Emerald Staff Revisions Given Okay

WHAT THE BOARD DID:

1. Released five of six Greater Artists Concert series stars for the 1942-43 school year.

2. Approved reorganization plan for the Emerald business office.

Five star attractions in the six-point Greater Artists Concert series for the 1942-43 year were released by the educational activities board last night following a meeting in Friendly hall.

Draper and Adler Billed

Headlining the new program will be Paul Draper and Larry Adler, harmonicist and tap dancing team, which will appear November 5. The pair, according to Time notices, have been drawing record crowds in eastern city appearances.

Remaining four in the 1942-43 series include Dorothy Maynor, negro soprano, Zino Francescatti, the Marriage of Figaro Opera company, and the choral union. Zino Francescatti will appear April 12 next year. Date for the other attractions will be announced later.

A sixth attraction which will complete the program is in the process of selection and will be ready for release fall term.

Ad Manager Abolished

The position of advertising manager on the Emerald was temporarily abolished by board action following recommendation of Betty Jane Biggs, business manager, and Dick Williams, educational activities director. The new organizational plan which will be placed in operation next fall, on a one-term trial basis, will distribute the advertising manager's $20 salary over three to five day managers.

Social Offenders

First tradition offenders of Junior Weekend will be chastised today at 12:15 on the steps of Fenton hall. Those not making an appearance will receive double punishment after a posse has rounded them up. Kenny Oliphant, traditions chairman, for the Order of the "O," promised Monday.

Those who must appear for punishment today are:

Junior Weekend

Ellie on Air Today

Postponing a Wintergreen rally set for today, Queen Elinor Engdahl, her prime minister, Bud Wimberly and Weekend chairman John Busterud will travel to Portland to give a radio program and be introduced to Governor Charles A. Sprague.

Program on Air

The program will be given over KGW at a time to be arranged. Living organizations are requested to stay tuned to this station for the program which will be given during the afternoon.

The ambassadors of Junior Weekend will meet Governor Sprague at 10:30 a.m. at his campaign headquarters. They will extend a Webfoot welcome to him. He has already sent a letter to Pat Cloud, junior class president, stating that it will be impossible for him to attend the Weekend.

All House Recording

The radio program will be introduced by the song "As I Sit and Dream at Evening." This will be a recording of all houses entered in the all-campus sing contest.

Queen Ellie and Wimberly will be introduced by Busterud and the three will discuss Junior Weekend plans. A recording of the Alpha O trio singing "Of Thee We Sing, Ellie," will also be played.

During their visit the ambassadors will be guests of Portland's Luncheon Service club. They will also be introduced to several high school audiences by Don Walker, head of the Oregon Federation.

Tug O' War

A battle in the mud flats at the music school will be the frosh-sophomore activity for the 1942 Junior Weekend, Ed Bradshaw and Bill Moshofsky, co-chairmen for the event, announced Monday. It will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 9, and will take the form of a tug-of-war.

All men's living organizations should give names of their freshmen and sophomores to Moshofsky.

Houses Pick Men

Each man's living organization will pick one sophomore and one freshman to represent them on the team. This will make approximately twenty-two to a side.

The field will be of a very muddy nature and therefore make the footing very poor, so that the contestants should wear their oldest clothing. The field will be lined in three different places.

In the center of the field will be a large white line. Ten yards back on either side will be another white line.

Battle Rules

The object of the battle will be for one side to pull the other side across the middle white line. To start the battle the teams will line up on the white lines ten yards from the center.

At a signal from the umpire both sides will begin the pull. When the winner is decided they will be awarded prizes by the umpires.

Mom's Train

Trains for Mothers intending to visit the Oregon campus during Mothers' Day, held in conjunction with Junior Weekend, will make special reservations for the Mothers, Ray Packouz, Mothers' Day head, announced Monday.

Reservations from California Mothers to come up to Oregon should be made with S. L. Chess, district passenger agent for the Southern Pacific in San Francisco. By making reservations there Mothers will be able to get on a special Oregon Mothers' train and get special rates.

Special Rates

Special rates from Portland will be $3.20 round trip. This is a party rate and must have 15 Mothers in the party. Mrs. Curtis Gardner, president of the Portland Mothers, has been contacted and will be making reservations for this train.

John Busterud, Weekend chairman, urged Monday that students write home this information on Junior Weekend stationery. This stationery may be obtained at campus living organizations and at the University Co-op.

Sabotage, Maybe?

Sabotage is suspected in the Wintergreen campaign. At least 19 houses have reported that they have not received their badges for boosting the "Of Thee I Sing" candidate.

It is suspected by Weekend heads that underhand work has been carried out by a rival organization which has for its slogan "Peppermint for President." An investigation is being carried out.

Glenn Serenades

Over a nation-wide hookup this evening Glenn Miller, well-known band leader, will serenade Oregon's Queen Ellie Engdahl, flame of Junior Weekend. The program will be heard at 8:15 p.m., PWT, over KOIN, KSL, or any other CBS station.

During his program he may play "Of Thee I Sing, Ellie," Weekend song written in honor of the Queen. The song was sent to Miller with the suggestion that he use it in his broadcast.

Words to the song are by J. Wesley Sullivan, Oregon editor for 1943 and writer of humorous verse for the Emerald.
