wait until the people arrive."

There have been indications of more campus students than usual at summer sessions, but anything can happen.

Regarding military science, Dr. Clark states that nothing in that department has been scheduled, but even tomorrow the government may decide that it should be included in the summer's program.

SDX to Initiate 13 New Pledges

Four northwestern newspapermen and nine undergraduates will be initiated into Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism fraternity, Sunday morning in Gerlinger hall.

Professional pledges include: Fred Colvig, Sunday editor, the Oregonian; Dave Hazen, noted Oregonian interviewer; Denny Landry, northwest manager for United Press; and Gordon McNab, Associated Press, Portland staff. They will be initiated at 10 a.m.

Breakfast

Undergraduates will be sworn in at 9 a.m. Breakfast at the Anchorage will follow the initiations. Ken Christianson is in charge of the initiations.

Buck Buchwach, Bernard Engel, and Christianson form a nominating committee to present candidates for SDX offices at a meeting next Thursday.

Stan Weber was elected Thursday to serve as secretary of the society, replacing Jonathan Kahananui, who is leaving for the air corps.

Wesley Supper

The cabinet of Wesley foundation and members of the discussion group on the study of life philosophies met at Wesley house Wednesday for waffle supper. A cabinet business meeting followed.

Brother, Sister Slate Recital Next Week

Brother and sister will play in unison in two musical numbers on April 14, when Evelyn Gibson, lyric soprano, will be presented in recital at the music school auditorium, accompanied by her brother James Gibson.

The selections in which Mr. Gibson will accompany his sister are "Le Nil," by Ware, in which he will play a violin a violin obligato, and "By the Fountain," by Ware, which he will play a harp accompaniment.

Miss Gibson is a graduate in music; Mr. Gibson a sophomore in law.

Houseboys Plan Hop

Houseboys on the campus have planned a "Houseboy Hop," to be given Friday, April 17, at 8:30. Plans were made after a meeting Tuesday. Dorm hashers and all other campus house waiters are invited.

At the same meeting plans for a baseball game were announced.

Billiards Will Return To YMCA Bungalow

Billiard players who played at the YMCA house before the table was dismantled for repairs, will be juggling cues again soon, according to Dan Bacot, executive secretary of the YM.

A number of students have contributed to the fund to repair the table. Bacot extended an invitation to potential contributors to turn in offers to the "Y" office.
