

Sunshine, Spring Weather Herald Annual Junior Weekend Program

By LOIS HULSER

Oregon society is having its face lifted this week as two dances, a musical show, tea, dinners, luncheons, serenades, dance recitals and all the college activity Ducks can show their guests are scheduled for the fifteenth annual weekend.

Crowning of Queen Ellie I. at the campus luncheon will open the festivities. Three years of activities will be rewarded when Mortar Boards and Friars are tapped. Coeds will ignore the men or be dunked in the lily pond by the Order.

Refreshments

Friday afternoon team promises to be an occasion—The Mothers meet the deans!—New Phi Thetas will serve at the tea presenting Dean Schwering and Mrs. Macduff in Alumni hall from 3 until 4:30.

Believe it or not—Ducks will flock to the lily Friday afternoon of Junior Weekend but they won't get inside for Max Miller has that all arranged. Ted Hallock and his band are playing, concessions for refreshments as well as dollar prizes will make the terrace dance the place to be. It's free—no library cards, class cards, stu—
(Please turn to page eight)

OREGON EMERALD

Women's Page
Staff this issue:
Betty Ann Stevens
Foggy Overland
Carrine Nelson
Barbara Lamb
Jean Frideger
Marge Curtis
Lois Hulser

The Last Word

By MARGE CURTIS

Of Junior Weekend we sing today,
Of a formal dance and a luncheon gay,
Of what to wear at each event.
We hope your time will be well spent.

You've been hearing about it for weeks; you've seen evidences of it in the roadside signs along Thirteenth street, the huge stage being built in the Igloo, and the pictures of Queen Ellie and her court. Tomorrow is the official beginning of Junior Weekend and Mothers' Weekend combined, and from then on, events will follow one another like mad until Sunday afternoon when guests have departed, and students return to a somewhat normal academic existence.

If you've never been to the annual campus luncheon held beneath the trees between the law school and Friendly hall, you've missed a vital part of the celebration. No one dresses up because no one knows whether or not they will be dunked for having broken a tradition. Wear something light if it is warm—a blouse and peasant skirt or wash dress, and saddies.

The tea for mothers held in Gerlinger Friday afternoon calls for campus clothes again, as does the terrace dance in front of the library the same day. The Junior Prom, Friday night, is definitely formal, and spectators will see a mass of color in both evening dresses and decorations, the latter which are being done by Allied Arts and will undoubtedly follow a patriotic theme.

Saturday, Oregon men and women will escort their moms to the Mothers' Luncheon in John Straub Memorial hall. Carolyn Holmes suggests suits or simple dresses, and heels.

Campus clothes will be worn to the Sunlight Serenade Saturday afternoon.

Another big event is Saturday night's musical extravaganza, "Of Thee I Sing," in McArthur court, and short silks and heels will be in order, Miss Holmes said. Hats may be worn, but are unnecessary.

Students will "dress up" for Sunday church and dinner in each living organization, and these complete the program for Junior Weekend, 1942.

Flower Sale Set by AWS

It's a women's world . . . so Mortar Board is comin'!!

AWS cabinet members are sponsoring a flower sale afore Mortar Board dinners at the living organizations . . . each house will have a representative chairman who will collect the orders. . . carnations lead the list of "desirables," with red, white and maroon colors obtainable . . . price is 25 cents. . .

WHAT HAPPENED . . . the Kwama picnic last Saturday was the best ever according to everyone present . . . Swimmer's Delight proved a perfect background for the event. . . Ex-Pres Elizabeth Steed earned new honors at first base on AWS gavel wielder Marge Dibble's baseball team . . . Marge Curtis, new Phi Theta Upsilon head, and Janet Ross took all the wax off the dance floor with their jitterbuggin'. . .

JUNIOR WEEKEND . . . Carolyn Holmes and Marge Dibble have arranged a new campus luncheon setup that really is something . . . it will abolish wasted time in giving out the food and present much confusion. . . Rohda Harkson, AWS treasurer, is working on the hot dog end of the table . . . she planned it that way, I betcha. . .

LAST WEEK . . . the Phi Theta initiation was one of the most impressive ceremonies ever . . . and the fireside afterwards was swell . . . food, emmm . . . YWCA officers Micky Mitchell and Beverly Padgham really know their bridge game . . . spent the time waiting to be initiated at the bridge table. . .

Kwamas are planning another rummage gathering of clothes . . . will deliver them to needy families . . . if anyone has anything lying around they don't need take it to the Kwama president's living organization.

Sure, it's a women's world. . .
—By Barbara Lamb

REED'S MILLINERY

"Famous for Hats"
985 Willamette Street
Eugene, Oregon

Honorary Ups Grade Requirement

High spot for junior women at the annual campus luncheon tomorrow noon will be the tapping of new members of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary. In accord with tradition, black-robed undergraduate and faculty members of Mortar Board will move through the luncheon crowd to present the red rose of pledgeship to new pledges.

Scholarship requirements for Mortar Board membership this spring are the highest for many years, according to President Billie Christensen. Because of the upward swing in the campus GPA, Mortar Board requirements move up in equal proportion. A minimum of 2.8 will be necessary for pledging. Activities, character, and attitude are the other considerations, Miss Christensen said.

Smoothies

"Eenie, meenie" . . . yes, you'd have to count off like that to pick the campus favorite glazed chintz dress. Here's a few of the smoothies . . .

Barbara Younger has a cute one in red and white candy stripes plus a square neck, and full skirt . . . Helen Moore will step out come Junior Weekend in her chintz dress with its clever combination of both stripes and flowers . . . Phyllis Dyer spells big news for the summer in yellow print chintz . . . Two of a kind Bonnie Robin and Eliz Edmunds have two of a kind chintz dresses — they're really shortie suits that look like dresses . . . Helen McCarthy's dress has something new in loose pleats and super lines . . . Gerry Stowell seen at the Side in a dusty blue and pink number. . .

—By Jean Frideger.

RADER'S BEAUTY SALON

Eugene Hotel Building
Telephone 2890

Royal gifts for the queen of your heart at prudent prices.

Mother's Day

- Garden Books
- Flower Trays and Bowls
- Figurines
- New Books

Ruth Wheeler
122 E. Broadway

SMART SPRING HATS

Just the thing to wear, taking Mother to church Sunday. Prices to fit your allowance.

BONNET NOOK

907 Willamette

It's Not Too Late
BUY 'MOTHER'S DAY' GIFTS
AND DO IT TODAY

WE SUGGEST THE "Handkerchief of the Month"

Sheer all linen or soft finely woven Swiss handkerchiefs. Patterns of delicate spring blossoms that recall the "thousand fragrant posies" of Marlowe's Passionate Shepherd. A lovely accent for the pocket of "her" pet suit.

25c 50c 59c
The Store of a Thousand Gifts.

The BROADWAY
20-30 Broadway

Archer
HOSIERY
For Lovely Women

it's time to give her hosiery

A good excuse for giving your favorite Mother something rather special to show that you think she's something rather special. This year more than ever she'll welcome hosiery that's all silk and just as sheer and lovely as it is durable and practical.

Pair, $1.35

MILLER'S