

Joe Miller Voices the Male Wail

By JOANNE DOLPH

Nothing much is sacred to Joe Miller (J. Spencer Miller of The Colgam, you know) as his readers have discovered, and least of all—women.

It takes a lot of nerve or maybe it's his I - can't - restrain - myself - any - longer attitude which provokes such statements as "Women are mediocre in the best sense of the word." "Very few of them are good sports," and "They have even been outdone by men in their own fields."

Right there is enough to tar 'n' feather the gent, but he goes on to say women's conceit is terrific.

Sugar Shortage

"There are a few sweet girls on this campus," the Big Joe conceded, "but they're certainly in the minority. Most of them are bound by a system of snob rules. They are also intellectual dummies. Even the girls with grades can't argue a point effectively."

Regardless of what the psychologist says, Joe believes that "all blondes are shallow and unfaithful, and all brunettes are cool and possessive. Brown-haired girls come the nearest to what I want."

Behind all of these statements somewhere there weeps the saddened heart of a disillusioned man. Any fool can see it. He is a romanticist who has been hurt—desperately.

Experienced

"I used to fall in love every week or so," he confessed. "I'd picture every girl I went out with as a prospective wife in a setting of toddling babies and a little white house. The more I've gone out with them, the more certain I am that there is no ideal woman."

As for women on the Oregon campus, he claims they have nothing to keep a man interested

Society

Waltzing and stuff . . .

Dancing Fills Tally For Weekend Society

By LOIS HULSER

Fifteen house dances, the house boys dance and picnic weather make this a spring term weekend.

Friday evening house boys of all sororities are entertaining the girls and their dates at the Holland. A floor show, and door prizes will make the dance different, they say. Sigma Alpha Mu is inviting the campus to their spring term dance at the Osburn. It is informal and Hal Hardin is their maestro. Delta Delta Delta has scheduled Ted Hallock for their formal affair. Delta Gamma's dance is informal with Bob Sells' orchestra playing for the Cotton Carnival. Alpha Delta Pi will dance to Art Holman on an April night.

Pi Beta Phi freshmen are giving their formal at the Eugene hotel with Wayne Ryan's orchestra. Campbell club is having a radio dance at the house and Canard club members and their dates will dance at the Anchorage. Orides-Yeomen print and cord dance in Gerlinger completes the entertaining scheduled for Friday eve.

Art Holman will play for the Starlight ball at Hendricks hall Saturday evening. A gypsy dance will be featured at the Alpha Omicron Pi house Saturday with Fred Beardsley directing the band. Ted Hallock is playing for the formal Pi Kappa Alpha dance in the Masonic temple. Hal Hardin leads the orchestra for the formal Phi Kappa Psi dance.

long. He's never dated one girl more than twice. (Maybe none would go out with him three times.)

Desserts

Preference desserts were popular this week with Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta Phi, Alpha Delta Pi, Chi Psi, and Phi Gamma Delta. Other desserts include Chi Omega-Pi Kappa Alpha; Alpha Chi Omega-Theta Chi; Kappa Sigma-Gamma Phi Beta; Delta Delta Delta-Sigma Phi Epsilon; Alpha Gamma Delta-Beta Theta Pi; Alpha Omicron Pi-Delta Upsilon; Sigma Alpha Mu-Hendricks hall; Phi Sigma Kappa-Sigma Kappa and Sigma Chi-Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Alpha Phis and ATOs have scheduled dinner for this evening.

University of Wisconsin's new farm short course dormitory will be known as W. A. Henry hall, in honor of the first dean of the university's college agriculture.

Y.W.C.A.

Most popular activity: This title goes to the YW luncheon club (once known as the Dill Pickle club). At each noon meeting from 40 to 70 members gather in the bungalow to eat their lunch and talk over problems. Every Wednesday they have cafeteria lunches (complete lunch to YW and YM members and friends only 20 cents).

Financial note—Latest reports are that the advisory board made a profit of over $70 on ticket sales from the show, "The Man Who Came to Dinner." Congratulations to all the housemothers who helped Chairman Miss Pearle Bonisteel make the sale a success.

An important date to remember — May 3, the annual Junior-Senior breakfast to be held at the Osburn hotel. Every junior girl on the campus asks a senior to be her guest. It's at this breakfast, too, that the Y Co-edition comes out. Hard at work to make this paper a big success are the staff—Elsie Brownell, Betty Lee Stuart, Dorothy Hansen, Marge Robinson, Marjorie Major, Carol Greening, Joanne Dolph, Doris Jones, Edith Newton, and Betty Lou Allegre.

—By Elsie Brownell.

Eastern Oregon college students have formed their own air raid protection unit and first aid corps.

OREGON EMERALD

Women's Page Staff

This issue:

- Betty Ann Stevens
- Marjorie Major
- Mildred Wilson
- Barbara Lamb
- Corrine Nelson
- Elsie Brownell
- Peggy Wright
- Joanne Dolph
- Lois Hulser

PENNEY'S

FOUNDER'S FEATURE

"40 YEARS AGO,

men wore cotton flannel shirts and drawers, instead of the good-fitting, easy-to-laundry undergarments of today!"

J. Penney

NOW . . . You Choose

SHIRTS, SHORTS AND BRIEFS

at 29¢

Cotton broadcloth shorts with elastic sides — soft knitted shirts and briefs. Made for comfort and long wear . . . and priced right!

BEARDS' PRINT

Pick a Gay PRINT
Wear Them Now Through Summer!

Color bright new prints . . . created for sunny days . . . tiny or splashy—we have the "different" print dress you want!

Shantung . . . Jersey . . . Miami cloth . . . spun linen . . . rayon crepe . . . pique . . . in one and two-piece styles. Sizes for Juniors and Misses.

Priced $ 6.95
$ 8.95
$10.95

CLEARANCE ON

FORMALS

All types—including Jerseys—Cliffons—Crepes—Nets—Taffetas and Laces—Sizes 10 to 20. Savings of 25% to 50%.

MILLER'S

SAFE . . . COLD

FUR STORAGE

Time to store your furs in a safe place NOW . . . our refrigerated cold storage vault is the safest place in town—keeps your furs in the finest condition all through the heat of summer.

- * Keep them safe from Moths.
- * Keep them safe from Heat.
- * Keep them safe from Fire.
- * Keep them safe from Theft.

PICK UP YOUR PHONE—WE'LL PICK UP YOUR FURS

Phone 1090